

LBJ's Latest Cabinet Plan Not Too Simple

Commerce, Labor
Departments Aren't
Only Units in Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's third major cabinet reorganization plan apparently will be much more than a simple merger of the Commerce and Labor departments.

The administration reportedly is shooting for a broad new department based on economic affairs and economic development.

Details of the proposal are expected to go to Congress within three weeks.

Administration sources said Wednesday no definite decisions have yet been made on the related agencies to be included in the new proposed department. Details of the reorganization are in the hands of a five-man task force which has yet to submit a final plan to the White House. One source said thinking has been shifting almost daily.

In his state of the union message, Johnson proposed establishing a new Department of Business and Labor. Officials now say that name has been dropped although a new name has not yet been selected.

"By combining the Department of Commerce with the Department of Labor and other related agencies, we can create a more economical, efficient and modern instrument to serve a growing nation," Johnson said.

A key phrase in that remark, it now develops, is "other related agencies."

There has been talk of possibly including in the proposed department such independent agencies as the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, the National Mediation Board, which handles railroad cases, and the Small Business Administration.

Part of the Office of Economic Opportunity, especially the job and manpower aspects, has also reportedly been discussed for possible inclusion as have the manpower retraining projects of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Opposition to the basic plan outlined last month was both immediate and adverse from labor and management.

And the idea is likely to stir more controversy on Capitol Hill than Johnson's two previously successful Cabinet organization efforts — creation of the Department of Housing and Urban Renewal and the Department of Transportation.

The possibility also has been raised that some agencies might be included in the plan for bargaining purposes in reaching any final compromise — if Congress first accepts the basic theory of consolidating the Commerce and Labor departments.

The Commerce Department, which includes the Census Bureau, collects more statistics than any government agency. The Labor Department also does its share of gathering statistics compiling, among other things, the cost-of-living index.

Lists Plotters Against Mao

Lin Publicly Accuses Liu

TOKYO (AP) — Red Chinese Defense Minister Lin Piao has accused President Liu Shao-chi and Communist party Secretary-General Teng Hsiao-ping of being the wire pullers in a plot against Mao Tse-tung last year, wall posters in Peking said today.

It was the first public attempt to implicate Liu and Teng in the alleged plot and could foreshadow harsher attacks against the two men who are considered Mao's chief political foes.

Earlier posters have accused the purged mayor of Peking, Peng Chen, and several high military officers of involvement in the coup attempt.

Lin, considered Mao's political heir, also cited as plotters the former chief of staff, Marshal Lo Jui-ching, Yang Shan-kun, member of the secretariat of the party Central Committee, and Lu Ting-yi, former chief of the propaganda bureau of the Central Committee. They were all accused in a Feb. 1 poster.

The offer to negotiate with insurgents in Inner Mongolia followed reports that Mao's supporters had suffered bloody setbacks.

Lunar Orbiter Takes First Moon Pictures

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Lunar Orbiter 3 snapped its first pictures of astronaut landing sites on the moon today and a few hours later spokesmen said they were of "excellent quality."

The word came from a tracking station at Madrid, Spain, and was relayed to National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials at Jet Propulsion Laboratory here, who are controlling the flight of the 850-pound spacecraft.

N. Vietnam Deaf To Kosygin Plea

Tass Says Bombs Hit Near Hanoi

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — U. S. jet pilots raced through a clear sky today for attacks on North Vietnam, screened through much of the winter by monsoon clouds.

A Tass dispatch in Moscow said squadrons flew over Hanoi and bombed and strafed "economic targets and populated areas in the provinces neighboring on Hanoi."

The U.S. Command, which ordinarily conducts briefings on air operations the day after they take place, declined to comment on the Soviet news agency's report. Tass, in a dispatch from Hanoi, said the Americans sped over Hanoi at noon and "heavy anti-aircraft guns and bursts of rocket fire shook the sky."

Aground, South Korean marines reported victory in the biggest battle in recent months in Vietnam. They said they killed 243 North Vietnamese regulars in a three-hour fight through rice paddies about 340 miles northeast of Saigon.

In the Mekong Delta south of Saigon, Vietnamese authorities reported a combined army-ranger unit killed 56 Viet Cong in a pitched battle Tuesday. But in the Long Tau River — the main shipping channel into Saigon — 14 American sailors were wounded and one was missing when guerrillas sank one 80-foot U.S. minesweeper, badly damaged two others and fired on a fourth.

While the tempo of the ground war quickened, U.S. planes attacked transport routes in North Vietnam's panhandle area. Bad weather again was reported over most of the Communist north, and U.S. pilots relied on radar to guide them to their targets.

A Korean spokesman said two companies of Korean marines — about 400 men — took moderate casualties in the big battle this morning against an estimated 1,200 North Vietnamese attackers. The Koreans were pursuing the North Vietnamese tonight, he reported.

One company of Koreans was moving into a mountainous Communist stronghold 11 miles north of Quang Ngai City when the North Vietnamese attacked them with mortars.

The Communists penetrated the Koreans' perimeter at one point, the spokesman said, but the marines counterattacked.

Another Demonstration

Spoofers Join SPOFF

PITTSBURGH (AP) — It was a complete failure for some 200 rebels without a cause at Carnegie Institute of Technology whose demonstration Tuesday failed to gain support.

No, it wasn't a protest against the Vietnam war, or the draft or for free speech. It was simply a demonstration against demonstrations.

"Our cause is clearly ridiculous as are most causes for which demonstrations are held," said Michael Diamond, 21, a senior electrical engineering major from Buffalo, N.Y.

But Diamond said that to demonstrate, his group had to protest something. So they demonstrated for the abolishment of Feb. 15.

The date was chosen, Diamond said, because it lacks any real significance.

Calling themselves the "Society for the Prevention of February Fifteenth — SPOFF" — the spoofers carried signs and sang to the accompaniment of bagpipes.

Michael Rubinstein, 20, a senior from Forest Hills, N.Y., called the date "a day that has slowed the march of progress, a day that is a month away from the Ides of March and two months short of income tax deadline."

Students tossed calendars into a can and burned them.

Valley Basks, but Only for Awhile

Storm Expected to Dump Up to Four Inches of Snow

The best ever in Wisconsin weather for a Feb. 14 was recorded in Appleton Tuesday, but the other extreme was in prospect for today as snow, sleet, freezing rain and heavy winds walloped the Fox Valley area.

Tuesday's high was 46, which tied the record high for Valentine's Day in Appleton. Meanwhile, the weather bureau at Milwaukee said at mid-morning today that the heaviest snow of the season was expected in the state's mid-section. The Green Bay weather bureau estimated that snow there should accumulate from two to four inches this morning, this afternoon and tonight.

Driving conditions in the Fox Valley area were bad late this morning and expected to get worse, mainly because of winds of up to 35 miles per hour. In addition, the mercury is expected to dip near 5 below zero tonight and reach only a high of 10 above on Thursday.

most of the northern two-thirds of the state and much of this moving south," he said.

"Be prepared for dangerous conditions," was his admonition. The snow, however, was not expected to go above the four or five-inch mark in the Valley and should taper off to flurries tonight.

In the pre-noon hours snow already was falling north of a line from La Crosse to Manitowish. There was one unofficial report that eight inches had fallen at Cumberland in Barron County in 24 hours.

Freezing drizzle was falling at Lone Rock before mid-day.

The storm pushed into the state on the heels of weather that carried a touch of spring with it Tuesday. Lone Rock reached a balmy 51 degrees. Madison had 49, Wausau 48, La Crosse 47, Milwaukee and Beloit 45 and Green Bay 43.

The mercury dropped to 7 below zero early today in the Superior region. Park Falls had 3 above, Eau Claire 9, Wausau 12, Green Bay 17, La Crosse 23, Lone Rock 25, Madison 27, and Beloit and Milwaukee 32.

Wind gusts of 40 m.p.h. were general from the Rockies into the plains, causing much drifting of snow. Wind gusts of 90

Suffered From Leukemia

William Bullitt, First U.S.-Soviet Envoy, Dies

PARIS (AP) — William C. Bullitt, first U.S. Ambassador to the Soviet Union, died today. He was 76 and had been ill for months with leukemia.

Arrangements were being made by his daughter, Anne Biddle, to have the body sent to Philadelphia for service and burial.

Bullitt had been weakening steadily since his case became desperate nearly two weeks ago. Plans to fly him home were canceled Tuesday night when he went into a coma.

Bullitt was an early advocate of stern measures to curb both Nazism in Germany and Communist as it developed in Russia and later in mainland China.

At the end of World War I he was a harsh critic of the League of Nations and the Treaty of Versailles, by which he once said the world "has been sold into another century of war."

Nearly 40 years ago he began collaboration with pioneer psychoanalyst Sigmund Freud on an analysis of Woodrow Wilson, 28th U.S. president and an advocate of the League and the Versailles Treaty.

Published late last year, the book depicts Wilson as a man whose life was dominated by worship of his father and who turned his back on many world problems because of an "underlying femininity."

Scion of a patrician Philadelphia family, Bullitt was graduated from Yale, then spent a year at Harvard Law School.

Kiel, Sheboygan Falls Men Die As Light Plane Crashes at Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — A single-engine airplane slammed into wood Towers at 5701 Sheridan Road, other parts fell into the Lake Michigan, the witnesses today and the two men aboard the plane were killed.

They were identified by police as Clarence Elliott, about 35, of Kiel, Wis., the pilot, and Charles Brickner of Sheboygan Falls, Wis. The identifications were made from personal papers found in the plane's wreckage.

The plane virtually disintegrated, scattering sections over a 200-foot-square area of the 16th-floor level, Carlson said. He said he and his wife, Eve, 62, in the Hollywood Towers, smashing the glass and knocking out part of the frame.

Police said the aircraft slammed into the Hollywood Towers at the 16th-floor level, smashing windows of one apartment, and caromed into the windowless south wall of the Towers at the 16th-floor level, Carlson said. He said he and his wife were in another part of the hit and neither was hurt.

Witnesses told police the pilot apparently realized a crash was imminent as he swung westward during the morning rush hour.

Damage to the apartment was minor.

Traffic on Sheridan Road was rerouted as police and Federal Aviation Authorities investigated the accident.

The plane clipped the windows of the 16th-floor apartment, authorities estimated the crash, in a heavy fog, occurred about six minutes later.

New Plan Enables Students to Use One College Entry Blank

CHICAGO (AP)—Ten Midwest liberal arts colleges announced Tuesday a plan that would enable a student to seek admission to several colleges with only one application.

The plan, which becomes effective in January, is an attempt to reduce problems caused by students who apply to a number of colleges, noted Blair Stewart, president of the Associated Colleges of the Midwest.

"The way it works now," Stewart said, "multiple applications place a substantial burden on the colleges, applicants and high schools which send transcripts."

Under the new program, a student who wants to be considered by more than one of the 10 member colleges may file a single, uniform application.

"The student will make only one application and pay one application fee, and the high school sends only one transcript," Stewart said. "This should represent a marked savings in the admission process."

Colleges participating are Knox and Monmouth in Illinois; Beloit, Lawrence and Ripon in Wisconsin; Carleton and St. Olaf in Minnesota; and Coe, Cornell and Grinnell in Iowa.

Stewart said he hopes the plan will eliminate "ghost applications" where a student applies to four or more colleges and ignores the others when he is accepted by his first choice.

"Ghosting is necessary under the present conditions because no applicant knows for sure where he will be accepted," Stewart said.

"By using the uniform application, a candidate will list the colleges in the order of his preference. Then he is assured consideration by as many of the 10 colleges as he wants."

Stewart said the program will be more effective when more colleges participate. "However, it is an experimental program and we do not anticipate expansion for at least a couple years," he added.

Start Hiring State Staff for Water War

Employe Interviews Begin This Week For Open Positions

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Wisconsin's war on water pollution will move into high gear this week as interviews start for staff positions created in the restructuring of its anti-pollution activities.

With the passage of the state's all-encompassing anti-pollution law last year, new professional and administrative staff positions were opened up as the water management functions of a dozen state agencies were brought together in the Department of Resource Development (DRD).

The first interviews will be held this week, according to T. E. Thoreson, DRD department head.

Positions open include head of the division of water resources, charged with leading the fight against water pollution; hydrologists, public health and civil engineers, and a public information officer.

Also to be staffed are the five positions of regional DRD directors who will lead state work on the local level and coordinate it with local efforts.

Pay levels for the various positions can range from about $8,000 to $16,500 a year starting salary, depending on position.

On that date, 35 new positions also will be created in the budget recommendations of Gov. Warren P. Knowles if they are accepted by the legislature.

For the known openings, more than 300 requests for application materials were received, he added.

The next meeting is set for 8 p.m. Thursday at the Outagamie County Bank, Appleton. Plans for the April 7 and 8 fish show will be made.

Calumet GOP Caucus Thursday

HILBERT — State Sen. Robert Warren, R-Green Bay, will be elected for district and state speak at the Calumet County Republican Party Caucus at the village hall here at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Delegates and alternates will be elected for district and state conventions as well as officers for the county.

Additional Parking Paving Consideration For Courthouse Lawn

Outagamie County supervisors voted three parking tickets while at might be asked at their March the courthouse attending committee meetings.

Esler said that for $10,000, the court house to help alleviate a serious parking problem.

County Board Chairman Sylvestor Esler said at Tuesday morning's board session he will other proposals are being considered, the county should go committee to prepare a resolution ahead with the plan.

In other action at the abbreviated February board session, supervisors granted the board's law enforcement committee approval to travel to Manitowishkee to observe law enforcement setup there, with particular emphasis on that county's program whereby the actions of

Alliance Plan to Aid Appleton, Twin Cities

Proposal Aimed at Utility, Property Tax-Sharing Relief

OSHKOSH — Milwaukee Mayor Henry Maier and a squadron of lieutenants in his battle for a greater share of state tax dollars for the cities offered a 3-pronged assault today in an appearance before fellow city leaders.

Aiming two of the three prongs at public utility tax distribution and a third at property tax relief practices, Maier showed how many but not all communities in the Alliance of Cities could gain.

Appleton, Neenan and Menasha stand to gain varying amounts as the end result of Maier's package of proposals.

As presented by Shephard Magidson, fiscal director of Maier's office of fiscal liaison, Appleton's gain would be $38,423, Neenan, $17,000 and Menasha an estimated $10,300.

The state map displayed by Magidson showed all cities and villages in the Fox Valley area stood to gain the equivalent of five cents per $1,000 or more on the current property tax. The towns of Neenan, Menasha, Harrison and Grand Chute would lose the same amount.

The Maier package would: —Eliminate tax relief payments to utilities and instead collect utility taxes on a net basis, making initial collections lower than at present.

Distribute utility taxes to municipalities giving the business revenues of a utility equal weight to the utility property tax distribution.

—Restore property tax relief funds of $2 million per year to bring the state total to $100 million.

A fourth proposal for which figures are not available would freeze property tax relief for municipalities at present levels. Additional sums due to increase sales and income tax collection would be set aside for high property tax communities.

Cavern Founder Priest To Address Methodist, United Brethren Men

Men of St. James Methodist Church and the Evangelical United Brethren Church have been invited to attend the Brotherhood Meeting of the Church at 6:15 p.m. Thursday. Speaker for the event will be the Rev. Timon Costello, assistant pastor at St. Joseph Catholic Church, who will share some of his work experiences with youth, both as a counselor in the inner core in Milwaukee and in Appleton.

Father Costello is presently teaching in the church's elementary school and was instrumental in initiating the Cavern. Appleton's first coffeehouse and is helping start a coffee house for the high school age group.

Dr. Tarr Spurs Appleton Y Drive for 6,000 Members

Urged on by the kick-off message of Dr. Curtis Tarr, president of Lawrence University and YMCA member, campaigners in the 1967 membership drive began making contacts today toward their goal of 6,000 new Appleton Y members.

Dr. Tarr spoke at the campaign dinner Tuesday night in the YMCA gym, and was possibly the only university president ever to attempt to inspire an audience of 300 in his stocking feet.

Scene of the dinner and program was the new gym, and teen-agers who have sometimes "gripped" about not being able to dance there, are assured that every adult was politely forced by a Y-teen to remove shoes and slip into white, paper footgear. The floor was protected from tables and chairs by unrolled white paper.

"Approaches in this campaign, are not so different from those I expressed recently about the U. S. policy with China," Dr. Tarr said. "The only policy the U. S. can have toward China is one that we as individuals will support." The only policy the Y can maintain in Appleton, he said, is one that the members instigate and follow through on.

There will be a preliminary hearing at 3 p.m. Friday for three young men accused of severely beating a 19-year-old Little Chute youth Jan. 27. A delay was asked for Tuesday by attorneys for Ronald J. Kersten, 19, 222 W. Ninth St., and Robert J. Sachs, 18, 604 W. Ninth St., both of Kaukauna, and Robert M. Van Nuland, 25, 201 Canal St., Little Chute. The youths are charged with aggravated battery in connection with the beating of Jerome Buss, 136 Lincoln St., Little Chute. The preliminary hearing will be held before Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller. Sachs, Van Nuland and Kersten are free on $300 bonds.

Counties Reluctant to Proceed in Haste

OSHKOSH — Fond du Lac and Green Lake County board chairmen this morning indicated a reluctance to support a seven-county Around the Lake study group until the organization's motives become "solidified."

The Lake's group steering committee, of seven - county board chairmen in the vicinity of Lake Winnebago, is meeting today at the Pioneer in Oshkosh at the invitation of the Wolf River Basin Planning Commission.

Fond du Lac County Board Chairman Ernest Freund urged the group delay forming committees until the end of the meeting this afternoon.

Gordon A. Bubolz, commission chairman, earlier had asked the chairmen to recommend that a four 35-member committee be formed, with five persons from each county on each committee.

Expresses Fear — Freund expressed a fear of county board chairman said, "I duplicated efforts," on the part of commission staff planners and counties having their own hire a planner."

Format Grows — During the past several weeks chairmen of county boards and the group's format has grown to include economic, recreational and land-use planning as well as water quality. Shoreline zoning and mapping were the original objectives of the group.

Freund said he would be reluctant to approve the proposed committees until he had the approval of his county board.

Fond du Lac is the only Lake's county which employs a full-time planner.

"We're shooting in the dark," Freund said. "We haven't even completed our comprehensive plan. When we do I will be able to talk more intelligently."

Bubolz, attempting to allay Freund's fears, said the large committees could be formed on an "informal basis," even if the county is not a member of the commission.

Industrial Growth Boost Needed, Works Board Says

Increased Aids Sought for State Municipalities

Finance Committee Asks Depth Study Of Financial Problem

MADISON — With an eye upon the worried executives of some of the principal Wisconsin cities, the legislature's Joint Finance Committee Tuesday gave a green light for speedy legislative approval of a study in depth of state aids to localities, the distribution of shared taxes, and the financial dilemma of local governments.

The blue ribbon commission of citizens and legislators will also be asked to examine the possibility of reform in the structure of state and local governments, the combination or transfer of some services, and the consolidation or elimination of unnecessary units of local government.

The proposal follows the outlines of a plan submitted to the legislative council earlier by Gov. Warren P. Knowles, in response to pressure from the cities of Wisconsin for more state financial help to relieve their budgeting pressures.

Although there were several dissenting votes on the committee, the study is likely to be authorized by the legislature during the next few weeks.

While the proposal is obviously intended to assure apprehensive city officials of the sympathetic interest of the state government, policymakers, it also may provide a reason to delay the demands of the cities' lobby for immediate legislative action for the relief of local financial difficulties.

First Report

The resolution calls for a first report with conclusions early in 1968, which evidently means that the present legislature does not intend to consider whatever findings and recommendations may follow the investigation.

The study also may provide a forum for the development of plans for basic reforms in the governmental structure. According to the argument of Tax Commissioner James R. Morgan that if the localities of Wisconsin intend to rely more heavily upon state financial subsidies, the state has an obligation to provide an assurance that local government is efficiently and economically organized.

Thus the idea of optional forms of county government, more effective county administration through an executive plan, more joint administration of county services, the elimination or consolidation of smaller town governments, among others, may be reviewed by the study commission.

Super Market Reports $735 Apparently Taken From Cash Register

Appleton police are investigating the apparent theft of $734 from Dorn's Super Market, 509 N. Richmond St.

Herbert Dorn, store operator, told police Tuesday that the money apparently was stolen from a cash register during business hours Saturday. The loss was discovered Monday.

Detectives said it appears the store was not burglarized to obtain the money.

Appleton May Consider Stadium To Replace Aging Goodland Field

Appleton may soon give consideration to construction of a municipal stadium for community recreation and to serve as a new home for the Fox Cities Foxes Baseball Club.

Assurance that the city will eventually have to dispose of the aging Goodland Field, on the southwest side in the center of a growing industrial-commercial complex, was given Tuesday by the board of public works.

The proposal to build a combination stadium came to the forefront when representatives of the baseball club said club-house facilities would have to be put up with half the cost of a new remodeled at Goodland Field stadium.

The board was told by Rahn before 1968 or the parent club that the commission indicated it did not have the funds to build a new stadium.

Waive Rental — Robert Rahn, baseball club president, requested the city board was told by Rahn, and waive its annual $2,000 Goodland then at one point Outagamie.

Explore Possibilities — Selling or leasing the field to the White Sox was also explored, Rahn said the lighting system

State Tax-Sharing System Blasted at Alliance Conclave

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — Mayor Henry W. Maier of Milwaukee hammered away at the state's tax-sharing system here today, charging it subsidized "tax islands" at the expense of needy cities.

Maier, a prime mover for statewide tax distribution reform, was keynoteer at the opening session of a two-day meeting of the Alliance of Cities which has attracted mayors and managers from 20 Wisconsin communities.

On an optimistic note, Maier said there has been recognition of the problem by the governor and state legislators, declaring, "We have made some progress in our joint endeavor since our first meeting in Madison last month."

Tax Relief Crusade

Maier, crusading for property tax relief for the state's urban centers, noted that Gov. Knowles has asked that $2 or others considering Appleton million be added to the state's property tax relief fund, describing it as "at least a small step forward."

"I think more and more people are realizing the present system of state aids does not give fair treatment to all and that it must be revised," Maier told the group which intends to make specific proposals to the State Legislature.

Maier said Gov. Knowles in his budget-tax message to the legislature noted that local units of government in Wisconsin get 50 per cent of their money from local taxes, 44 per cent from the state and 6 per cent from the federal government.

"That sounds pretty good — if to you happen to be one of the municipalities that gets 44 per cent of its cost of government from the state," Maier said critically.

Lashed Formulas

He then lashed out at existing distribution formulas and cited examples of what some tax islands get from the state.

Maier called Oak Creek, just outside Milwaukee, a prime "tax island," comparing its tax relief with that of cities in that area.

Maier claimed that: —Oak Creek in 1964 got 57.1 per cent of its revenue from the state, while Milwaukee got only 32.9 per cent, Wauwatosa 35.2 per cent and West Allis, 31.8 per cent — the least of all from the state among Milwaukee County communities.

—The Village of North Bay in Racine County raised about $38,000 in local taxes including schools and everything else, and has no tax for municipal purposes. The village received $80,

What action the board of supervisors took on the school organization would not affect the program in any way, but an approval does indicate that board supervisors support the plan on an area basis. By giving approval to the resolution, the county is entitled to name a member to a new board that will govern the school.

A small portion of the Wittenberg School District is situated in Waupaca County and county approval of the program means that this portion of the Wittenberg district will remain in Area 12.

The entire program and proposed plans for the new vocational school were explained by Bordini and Eugene Lehrmann, assistant director of the state vocational educational program.

All school boards in the county have approved joining area 12, Bordini said.

Basically the adult vocational school would offer post-high school technical training and issue a two-year associate degree and also offer a large selection of vocational subjects on a one-year or apprenticeship basis.

The school would be supported from the county equalized or school district tax base and would offer an education to between 17 and 20 per cent of the 4,675 high school graduates of the 25 districts within the four-county area. Location of the school has not been determined.

Bordini said, but it will be near the largest concentration of students.

Worst in League — He said clubhouse facilities at the ballpark were the worst in the league, making it necessary for visiting clubs to put uniforms on at the hotel before going to the field.

Rahn said the lighting system

Development Committee Suggested

Immediate formation of a five-man industrial development committee was recommended Tuesday by the board of public works as it expressed concern that Appleton may be falling behind other Valley cities.

For more than two hours the board analyzed and criticized the Appleton situation, and then arrived at a general conclusion the city government should be playing a stronger role in encouraging more industrial and commercial development within its city limits.

At a meeting two weeks ago the board was somewhat critical of the mayor's office for so-called "lack of communication" with the industrial community, Knowles has asked that $2 or others considering Appleton million be added to the state's property tax relief fund, describing it as "at least a small step forward."

He said the city government should play an active role in encouraging existing industries to expand, and at the same time launch an intensive search for new firms to locate here.

"What we need to do is marshal the forces in this city wherever we can," Kalata added. He said the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, other groups and individuals should all be channelled into one, unified effort.

Citizens Alerted — He said the citizens of the community should also be alerted to the problem and be aware that Appleton is losing existing industries due to many reasons, including the lack of contact with city government, scarcity of large tracts on which to expand and failure to "keep in touch" with local firms.

Kalata said the fact that existing industries in some cases in recent years expanded outside the city represented "warning signals" that something is wrong.

"We — the city government with the help of others — must sell Appleton . . . at home, in schools and everything else, and the state and other parts of the country," Kalata asserted. He said there was enough local

Accept Federal Grant

Kaukauna Expedites Sewage Plant Project

KAUKAUNA — The common council accepted the federal grant of $71,070 from the Health, Education and Welfare Department Tuesday night to expedite the sewage plant project in a special session called by Mayor Gilbert Anderson.

The aid is partial payment on a total grant of about $225,000 to be used to finance the project. Money also will come from a $500,000 bond issue floated by the city in 1965.

The council further authorized the clerk and representatives of the Donahue Engineering Co., project consultants, to request an additional 10 per cent in aid-range between $7,000 and $9,000 from the State Department of Resource Development to help offset the anticipated increase in construction costs due to delay of the project.

Representatives of the engineering firm told the city they would furnish a resident engineer but the city must furnish a resident inspector who would ultimately become the sewage plant superintendent.

Aldermen approved a committee composed of the city engineer, Robert Natrop, two aldermen, Richard Helf and Arnold Vander Loop, and a representative of the engineering firm to interview six applicants for the Donahue Engineering Co., project consultants, to request an additional 10 per cent in aid-range between $7,000 and $9,000 from the State Department of Resource Development to help offset the anticipated increase in construction costs due to delay of the project.

The course is still open to anyone interested. Registrations are accepted before the course at 6:15 p.m. at the pavilion

Helpful Man Burns Fingers During Fire

An elderly Appleton man burned three fingers Tuesday night when he attempted to extinguish a fire in a neighboring second floor College Avenue apartment.

Appleton firemen, who were called to apartments above Rainbow Dry Cleaners, 807 W. College Ave., about 9:18 p.m., said Henry Marfing suffered large blisters on each of the fingers. He was scheduled to see a doctor today, firemen said.

Marfing lives in one of the apartments at 807½ W. College Ave.

The fire broke out when Mrs. Helen Pirner, who occupies another apartment, plugged in an electric blanket which firemen said apparently was defective. Firemen helped the woman downstairs.

The mattress and bedding were burned, as were portions of a rug, flooring and a wall. There also was smoke damage, firemen said. The fire was out in less than two minutes, although trucks remained at the scene about a half hour.

The building is owned by James Redmond, 2526 S. Carleton Ave., firemen said.

At 4:36 p.m. Tuesday, firemen went to the Elroy Ehler home, 631 E. Calumet St., on what was reported to be a car fire. However, firemen found that a broken radiator hose was causing the car to steam.

Grade Crossing In Grand Chute Set for Hearing

The state Public Service Commission (PSC) will hold a hearing in Madison at 1:30 p.m. March 7 on a petition by the Town of Grand Chute for establishment of a grade crossing and service road extension near the K-mart shopping center now under construction along W. College Avenue.

The hearing had been set for Aug. 29, 1966, but was postponed at the request of Don R. Herrling, Grand Chute town attorney, to permit continuation of negotiations with the Chicago and North Western Railway Co. over whose tracks the crossing would be constructed.

Herrling notified the PSC this week that the town and a railroad had reached an agreement providing for costs concerning the grade crossing.

A Grand Chute town official said today the proposed crossing would be over an extension of a service road which also is proposed and which will be discussed at the hearing. The service road will begin near Lynndale Drive and will run in front of K-mart.

Teacher Union Doesn't Want Mediation

MENASHA — In a meeting Tuesday night members of the Menasha Teachers Union, Local 1166, AFL-CIO, agreed that contract negotiations for 1967-68 had not reached an impasse with the school board's team. The union will request that the two groups meet to evaluate the present position and progress.

The meeting had been called to respond to the board of education's action Monday night to request mediation from the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board (WERB). The salary item was reported as a stalemate by the board's negotiating team and it recommended mediation as the next logical step.

Union negotiators said they disagree with the board's position since "the salary item has been discussed only the last three meetings, and, then, for a total of less than two hours." This much time on a salary schedule for a staff of 145 teachers does not, the union feels, constitute an impasse.

An inquiry will be directed to the board of education asking them to spell out precisely what bargaining issues the board is considering as an impasse and which have resulted in the impasse and require mediation.

It is the union's position that its membership cannot act on Thursday night. The board's proposal for mediation until both negotiating teams are able to define:

1. What points in the contract today.
2. What areas in the proposed agreement need only slight changes of language.
3. The points of difference which have resulted in the impasse and require mediation.

Union representatives are willing to meet with the board's team to resolve these issues at the board's earliest convenience, President Barry Ewald said.

Credit Union at Kaukauna Firm Picks Directors

KAUKAUNA — Richard Grapentine, Jerome Nytes and Al Rice have been named to the board of directors of the Badger Northland Employees Credit Union.
Named credit committeemen were Joseph Minten, Gene Van Eyck, Robert Swanningson and Sylvester Grissman. About 240 persons attended the annual meeting.
Reports by Carl Van Epern, president, and Rice, treasurer, indicated assets had increased 9 per cent in 1966 to $210,947 and membership increased to 485 with a total of $178,150 in shares. There were 430 loans amounting to $199,057 made during 1966, making the total loaned to members in 14 years $978,110.
A 4.25 per cent dividend was paid shareholders June 1, 1966, and a 4.50 per cent dividend on Dec. 1, 1966. Total payment for 1966 amounted to $6,790 and interest refunds amounted to $2,028.

To Bar 'Hatemongers'

Aftermath of Rockwell Incites Senate Action

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The after effects of a speech in Appleton by American Nazi party leader George Lincoln Rockwell echoed through the halls of the state capitol Tuesday.

As a direct result of his appearance at Lawrence University and a subsequent trip through state university campuses, Sens. Norman Sussman, D-Milwaukee, and Gordon Roseleip, R-Darlington, teamed up in authorship of a resolution calling upon state higher educational institutions to bar such "hatemongers" of "nonphilosophies" from state supported campuses.

The resolution was referred to the Senate education committee after Sussman requested unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the measure.

Pressing Importance
The matter is of such pressing importance, he said, that immediate action is needed.

Senate majority leader Jerris Leonard, R-Bayside, agreed with Sussman that the matter is of

at Goodland also would have to be replaced within a few years. It was estimated clubhouse and lighting improvements would cost about $150,000.

The board was informed the White Sox came up with an estimate that it would cost $500,000 to replace Goodland Field.

Ald. Roy Pointer (14th), council president, said the field should be abandoned, and suggested the city start looking for a site to build a combination stadium.

The board asked City Planner Walter Rasmussen about the land use plan and he said industry was expanding in the Goodland Field area.

Logical Expansion
Rasmussen and the board agreed it would be logical for at least one Appleton firm to expand in that area if the eight-acre Goodland site became available.

"I feel we should definitely consider building a combination stadium somewhere else," Pointer said. "I'd like to see us take over Koehnke's Woods and bulldoze the entire area out and erect a stadium," he added.

He mentioned three other sites that might be suitable, including city-owned property on the far northeast side formerly known as the Langdyke Farm.

At one point, Rahn informed the board that Outagamie County officials wanted to have the stadium built on the old airport property at the eastern fringe of the city, but ball club officials and others did not deem it a suitable site.

Favors Facility
Rahn said in his discussions with the park-recreation commission, it favored building a new facility.

Ald. John Ayers (12th) suggested the board defer any action on the ball club's request for 30 days, which would give the city adequate time to check out possible sites for a new stadium.

The board set March 14 as the date to meet with baseball club representatives and possibly arrive at a decision on building within the next two years.

If necessary, the board said, a fabricated steel-type building could be built at Goodland Field for clubhouse purposes.

Trustees Study Appointment of Hospital Head

It will be at least the end of February before a new superintendent is named for the Outagamie County Hospital, it was learned this morning.

Erich C. Wussow, a hospital trustee, said that although "quite a few" applications have been received for the hospital job, "it will be a couple of weeks before a decision will be made." He said the board now is interviewing applicants for the job being vacated March 31 by John A. Engle.

Engle, hospital superintendent for four years, announced his resignation to hospital trustees Jan. 11. He will move to Cincinnati, Ohio, where he will be administrator of a nursing home.

The hospital trustees have control over the hiring of a superintendent, although the county board sets the salary. The hospital superintendent duties are prescribed by the state and state aids and shared taxes for by the board of trustees.

great concern to the state, but said that greater public awareness of the measure could be obtained through allowing interested persons to speak on it at a public hearing.

The resolution would not affect private collegiate institutions, but would direct the administrative heads of colleges supported by the state to bar such speakers from their campuses and require them to rent private halls off-campus for such speeches.

Arranged Trips
Sussman said that after being invited to Lawrence, Rockwell arranged for a trip "to three or four state universities" to continue spreading his message.

He referred to Rockwell as "a certain hatemonger now in the state of Wisconsin," and later identified him as the self-styled head of the American Nazi party.

He said that Rockwell "is using the facilities of the state for his particular hate for all mankind in the state of Wisconsin."

The resolution states that the authors recognize that the use of state facilities by outside speakers "is a valid extension of the higher education process and thus a legitimate use for such facilities."

But, it says, that is only true if "the speaker has some point to make, some information to give or some belief to represent that can be said to be educational..."

Such speakers as Rockwell have, "No message at all save hatemongering," the resolution states.

"The use of public facilities at Wisconsin's public institutions of higher education should not be granted to any speaker whose only purpose is to inspire hate and to advocate a destructive nonphilosophy of racial bigotry," the resolution states.

Alliance Raps State System Of Tax-Sharing

000 in state aids and shared taxes, nearly 68 per cent of its money from the state. The City of Racine got 38.8 per cent.

Tax Sanctuary
— The Town of Weston near Wausau is a tax sanctuary, levying $254,582 in total taxes in 1964 while collecting $536,196 from the state. It has no tax for municipal purposes but it got more than $2 from the state for every dollar levied locally, while the City of Wausau got 77 cents from the state for every dollar levied locally.

In Ashland County, the Town of Sanborn received $53,607 in state aids and shared taxes in 1964, levying only $3,806 itself and nothing for municipal purposes. It got back more than $14 from the state for every dollar collected locally — over 93 per cent of its funds coming from the state.

"This is what we're talking about when we say the present system is unfair," Maier declared. "With cities crying for fiscal help it is the height of injustice to encourage other governmental units to become tax islands unto themselves."

More Unjust
"It is even more unjust when these tax islands are subsidized by the system of state aids and shared taxes at the expense of needy cities," Maier asserted.

Maier alluded to so-called tax islands which exist in the Fox Valley, either bordering or surrounding central cities. In the Fox Cities region there are two of the state's major tax islands, the towns of Menasha and Grand Chute.

"If anyone denies that our cities need help, let him look at the bonded indebtedness," Maier declared, adding no city likes to borrow but it is necessary to meet demands and needs of urbanization.

He said bonded indebtedness for the larger cities in the state, for the most part, showed huge increases during the period 1950-1965.

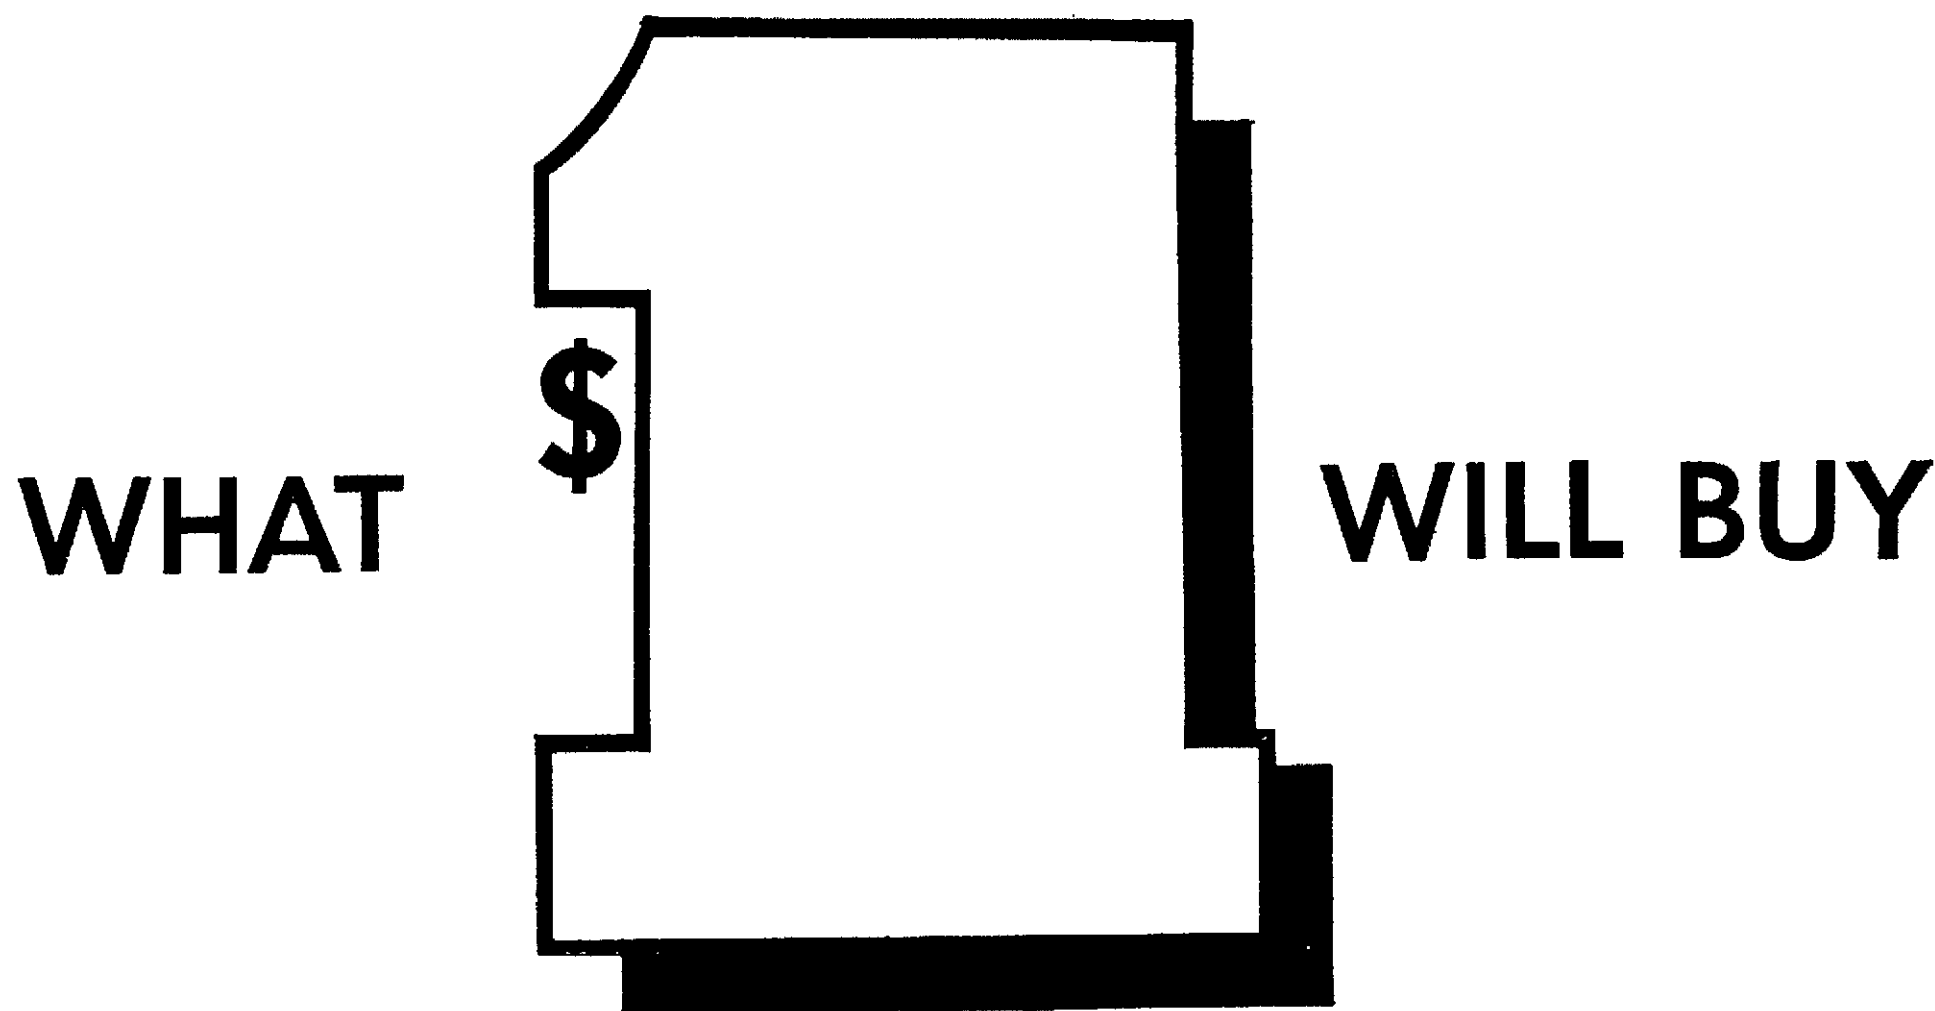

Sharper Increase
"If anything, the figures from 1965 to 1966 show an even sharper increase," Maier said, citing the debt increases since 1950 range from 190 per cent in Beloit to 7,268 per cent in Janesville.

Appleton's total bonded debt for four years, announced his resignation to hospital trustees 162 for school construction purposes. Jan. 11. He will move to poses.)

Cincinnati, Ohio, where he will be administrator of a nursing home,phasized the need for state action to help remedy fiscal ills of Wisconsin cities, and called for a unified approach to the legislature.

"If we don't stick together, we got — a basically unfair and woefully inadequate system of state and state aids and shared taxes for our cities," Maier warned.

Pierce Works Moving to Old City Garage

Move to Play Role in Firm's Future Expansions

Pierce Auto Body Works, one of the country's leading manufacturers of fire apparatus and other heavy-tired equipment, is expected to complete its move into the old city garage this month.

The building, located at 924 W. Spencer St., was abandoned as a municipal garage by the city last year and sold to Pierce for $42,500.

Since then, the firm has done extensive remodeling to the old, one-story structure.

Assembly Area

Douglas Ogilvie, the firm's general manager, said the former municipal building now houses the company's fire apparatus and mechanical divisions, serving as an assembly area for heavy-tired equipment.

"There is still some work to be done on the north end of the building, but we expect to complete occupancy within a week or so," Ogilvie said today.

"The arrangement is working out very nicely," Ogilvie added, "we now have a better facility and it will assist us with our plans for future expansion."

McCormick Hired By Packers as Assistant Coach

GREEN BAY (AP) — Tommy McCormick, who resigned last weekend as an assistant coach of the Minnesota Vikings of the National Football League, was named offensive coach of the Green Bay Packers, Wednesday by general manager and head coach Vince Lombardi.

McCormick will succeed Red Cochran, who resigned recently.

The 36-year-old McCormick has been offensive backfield coach for the Vikings for the past four seasons, and worked two previous summers with the backs on a part-time basis.

A native of Waco, Texas, he played his college football at the College of the Pacific and was industrial park on the city's west side and suggested it might well enter into an "open-end"

A Saw-Whet Owl, a rather rare visitor in this area, is held by Roy Krause. The bird was first spotted in a fir tree at the residence of Mrs. Muriel M. Lietz, 619 S. Telulah Ave., Monday afternoon and was captured after it flew into a garage. Owls customarily fly by night and do their sleeping in the day. The name of the bird comes from its rasping metallic call, suggesting the filing of a saw. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Industrial Growth Hike Asked by Works Board

"The city government has to do the steering; it is not a job for just one man or one organization," Pointer said, adding, "Industry must be able to talk things over with someone representing the city government," he commented.

At one point, Mayor George Buckley questioned how the city government could embark on such a campaign without professional guidance.

Sincere Effort And Buckley also observed that he thought the Chamber of Commerce was "making a sincere effort to assist the city."

Other board members agreed but said it was not enough. Ald. Roy Pointer (14th), council president, noted that the city had land for sale in the old College of the Pacific and was industrial park on the city's west side and suggested it might well enter into an "open-end"

Methodists Plan Lenten Drama About Passion

"Christ in the Concrete City," a modern church play about the passions of Christ, will replace the sermon at the 7 p.m. Lenten service today at First Methodist Church.

Presenting the play will be the Chancel Players of Green Bay, a religious drama repertory group under the auspices of the Union Congregational Church.

The play, according to the author, P. W. Turner, "is an attempt to set forth dramatically the meaning of the passion in words and images understandable by the ordinary people of a modern industrial city."

The whole action takes place on a bare chancel in modern costume.

matter of a few months and the city would have the results of an annexation study being compiled by a St. Louis consulting firm. He also pointed out that the council still has not approved the new zoning code and map, and should get that through on a priority basis.

"In a year to 18 months Appleton will have 10 times more to offer local or new industry than it does now," Ayers asserted, referring to reconstruction of College Avenue.

Can't Delay

But Kalata felt the city was too far behind at this point to delay taking all-out action now, prompting Ayers to comment, "I just don't feel we have the real ammunition right now to compete with some of the other communities."

Pointer advocated better liaison by the city government with industry and business in general. "Industry must be able to talk things over with someone representing the city government," he commented.

Favors Standing Committee

He favored a standing committee — not advisory — within the city council to serve as the official industrial development promoter for the city.

There are some signs of a deterioration of the commercial community but it is definitely not too late to do something about it. This city has many good things to sell," Kalata continued.

Mayor Buckley mentioned it might be best to form the committee in April, when the council reorganizes, but board members were of the opinion the group should be formed as soon as possible and start charting its future actions.

Match the Names That Sound the Same

BY CAPPY DICK

Boys and girls! Here's a new chance to win a Cappy Dick Show-and-Tell collection of 2,000 world-wide postage stamps!

Five of these colorful, educational collections will be awarded as the national grand prizes in today's contest.

Sound-alikes

Contestants also have a chance to win a special Cappy Dick Show-and-Tell packet as a local qualifying prize, this containing six triangle stamps from Central Africa, each bearing the picture of an insect. Few boys and girls have ever seen such unusual stamps, much less owned a set of six. Furthermore, the winners will have fun looking through geographies and encyclopedias for all available information about Central Africa for facts to tell while showing the triangle stamps to classmates at school.

The packets of triangles will be awarded to the boys and girls who send in the 10 nearest and most original correct contest entries in the Fox Cities area. These winning entries will be qualified for the national judging.

Even more exciting to win, of course, are the big, 2,000 specimen collections of world-wide stamps. Here the educational possibilities are truly great. The five collections will be awarded to the boys and girls whose contest entries prove to be the five nearest and most original of all qualifying prize winners from all cities where this column is published.

The puzzle to solve is in the picture above where 12 objects are shown. Six have numbers. In the blank circles print the numbers of the objects that have names which sound the same.

When that has been done clip out the picture, paste it on paper or a postal card, print your name, age, address and zip code number beneath it and decorate it in any neat, original way with crayons, paints or cutouts. Address it to Cappy Dick's Stamp Collection Contest at The Post-Crescent and mail it before midnight of day after tomorrow.

Names of winners will be published here and their prizes will be sent to their homes by mail. Judges' decisions will be final. All entries become Cappy Dick's property; none can be returned.

Tomorrow: How to build a village of tiny grass huts!

BY TV SCOUT
 9-10 (Channels 4-5) — It's that time of year when Hollywood pats itself on the back and says, "See what we have done!" The Golden Globe Awards, which is nudging the Oscars in popularity, for the first time gets its own television special. Andy Williams, who has been host of the event for several years on his own program, again oversees the Hollywood Foreign Press Association's tributes to the best in motion pictures and television in this country and abroad.

6-30-7 (Channels 11-6-9) — Batman has a jolly two-parter, "The Joker's Last Laugh," which has Cesar Romero hiding behind his clown whiteface to break the bank of Gotham City. His plan? Use a robot to pass out counterfeit money in Bruce Wayne's bank.

6-30-8 (Channel 5) — Young love blooms and wills on The Virginian. Stacey (Don Quine) is determined to woo and win a girl (Katherine Walsh) no matter what her father thinks of him. With the energy of a two-headed young bull out to corner a nervous heifer, Stacey is persistent in his romance.

7-8 (Channels 11-6-9) — There's a lot of bull on The Monroes and you can take it or leave it. Actually, it's not a bad episode and you may find some sympathy for Michael Anderson Jr. as he once again gets hit over the head by the big, bad meaneys of the adult world. This time the boy wants to start his own cattle herd. The necessary ingredient is a prize bull — one which is also envied by guest star Jeffrey Hunter.

8-10 (Channels 11-6-9) — The Wednesday Night Movie is "Murder, Inc." and it's a better than average melodrama about an old-fashioned problem: how to break up a killers-for-hire organization.

8-30-9 (Channels 2-7-12) — Gomer Pyle — USMC — is in a spot. His enlistment is about to expire and he must make up his mind whether or not to stay in the Marines. His old foe Sergeant Carter is convinced (for his own sake) that he should get out.

9-10 (Channels 2-7-12) — The Danny Kaye Show once again has its star busy as Jerome, the shy lad from the Bronx. This time he is encouraged to try a computer to find a girl friend. And guess who the machine finds for him? None other than Millicent Martin, a very British lass.

Teen Dance Jamboree Set For March 4

Kaukauna Jaycees Sponsor Nine-Hour Event at KC Hall

KAUKAUNA — The first annual Jaycee sponsored Mid-Winter Dance Jamboree will be Saturday, March 4, at the Kaukauna Knights of Columbus Hall.

Dancing will begin at 2 p.m. and continue until 11 p.m. Sandwiches and other refreshments will be available at the dance, according to Jaycee teenage dance chairman Bruce Werschen.

Other committee members assisting Werschen are Thomas Berg, Robert Aranowski, Glenn Hansen, John Vandehey and Burt McIntyre. The group also is in charge of the Sunday afternoon dances for teens at which area bands are featured.

Tickets for the Jamboree are available at the Sunday teen dances or at the Knights of Columbus Hall during the week.

Supreme Court Denies Hearing On Card Burning

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused Monday by a vote of 8 to 1 to review a 1965 law that prohibits draft card burning.

Its constitutionality was challenged by David J. Miller, 24, a self-described Roman Catholic pacifist. The first person indicted under the law, Miller was

Danny Kaye Goes to England to Work in Repertory Acting

Leaves Big Money in TV, Films for Chichester Festival Theatre Stage

By EDDY GILMORE
 LONDON (AP)—Danny Kaye is going to work for Britain's Chichester Festival Theater for $210 a week.

Chichester is a town of about 90,000, but its theater is one of the most professional in the Western world. Sir Laurence Olivier, its first director, is still one of its strongest backers.

Why is the 54-year-old American comedian turning his back on big money in television and film to work in a repertory theater, through five weeks of rehearsals and six weeks of stage, for a salary that will barely cover the cost of his London hotel suite for one day?

Exciting Adventure
 "Because it excites me," said Kaye in an interview. "That's on doing the weekly television basically why I'm doing it. I show — and being moderately find that if I can maintain my successful at it and getting well-excited in my own profession — paid for it — but I've got to take sion, it'll help maintain a youthfulness and a vitality not only in myself, but in everything that's going on around me."

Pausing, he smiled and added: "That's the nicest way in the world to grow old."

After rehearsing with the Chichester Theater for five weeks, Kaye has been invited under the direction of John Cleto take part in its productions. He will play the part of Trufaldino in an 18th century come-

Needs 'Shake-up'
 "I suppose I could have gone to the States and been doing a weekly television show in America," said Kaye. "I started out to do it for a year or two, but it's been going on for four years. For the very same reason that I decided to do the television show, I am now deciding to discontinue doing it."

"It gets comfortable and you kind of fall into a groove, and before you know it the groove becomes a rut and you can't get out of the rut."

"Now what better way is there to shake it up than with a new idea, a new venture, and a new kind of challenge that stimulates me as a performer?"

He will play the part of Trufaldino in an 18th century come-

Sukarno Confers With Backers After Defying Ultimatum

President's Popularity With Indonesian Masses Still Strong

By T. JEFF WILLIAMS
JAKARTA (AP) — President Sukarno conferred with his chief political supporters today after rejecting what military leaders termed their final demand that he resign from the presidency. He has held since he declared Indonesia's independence in 1945.

A top deputy of Gen. Suharto, head of the military regime now governing Indonesia, had said "there will be no more missions, no more talks" with Sukarno. But other military sources said it was possible further attempts may be made to avoid a showdown since Sukarno's popularity with the masses is still a factor to reckon with.

The president remained closeted for more than an hour with about 30 leaders of the pro-Sukarno Indonesian Nationalist party, the PNI. There was no immediate indication whether they were still backing his attempt to hold onto the semblance of power in hopes that eventually he could regain control.

Second Refusal
Sukarno Tuesday night refused for the second time to surrender the last vestiges of his executive power to Suharto, offering instead to make the transfer temporarily. Suharto and his generals had refused this offer before.

Some military leaders said Sukarno's rejection of the renewed military proposal meant the president must now submit to a congressional investigation of his connections with the Communist party and its attempted coup Oct. 1, 1965. But this could bring Sukarno to trial in connection with the Communist attempt to seize power, something Suharto and his associates have been trying to avoid.

The 65-year-old president gave no sign that he was disturbed by the snowballing move to oust him as heparried questions from newsmen at his palace Tuesday after receiving the credentials of the new ambassadors from Japan and Pakistan.

Speculation Wrong

Asked about reports that he is leaving the country, he replied: "Just wait and see, every hour, every minute." Turning to a Japanese correspondent, he said, "You speculated that I would be leaving today. Are you wrong?"

He said he would not try to block the session of Congress next month which may remove him from office, but he added: "Decisions about me should be made by people outside the Congress because true people are outside the Congress."

Parliament, Indonesia's second ranking legislative body, has asked Congress to oust Sukarno, and there was speculation that he might try to dismiss the Congress by presidential decree.

Military sources said that since Sukarno is widely considered the father of Indonesia, to bring him before a tribunal would in effect be putting the nation on trial. Suharto and his generals have been trying to get Sukarno to bow out gracefully since his ouster could split Indonesia's 100 million people and cause a rift in the military forces.

Starving Condor Runs for His Life

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Whether or not this California condor knew he was on the verge of extinction, he ran for his life.

Starving and lost, a young condor led four conservationists on a 10-hour chase across rugged hills in Ventura County, flapping his nine feet of wings just enough to keep ahead.

The State Department of Fish and Game reports that in the chase last Sunday, the bird finally tired and was taken with a net.

He is now being restored to good health and weight, officials report, and soon will be returned to the state condor sanctuary where he and 49 other condors are some of the world's rarest birds.

Buddhist Scroll Printed in 8th Century Found in Korea

NEW YORK (AP) — A wooden blocks were used to make the impressions. The scroll was pretty much "damaged," he said. "The first 200 centimeters have suffered a lot of worm damage and decomposition."

He said the scroll "is a rather conventional Buddhist text mainly concerned with prayers for the protection of life now and in the future. It also contained a set of directions for copying the prayers and placing them in buildings and other shrines."

Ledyard said the discovery was made by archeologists and historians of the Cultural Assets Preservation Committee of the South Korean Ministry of Education when damage to an ancient pagoda at Kyongju was being examined by the committee.

He said that Kyongju was the capital of Korea during the Silla dynasty which unified the peninsula in 668 and ruled it until 935. "I'm sure the Korean scholars in Seoul are giving the scroll a thorough examination," the professor added. "They are likely to be very proud and boastful and I think justly so."

Ledyard said the discovery was made last Oct. 14 but "it's a great puzzle to me" why it wasn't disclosed sooner.

"The Koreans should have long ago given notice to the American press," he said. "All the embassies have cultural attaches."

Ledyard said 12 separate

Jewish School Board Candidates Blame Anti-Semitic Drive for Defeat

WAYNE, N.J. (AP) — Two Jewish candidates for the Wayne Township Board of Education have been defeated after an election campaign in which their religion was an issue. One of them was an incumbent.

The two, Jack Mandell, the incumbent, and Robert L. Kraus, ran fourth and fifth Tuesday night in a field of five seeking three seats on the nine-member board. Newton Miller, the board's vice president, had publicly urged their defeat in a statement which touched off a weeklong controversy prior to the election.

"It was obviously a victory for Mr. Miller," said Mandell. "The vote was along religious lines. I'm afraid they voted against us only because we were Jewish."

Mandell, a 35-year-old lawyer who was elected to the board three years ago, said he did not think the outcome of the election was entirely due to Miller.

"He just gave the anti-Semitic feeling in the township a chance to rear its ugly head," said Mandell.

Unfortunate Events
Kraus said, "The voters of Wayne have expressed their judgment and there is little point in trying to figure out the effect of the unfortunate events of last week."

Miller, a Protestant who is a telephone company executive, said: "I don't want to talk about this whole thing any more. I'm glad I found out how many friends I have here and all over this country. I received over 200 letters, 88 per cent of them backing me and telling me they were with me.

"I'm sorry this got all smoked up. If Jack Mandell had been understanding and extended his hand in the spirit of brotherhood, the Christians of this town would have backed him all the way."

George Schroeder, the board president, said, "Two fine men were defeated completely because they are Jewish. The vote is so obvious. Miller will ride the crest of this."

President Neutral
Schroeder had been neutral during the campaign.

Lorraine Yoder, a member of the school board, said: "Wayne was on trial. It convicted itself today."

Morris Merker, state commander of the Jewish War Veterans, said in Paterson that he hoped the election outcome was based on careful consideration without any hint of what he termed latent anti-Semitism.

Miller, in response to a request for his views, had made a statement to the local daily newspaper, Wayne Today which printed it on Feb. 7.

His statement said: "Most Jewish people are liberals, especially when it comes to spending for education. If Kraus and Mandell are elected for three years, with Lafer (Fred Lafer who is also Jewish) on for two more years, that's a 3-6 vote. It would only take two more votes for a majority and Wayne could be in real financial trouble."

"Two more votes and we lose what is left of Christ in our Christmas celebrations in our schools. Think about it."

Asked to Resign
Miller was censured by his school board colleagues and was asked to resign, but refused. He said he was a liberal and far from bigoted.

He was denounced by local, state and federal officials. Mandell, who said he had been Miller's friend, called him an anti-Semite and a bigot.

Anonymous telephone threats were made Monday against the families of Mandell and of other

Investigation of CIA Control Of Student Groups Sought

House Democrats, NSA Members 'Shocked' by Revelation of Link

By JOHN BECKLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Disclosure that the government's top espionage agency financed activities abroad by the nation's largest college student organization brought howls of protest today and demands for a prompt investigation.

Eight House Democrats urged an inquiry "at the highest level" into the secret funding by the Central Intelligence Agency of the National Student Association's participation in world student conferences.

The New York Times reported that President Johnson intervened in the controversy and instructed the CIA Tuesday to close out all secret programs of aid to student groups, according to government officials.

The officials said the President had also called for a review of all other programs intended to combat Communist activities in private organizations, the Times reported.

The organization, whose board of directors said it was shocked by the disclosure, received an estimated $200,000 a year during most of the undercover relationship, which lasted more than 10 years. It was broken off at the request of NSA, a 1.3-million-member group with affiliations at 300 campuses.

Emergency Meeting
Sam Brown, chairman of NSA's supervisory board — which has scheduled an emergency meeting for today — said Tuesday night it "comes as a shock" to find the board was "only the policy-making body on the secondary level."

Asked who was the top policy-making body, he said: "The CIA."

The Washington Post quoted an unidentified NSA official today as saying, "Every year the CIA picked out a man or two that it could trust and told them about the undercover funding" of NSA. The source said some of these young men later joined the CIA, often acting as liaison agents to the student group.

Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., who has helped spearhead federal aid for education, called for a sweeping review of all government aid to educational organizations.

New Law
"What is the CIA that it should be the arbiter of all that is right and just?" she asked. "Perhaps we need a law requiring the registration of government agencies trying to influence education, just as we have laws requiring lobbyists to register."

Not all congressmen were aroused, however. One old hand familiar with security matters said, "There is nothing new in all this. It just happened to surface."

For a supersecret agency the CIA has been surfacing a lot of late.

Last spring the CIA was accused of infiltrating a Michigan State University police training program in Vietnam. University officials denied knowing about it but ended the contract because of the suspicion aroused.

What brought the CIA's link to the National Student Association to the surface Tuesday were newspaper advertisements by Ramparts magazine calling attention to a story on the relationship in its March issue.

Spokesmen for NSA and the State Department later confirmed the secret pact. Allen W. Dulles, who headed the CIA when the link was forged, said it was a response to widespread Communist influence in student organizations abroad during the early 1950s.

The CIA funds apparently supported official representation of the NSA at student conferences held throughout the world. A NSA spokesman said it hires U.S. students, usually going to school overseas, as its representatives.

The eight House Democrats aimed their protest of the arrangement at President Johnson. They declared in a letter that the CIA had "compromised and corrupted the largest student organization in the largest democracy in the world."

"What conditions were laid down for the subsidy?" they asked. "Have officials of the NSA been granted special treatment, including draft deferments? Are there any other student organizations with similar relations with the CIA?"

There were no answers to the questions from the White House, the CIA or the NSA. The National Supervisory Board of the student organization was summoned hastily to Washington to decide what to do.

The funds from the CIA reportedly were channeled to NSA through several foundations which supported the student organization.

France Building Slow Falling Nuclear Bomb

PARIS (AP) — France will have a slow-falling nuclear bomb later this year which can be used for low-level attacks without endangering the plane, officials told newsmen Tuesday during a tour of the underground control center for France's growing nuclear force.

"The dropping of nuclear bombs from the supersonic Mirage 4 plane will be possible thanks to braking parachutes they will be equipped with," said Col. Roger Rhemter, commander of the underground installation 16 miles northwest of Paris.

He said they would be available to the air force's 50 or more Mirage 4s "beginning in the second half of this year."

The planes, whose operating range has never been disclosed, can theoretically reach faraway targets by refueling at high altitudes from U.S.-built KC135 tanker planes. They are also built for low-level flight to slip in under enemy radar.

Student Over 18 Still Counted as Dependent

BY NORMAN E. SCHLEY
For The Associated Press

There was a time not long ago when a taxpayer's child passed his 18th birthday, he ceased to qualify as a dependent even though he was attending school and was supported by the taxpayer. Fortunately our laws today have been broadened and even a taxpayer's student children who earn rather substantial sums during vacation periods may continue to qualify as dependents. Since under Wisconsin rules, $10 and in some cases, $15 may be deducted directly from the amount of tax due for qualified exemptions, it is important that taxpayers understand the rule and claim the maximum to which he is entitled.

Since the federal income tax rules governing dependents apply substantially to the Wisconsin return, the instructions on the subject included with the Wisconsin booklet are quite brief. The rules are carefully spelled out in the Internal Revenue Service "Federal Income Tax Forms for 1966", a booklet of some 48 pages. In preparing the Wisconsin return, the "exemptions" must be re-stated on page 2 at part I even though they have been shown on the Federal Form 1040, which you will attach to your state return.

As you fill in Part I exemptions on the Wisconsin Return, note that both you and your wife are each entitled to $10.00. If you have reached the age of 65, the amount is $15. In either case extend the figures into the "Amount" column to the right on lines 1 and 2.

Various Dependents

Line 3 is reserved for "dependent children" while line 4 is for "other dependents". In both cases, you are referred to the Federal Form 1040 page 1, lines 3a and 3b. This is where your reference to the federal instruction sheet will pay off. Note that "all children and other dependents must meet certain tests" including:

1. The amount of income received by the child or dependent cannot exceed $600 except where a child was under 19 or a student.

2. You or your wife in case of a joint return must have contributed more than half of his or her support. Support includes food, shelter, clothing, medical and dental care, education and the like. In making these computations you may disregard amounts received by the dependent as scholarships.

3. To claim a married person as a dependent, the dependent may not file a joint return with her husband or his wife.

4. All dependents must either be U.S. citizens or residents in the U.S., Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone. An alien child adopted by and living with a United States citizen abroad also qualifies.

Joint Return

5. A dependent during the entire taxable year must have had his principal place of abode and have been a member of your household or he must have been related to you or your spouse if you file a joint return by blood or marriage. Page 4 of the federal instructions carries a complete list of qualified relatives which ranges from mother to mother-in-law, brother to brother-in-law, grandchild and grandparent to uncle, aunt, nephews and nieces the latter only if related by blood.

A full exemption is allowed for a dependent who was born or died during the year, provided the above tests apply during the portions of the year the dependent was alive. If your wife or husband died during 1966 the number of your exemptions is determined as of the date of his or her death, but in case there is a divorce during the year, no dependency deduction is allowed. If two or more taxpayers contributed toward the support of an individual, the "Multiple Support Declaration," form 2120, should be filed.

Under federal income tax rules where a qualified dependent child past 19 is attending school and earns wages subject to withholding, he should file a return and claim himself as an exemption, thus making available a possible refund. This procedure will not deny the father from using the child's exemption. Where the wife has earned less than $600 and files a claim for refund, the husband will be denied her exemption. In such cases, it is better to file a joint return and use the amounts withheld as a credit against the joint return tax.

Thursday: Joint filing.

Legionnaires At Little Chute Earn Award

Post to Get Trophy For Exceeding Quota For New Members

LITTLE CHUTE — Members of the American Legion Post learned Monday night that they will receive a trophy for exceeding membership quotas for three consecutive years.

Members voted to participate in Youth Government Day for county students and authorized $15 to help stage the affair and finance the appearance of its color guard unit there. Donations of $50 to teams entered in the 9th District bowling contest, $25 for a savings bond for the local oratorical contest winner, and $5 for the March of Dimes and Salvation Army were approved.

Carl Hammen was authorized to investigate the need for a new scoreboard for the St. John Grade School. Leon Toonen, commander, named Robert Bongers, Leo Lamers and Clarence Hinkens to the fish and game committee.

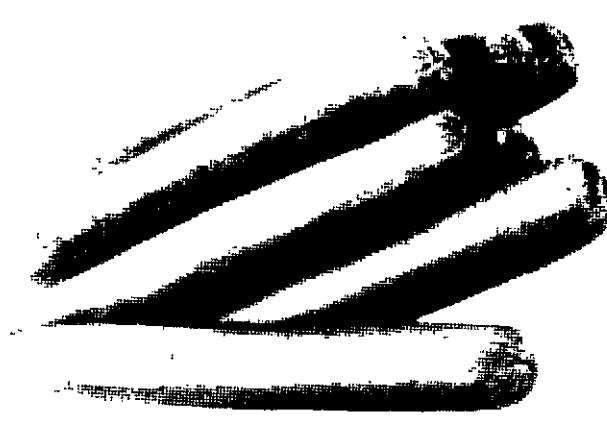

Members voted to ask village police to sit in on all picnic committee meetings to insure adequate policing of the event.

Delegates to the March 8 county council session at Seymour are Leo Hendricks, Hammen, Lambert Coenen, Paul Casey, Martin Jansen, Toonen and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Samuels.

Coenen was named chairman for the Legion birthday party at the Combined Locks pavilion March 19.

Gloucester Whiting Florentine

Any Day Is Fish Day

By Lillian Mackesy POST-CRESCENT FOOD EDITOR

Word has come from New England with the fish story of the day ... only these recipes today are no exaggeration or big fish tale ... most of them are tried and true dishes which have fed generations of Yankees the whole year 'round.

There is, for instance, the fish called whiting. Most of them are landed right off Gloucester, Mass., and many of the men who catch them for a living are Italian-Americans. This fish is the white-fleshed, non-oily type so often served in fine Italian restaurants. Nothing surpasses the delicate flavor of this plump, tender fish fillet when it's broiled to a golden crispness on the outside, yet tender and moist on the inside. (My New England informants plead, "NEVER OVERCOOK".)

The recipe today is a favorite among the Italian people (and others) in Gloucester, and it's worth adding to any permanent fish recipe file if it's an outstanding dish that's being sought.

Then there's small haddock or codfish called the scrod in New England. Boston is the homeland of the scrod, I'm told, and no self-respecting seafood restaurant worthy of the name would fail to include scrod on its menu. Although it's known best in New England, its fame is spreading fast since modern freezing methods and fast refrigerated trucks have made it more available throughout the country.

Broiled scrod fillets, basted with a lemon-butter sauce, seem to please Boston appetites most. But for something unusual, here's a recipe from the Massachusetts Seafood Council and its home economists that will make all diners drool. It's called Boston Scrod Thermidor.

Then there's the "sacred cod" that's so revered that a large replica of it hangs in the State House. This fish has provided food for New Englanders since the day it became a staple food for the first colonists. Salted, it became one of the country's first exports. No recipe collection for fish can be without the famous Cape Cod Fish Chowder which features bite-sized chunks of this tasty, white-fleshed favorite.

In fresh water country, of course, boneless fillets are most popular no matter what the fish. But the various ways to prepare fillets are endless. They can be poached, sauced or stewed ... chowdered, broiled or baked ... but pan frying is by far the most popular method of them all among Wisconsinites.

For this reason there are included a few ideas on the subject. Instead of the traditional cracker crumbs or cornmeal coating, try some of these ideas ... crushed cornflakes ... dehydrated mashed potato granules or one of the Farina cereals. They all give crisp texture as well as a new flavor to fish.

Here they are for delightful, any day eating.

BASIC FRIED FISH

- 1/2 cup solid all-vegetable shortening
- 1 1/2 pounds fillet of sole, cod, halibut, flounder or other fish
- Salt and pepper
- 1 egg
- 1 tablespoon milk
- 1/4 to 1 cup crumbs or meal
- Lemon wedges
- Parsley

In large skillet heat shortening. Sprinkle fish with salt and pepper. Beat egg with milk. Dip fillets into egg, then in crumbs or meal. Over medium-high heat, fry fillets in shortening on each side until golden. Serve immediately with lemon and garnish with parsley. Serve with tartar sauce, if desired.

NEW ENGLAND FISH FRY: Use three-quarters to one cup finely crushed cracker crumbs.

CORN-CRUNCH FRIED FISH: Use three-quarters to one cup finely crushed corn flakes.

Alert Rookie Policewoman Nabs Two More

NEW YORK (AP)—An attractive, blonde rookie policewoman arrested two burglary suspects Monday night—about six weeks after her first arrest, made at the same spot, on the same charge at the same time of day.

Cecilia Johnson, 27, who graduates from the Police Academy a month from Wednesday, was shopping for a washing machine at 7:20 p.m. on Fifth Avenue near 35th Street. She stopped to light a cigarette and became suspicious of two men who were peering into a station wagon. The two lagging five behind last year's figure, membership chairman Mrs. Dale Nichols, reported.

Members will assist at the Cub Scout blue-gold dinner Feb. 27.

sealed cartons and seven boys' suits. Robert McGray, 32, and Otis Strickland, 26, were booked on charges of grand larceny of an automobile. They were held in $1,000 bail each.

Speakers, Topics Set for Business Girls' Program

"Charm in a Capsule" will be the subject at 6 p.m. Feb. 27 for the first of a two-series program, "The Business Girl and Her Job". The meeting will be held in the west shell of the YMCA.

The purpose of the dinner meetings and programs is to help business personnel do a better job, see opportunities for self-development and realize the importance of their place in today's business world. Invitations have been extended to women in all phases of business in the Fox Cities area, whether employed by a large company or in a small office.

Appearance, poise, personality and business etiquette will be discussed at the Feb. 27 meeting by Mrs. Audrey Zirbel, a staff member of Patricia Stevens Career College and Finishing School, Milwaukee.

Communications Speaker

unreasonable or prudish to expect a little privacy when a kook woman strips down to the skin, or are there other women as she must, when she is around who feel as I do? Is it shopping for a bra and girdle? Is it mid-Victorian to resent being pushed into a fitting room with no door — only a flimsy curtain that flies open exposing her to customers passing by? Is it silly to be annoyed when the clerk barges in with two other saleswomen to "see how the garments look on?"

I have gotten to the point where I dread buying a new bra or girdle. What's more, I've become downright hostile to women who work in underwear departments. They seem insensitive, ill-mannered and much too interested in walking in on undressed customers. What are your thoughts on this subject?—Mad And Modest

Ideal Figures

In a quest for a lovely figure, tidy proportions cannot be underestimated. Ideal weight is not the end-all. In truth it's only the beginning.

Doubtless you are aware of figure spots that could do with less curve. But do you know by how many inches? Finding the answer is the next step in this series of columns on Total Attractiveness. You'll need a pencil and a tape measure for the job. Then...

1. Measure your wrist around the boniest part.

2. Multiply your wrist measurements by 4 1/4, if your bones are large; with average-sized bones, multiply by 4; multiply by 4 if small-boned.

The answer is your ideal waist measurement. Your hips and bosom should measure 10" more than your waist.

Now find your height on the chart below. The numbers beside it indicate your ideal thigh measurement.

Height	Thigh
5'0"-5'3"	18"-19"
5'4"-5'6"	19"-19 1/2"
5'7"-5'9"	19 1/2"-20 1/2"

For calf size, subtract 6" from thigh size.

Crime Never Pays In Bridge

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

"A sad case, Watson," said Sherlock Holmes. "We came too late to stop the crime." The great detective and his biographer had arrived just as today's bridge hand was being played.

They saw South win the first trick with the ace of clubs and enter dummy with the jack of hearts to lead the queen of spades. West took the king of spades and returned the six of clubs to East's king.

East returned the nine of diamonds, and South tried a finesse with the ten. This lost to the queen, and South ruffed the club return. Declarer drew trumps and tried another diamond finesse, going down one when this finesse lost also.

If you study the evidence you will know who committed the crime. While you're getting the handcuffs ready, decide for yourself what the crime was and who committed it. Then read on.

Early Crime

The handcuffs belong on South's wrists since he should have made his contract of four spades. South's crime occurred at the very first trick, when he took the ace of clubs. The correct play is to refuse the first trick.

This simple maneuver keeps East out of the lead. West leads another club to the ace. South gets to dummy with the jack of hearts, and a space finesse loses to the king.

West returns a heart to the king. South draws two more trumps, ruffs dummy's last club and leads a heart to the ace. Then he leads a diamond from dummy, finessing with the ten.

West wins, but cannot get out safely. If West returns a diamond, South gets a free finesse. If West returns anything else, dummy ruffs while South discards the jack of diamonds.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold: S K 8 6 H 9 4 D K Q 2 C Q J 10 6 2. What do you say?

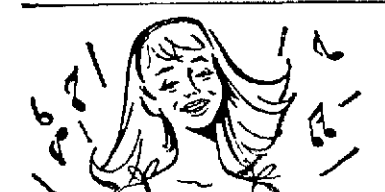

Answer: Bid two clubs. The hand is far too strong for a raise to two spades, but not strong enough for a jump to three spades. Bid your own suit and await developments.

The Swinging Set

Your Dating Alphabet

BY SYLVIE REICE

You know what the most persistent cry of teen-agers is? "How do I get dates?" Loretta R. from Denver, Colo., writes: "I go to an all-girl high school. Getting dates is the problem — Paul S. from Washington D. C. says: 'A big city is the loneliest place. How do I get dates?' Patricia G. from Baltimore, Md., writes: 'I'm so shy. I'm afraid I'll never get a date at this rate.'"

Be consoled. It's everybody — almost everybody's problem. But problems, recognized as such, can yield to solution. Dating has a know-how, like any other art. Here is an alphabet of suggestions for how to get dates:

A is for AVAILABLE — which means being where the boys and girls are — at sports events, dances and clubs.
B is for BRAVE — the brave deserve the dates. Though it takes all your courage to walk into a Y alone or talk to a schoolmate you want to get to know, do it. Remember, others are shy too, and everyone wants to be friendly.
C is for CHURCH — temple, synagogue, meeting — house, where you should go to join boys and girls of your own background.

D is for DRESSING — up or down as the case may be — but right for the occasion, and make the most of your looks.
E is for EXPENSES — Plunder a date by ordering the highest item on the menu and you may not see him a second time. Think of inviting him out occasionally. It's a good way to start a friendship.

Date Friends
F is for FRIENDSHIP — with your own sex and the opposite. Not everybody has to be looked at as a romance. Friends can be dates, too.

G is for GROOMING — remembering boys hate matted hair or long hair on boys. Deodorants, scents, unibrow, clean necks all help attract.

H is for HELP — which you'll offer to the guy or gal who's failing trig or French, or to the new teen at school.

I is for INTERESTS — they'll lead you to groups. Collect stamps, play chess, sail a boat, there are clubs, other enthusiasts who are date possibilities. J is for JOINING — need any more be said???

K is for KING — which is how you'll make any boy feel when you're with him by not chattering about other guys, by concentrating on him!

L is for LAUGHTER — which makes everyone more attractive, and helps ease any situation any time.

M is for MANNERS — which you'll never forget date — time, in the halls at school, or on the school bus — and which will make you stand out like a light. N is for NO — which you'll say to unwholesome, fast, dangerous friendships, dates, activities (drugs, smoking, drinking) — so they won't label you and keep the right dates away.

O is for OPEN MIND — which means you don't judge a boy or girl by looks, but give each a chance to become a date.

P is for PARTIES — give them; go to them — it's that simple.

Q is for QUESTIONS — which you'll ask to get conversation rolling; which you'll ask to show you're interested in him or her.

Respect Moods
R is for RESPECT — which you show to your date's opinions and sensitivities. Make him feel like a male — make her feel like a girl. Urgent: respect his moods.

S is for SCHOOL — a great dating arena if you participate in clubs, committees, school government — make friends — and with your own sex, too!

T is for TELEPHONE — don't be afraid of calling someone to establish a communication, but don't overdo it. Dial on an impulse when you feel lonely. You'll be surprised how people will respond.

U is for USELESS — a fact you might have to face about a certain guy or gal who just doesn't see you no matter what. Don't waste time, effort, tears. Move on or you'll be dateless.

V is for VALENTINE — take the opportunity to send a card to someone you'd like to get to like you. Not too mushy, not too expensive. Try writing one yourself.

W is for WARMTH — who can resist it? Hold her hand; listen to his problems. Knit him a scarf. Show you care.

X marks the SPOT — don't put anyone on it. Don't take a boy or girl for granted — even if you've been steady. If he mentions a party, don't say "Take me." If he does this time, he won't — next time.

Y is YOU — Be you all the time, no date is worth total camouflage or deceit.

Z — zowie — zoom — zip — and zest — it's fun to date — and it's all yours once you practice Show Concern

Pamela Brewer On Probation At University

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Protesting students, some with sleeping-bags, made a dormitory Tuesday night of the University of Florida's Tigert Hall where coed Pamela Brewer got a warning for posing nude in an off-campus magazine.

Campus Police Chief Audie Shuler said 150 to 175 students chatted, munching snacks and dozed in the administration building. They were orderly and no plans were contemplated to eject them, Shuler said.

The students invaded the building in support of a demand that a university spokesman discuss with them the university's discipline setup and a student conduct code which they contend is vague.

Not Discreet

Under the code, 18-year-old Miss Brewer was found guilty by the faculty discipline committee of "inappropriate and indiscreet conduct."

The Springfield, Va., sophomore's lawyer, Selig Goldin, said there was nothing specific in the code to prohibit Pamela from posing for the photo.

Goldin described as mild his client's penalty — two terms of disciplinary probation. He said it means she may remain in school without restrictions as long as she does not get in trouble.

A university official who asked not to be identified told newsmen the discipline committee's action amounts to a little more than warning.

Cool, Crisp, Fresh Greens Best for Mealtime Salads

Cold, fresh and crisp are the key words for tasty salads, unless they are meant to be served hot like German potato salad, says Charlotte Dunn, foods specialist at the University of Wisconsin.

Salads are becoming more and more important in meal planning because they taste good, add color and are nutritious. Salads are good the year around for the texture they add to meals, especially a green salad.

Almost every salad starts with greens, whether mixed together or used as a bed for other types of salads. Uncooked vegetable leaves make a refreshing salad or salad bed. Spinach, kale, celery leaves, beet and turnip tops, Swiss chard and dandelion greens are rich in vitamins and add a zesty tang.

Leafy Personality

With the variety of leafy vegetables and other vegetables on the market today, there is no such thing as an ordinary salad. All greens have a personality of their own such as crispness in iceberg lettuce or tenderness in bibb lettuce. Romaine and leaf lettuce add distinctive flavor, spinach adds a dark green color, escarole the light green color, and curly endive, interesting design in a combination of salad greens.

Any number of vegetable greens can be combined to make a salad and are considered suitable as long as they are attractive in color and are palatable in flavor. A good rule to follow is mix stronger flavored greens with mild flavored ones, shades of light and dark green together, and smooth, crisp leaves with crinkly, curled ones.

Add Dressing

Originally, a "salad" was a dish prepared from raw greens simply dressed with oil and seasoning. This still may be called a true salad. But today, a salad is described as any food or mixture of foods garnished with a green salad vegetable and served with a dressing.

Some salad tossers feel that vegetables like tomato, onion, cucumber, carrot or celery should be eaten from a relish tray. Others feel these colorful, chopped vegetables add much to the enjoyment of the salad.

Whatever the combination of foods, fresh salads lend themselves in as many ways as the imagination can create dishes to serve. Salads are also easy to prepare.

Remember to fit the salad to the meal. For a hearty meal, serve a light salad and for a light meal, serve a hearty salad. To retain salad freshness, keep greens well chilled before preparing and keep the salad chilled before serving.

Fish Recipes for Year Around Use

TORTILLA FLAT FRIED

Fish: Use three-quarters to one cup finely crushed corn chips. Do not season fish with salt.

HERBED FRIED FISH FILLETS: Use three-quarters to one cup fine dry bread crumbs.

Season bread crumbs with one-half teaspoon garlic salt and one-quarter teaspoon oregano.

POTATO CRISP FRIED

SOUTHERN FRIED FISH:

Use three-quarters to one cup corn meal.

One old favorite that sometimes gets lost in the modern shuffle of instant and prepared foods is fried Codfish Balls. Made with salted codfish and potato. This is a wonderful supper dish served hot and crisp with either tomato or tartar sauce.

CODFISH BALLS

1/2 pound boneless salted codfish

Water

4 medium potatoes, pared and diced (4 cups)

2 tablespoons butter

2 eggs

2 tablespoons chopped parsley

1/2 teaspoon pepper

Fine dry bread crumbs

Solid all-vegetable shortening for deep frying

Soak codfish in water one-half hour. Drain. In saucepan, combine codfish, potatoes and enough water to cover. Bring to boil, cover and cook 15 minutes, or until potatoes are tender. Drain. Add butter and mash until smooth. Beat in egg, parsley and pepper until blended. Drop heaping tablespoonfuls made with salted codfish and potato. Fry a few at a time in super dish served hot and crisp. Shortening, heated to 365 degrees with either tomato or tartar sauce until golden brown. Drain on paper towels. Serve warm.

with lemon or dill pickle tartar sauce, as desired.

GLOUCESTER WHITING FLORENTINE

1 package (8 oz.) medium egg noodles

3 tablespoons butter or margarine

3 tablespoons flour

3 cups milk

1 tablespoon lemon juice

1 teaspoon each dry mustard and Worcestershire sauce

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/8 teaspoon each pepper and nutmeg

1 1/2 cups shredded sharp cheddar cheese, divided

2 packages (10 oz. each) frozen chopped spinach, thawed and drained

1 1/2 lbs. whiting fillets

1/4 cup toasted slivered blanched almonds (optional)

Cook noodles as directed on package until tender; drain.

Meanwhile, melt butter; blend in flour. Add milk; stir over medium heat until smooth and thickened. Stir in lemon juice, mustard, Worcestershire sauce, salt, pepper, nutmeg and one cup of the cheese.

Combine cooked noodles with half the cheese sauce. Pour into two-quart baking dish. Top with spinach. Arrange fish fillets on spinach. Pour remaining sauce over fish. Sprinkle with remaining cheese and almonds.

Bake at 375 degrees for 25 minutes, or until fish is cooked. Recipe makes six servings.

CAPE COD FISH CHOWDER

3 pounds fresh or frozen cod fillets

1/4 pound salt pork

3 large yellow onions, sliced thin

4 cups thinly sliced raw potatoes

4 cups boiling water

4 cups milk

Salt and pepper to taste

Common crackers or pilot crackers

Defrost fillets, if frozen. Cut in two-inch pieces. Dice salt pork; fry slowly in heavy kettle or Dutch oven until golden brown and crisp. Remove pork; save.

Cook onions in pork fat in kettle until soft but not brown. Add potatoes and boiling water. Cook until potatoes are almost tender. Add fish; cook about 15 minutes longer, or until fish flakes easily with a fork. (At this point chowder may be refrigerated overnight if desired—flavor is enhanced by the next day). Add milk; season to taste with salt and pepper; heat to serving temperature but do not allow to boil.

Garnish with cooked, diced salt pork. Float split common crackers on each serving or crumble pilot crackers on top. Recipe makes eight servings.

BOSTON SCROD THERMIDOR

2 pounds scrod fillets (small haddock or cod)

fresh or frozen

Butter Sauce

2 tablespoons butter or margarine

2 tablespoons flour

1/4 teaspoon dry mustard

1/4 teaspoon paprika

1 teaspoon salt

3 tablespoons dry white wine

1 cup light cream

1/4 teaspoon chervil

1/4 teaspoon tarragon

2 egg yolks, slightly beaten

1/2 cup heavy cream

Defrost fillets, if frozen.

Grease ramekins. Dip fillets in Butter Sauce; roll up; arrange three or four fillet rolls in each ramekin. Pour any left over butter sauce over fish. Bake at 375 degrees for 25 minutes, or until easily flaked with a fork, but still moist.

Meanwhile melt two tablespoons butter; blend in flour, mustard, paprika and salt. Add wine, light cream and herbs. Stir over moderate heat until smooth and thickened. Combine egg yolks and heavy cream; add some of the hot sauce; stir over medium heat about two minutes.

Pour sauce over fillets; broil until bubbly and golden. Serve at once. Recipe makes four to six servings.

BUTTER SAUCE

1/4 cup melted butter or margarine

2 tablespoons lemon juice

Dash Tabasco

Junior Girls Tell Plans for Unit Activities

The Junior Girls Unit of Harvey Pierre Post 2778, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will present the Post with songbooks in honor of the group's 34th anniversary at a 7 p.m. dinner Saturday at the clubhouse.

Representatives and advisors of the Appleton Unit attended the instituting of a new Junior Girls Unit at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Kaukauna VFW clubhouse.

Since hospital service has been selected as the main project by the unit, members will bake cookies for residents at Veterans Hospital, Tomah. The girls have made favors and washable lap robes for the patients.

At the March 11 meeting members will participate in a bowling tournament and also roller skate. A chili supper has been scheduled from 4 to 8 p.m. March 16 at the VFW clubhouse.

New members were initiated into the unit during the Saturday meeting. They are Lynn Ruth, Cindy Kositzke and Brenda Duquette.

Tastes best,

8 washed baking potatoes
Salad oil
8 strips bacon
2/3 cup bacon drippings
1/2 cup minced onions
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
6 tablespoons vinegar
4 teaspoons granulated sugar
1/2 cup minced green peppers

Rub potatoes with oil; bake 1 hour or until done. Meanwhile cook bacon until crisp; drain; crumble. Measure drippings (add oil to make 2/3 cup); return to skillet. Add onion, next 4 ingredients; heat. When potatoes are done, cut thin slice from top of each; scoop out inside. Blend potatoes with vinegar mixture, bacon and green pepper; stuff back into potato shells. Serve at once. Makes 8 servings.

About 1 1/4 hours before serving — Start heating oven to 400°F.

State Girl Wins $1,000 in Bake-Off

Wisconsin had one winner in the annual Pillsbury bake-off on the Busy Lady theme at Los Angeles this week.

She is Miss Barbara Thurow, 17, of Madison, whose Peanut Quickies brought her the bonus prize of $1,000.

Top winner of the $25,000 prize for the best recipe went to a Topeka, Kan., housewife and mother, Mrs. Carlos D. Bullock. Her recipe is a yeast bread made in one bowl and using a muffin mix as a base. The second place pound cake recipe was won by Mrs. George I. Crook, Crosby, Miss., who was presented with $5,000.

A boy won the $2,000 junior division prize with a recipe he calls "Top Me Twice Cake." He is Carlton V. Sawyer, Arnold, Md., a 15-year-old high school freshman.

Miss Thurow's recipe uses both a convenience frosting mix and a self-rising flour which contains baking powder and salt. (The latter ingredients must be added if plain flour is used.) It's a simple recipe that yields about 50 cookies, according to the Madison cook.

PEANUT QUICKIES
1 pkg. fluffy white frosting mix
1/2 cup self-rising flour
1/2 cup crunchy peanut butter

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Grease and flour cookie sheet. Prepare frosting mix according to package directions. Fold in flour and peanut butter. Drop dough by scant teaspoonsfuls onto cookie sheet. Bake at 375 degrees for 10 to 12 minutes. Remove from cookie sheet immediately and allow to cool on another surface.

Cottage Cheese Dips Are Waist-Whittlers

The stretch of time between the holidays and spring suit buying can be devastating to the figure unless something's been done about counting calories. And most people don't. It's something that always can be started tomorrow when there's delicious snacking to be done.

However, all snacks don't have to be loaded with calories. Here are three cheese snacks which make both great cottage cheese with the more robust low calorie blue cheese dressing and the piquant, minced scallion. (Scallions may be purchased at spice and herb counters now, dried to perfection and packaged in a shaker bottle.)

The third recipe, Cottage Cheese Pimiento Dip, features creamed cottage cheese, zippy sour cream and flavorful pimiento bits.

Serve tart tangerine sections, crisp apple slices or unsalted crackers with the fruit snack. Go-wits for cheese-vegetable dips are such low calorie items as fluted cucumber rounds, green pepper rings, celery and carrot stalks or sticks and cauliflowerettes, all raw and crunchy. Here are the recipes:

FRUIT SALAD-Cottage CHEESE DIP

1 cup creamed cottage cheese
2 tablespoons sour cream
¼ cup chopped apple
½ cup dietetic pineapple tidbits, chopped, and juice

¼ teaspoon curry powder

Beat cottage cheese with sour cream until almost smooth. Stir in chopped fruits and curry powder. Chill. Serve fruit dip with tangerine sections, thick apple slices (sprinkled with lemon juice) or unsalted crackers. Recipe makes about one and two-thirds cups dip. There are 92 calories in each quarter-cup.

TANGY CHEESE DIP

1 cup creamed cottage cheese
2 tablespoons sour cream
3 tablespoons low calorie blue cheese dressing
2 teaspoons minced scallion

Beat cottage cheese with sour cream until almost smooth. Stir in chopped scallion. Refrigerate several hours. Serve dip with carrot and celery stalks and thick, fluted cucumber slices. Recipe makes about one cup dip. There are 65 calories in each quarter-cup.

COTTAGE CHEESE PIMIENTO DIP

1 cup creamed cottage cheese
2 tablespoons sour cream
2 tablespoons canned, chopped pimiento
¼ to ½ teaspoon salt

Beat cottage cheese with sour cream until almost smooth. Stir in chopped pimiento and salt. Chill several hours. Serve with crisp rye crackers, green pepper rings or cauliflowerettes. Recipe makes about one cup dip. There are 70 calories in each quarter-cup.

Avenue Reconstruction

Ask State Architects to Submit Greenery Plans

Landscape architects from throughout the state have been invited to attend a Feb. 21 meeting of the council's street-sanitation committee and present a "greenery" plan for College Avenue.

Ald. Roy Pointer (14th) council president and committee chairman, said at a meeting Tuesday afternoon that members of the Landscape Architects Association do not bid on streetscaping projects.

However, it was indicated they could prepare a sketch or make a presentation to the committee on what they would recommend for the avenue when it is reconstructed.

Committee members noted that $2,000 had been received to date from two local firms as donations to the city's downtown "greenery" fund, and they were hopeful others would be forthcoming.

Now that reconstruction has started, the committee is working on a recommendation on College Avenue beautification to be forwarded to the council.

Public Works Director Frank Keuler was told to invite as many landscape architects as possible to make presentations. The committee also: —Discussed plans for installing municipal utilities to the city's far south side, where a private industrial park is being developed.

—Delayed taking action on a finalized Community Antenna Television (CATV) ordinance pending a joint meeting with the public safety committee later in the month.

—Asked Keuler to check into the merits of renting a snow-melting machine in 1968.

Physical Plant Directors Confer At Lawrence

The physical plant directors of the schools comprising the Associated Colleges of the Midwest will hold their second annual meeting on the Lawrence University campus Feb. 23 and 24. Jack Manwell, director of the physical plant at Lawrence, is president of the group.

Other officers are Elmer C. Johnson of Knox, vice president, and Eugene Slack of Coe College, secretary-treasurer.

Marwin O. Wroldstad, business manager at Lawrence, will speak during the meeting on the Fair Labor Standards Act. President Curtis W. Tarr will welcome the group as it convenes at the Music-Drama Center.

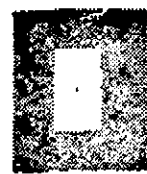

Among those attending will be Larry Cuning, Beloit; Slack and Richard Abshire of Coe; Cecil J. Thomas of Cornell; Evan H. Walden of Grinnell; Elmer C. Johnson of Knox; R. L. Winkler and Paul Bunn of Monmouth; Ken Cartier and Don Lueptow of Ripon.

Texans Refuse to Scrap Cuspidors

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP) — Replace the courthouse spittoons with sand urns?

"Unrealistic," said the Hays County commissioners.

The commissioners said they just couldn't adopt the county grand jury's recommendation to scrap the cuspidors, which County Court Judge Max Smith said are in demand from antique collectors.

Right-Wing Money Finances Nixon Trips

Walter Harnischfeger, Milwaukee, Said
To Have Been Among Contributors

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Many of the same right-wing moneybags who bankrolled Barry Goldwater's presidential drive in 1964 tipped their intentions for 1968 by financing Richard M. Nixon's cross-country travels last fall. Three innocuously named committees — "The Committee for the Election of Republican Candidates," "The Committee for Loyal Opposition" and "Congress 66" — were actually covers to finance Nixon's 1966 travels on behalf of congressional candidates. Significantly, the contributors include not only familiar Nixon fatcats but principal Goldwater contributors of 1964.

This emphasizes the important political fact that Nixon's inner circle wishes to play down Nixon is for now the candidate of the Republican right. And given the climate inside the party today, this may well be a dubious honor.

The fact that Nixon financed his own 1966 activities is of interest by itself in view of public statements that the Republicans for Constitutional Action (ACA), Salvatori in 1962 opposed Nixon against a conservative entry in the Republican primary for governor. Last fall he gave him $2,000.

Oilman Gordon Reed of Greenwich, Conn. A major Goldwater booster in 1964, Reed did not help moderate Republican candidates who were defeated in Connecticut last fall but managed to find $2,000 for Nixon.

New York financier Jeremiah Milbank Sr., a founder of the draft-Goldwater movement. A generous contributor to such right-wing groups as the Intercollegiate Society of Individualists and the ACA, Milbank was usually helpful to Nixon last fall. His two checks totalled $5,000.

Other well-known conservatives helping Nixon in 1966 included oilman John G. Pew of Philadelphia, $2,000; and De Witt and Lila Wallace of the Readers Digest, $8,500. But most surprising was a $1,000 contribution from Milwaukee industrialist Walter Harnischfeger, who has flirted with the lunatic right.

Harnischfeger is familiar on Capitol Hill as an obstreperous witness against foreign aid programs Nixon always has backed. Besides contributing to the ACA, he is a sponsor of the right-wing Manion Forum, a contributor to the Committee for Constitutional Government (advocating income tax repeal) and a backer of the late Merwin K. Hart, a notorious anti-Semitic and John Birch Society leader.

The mere fact that Nixon's fund raisers are soliciting funds from the right by no means puts Dick Nixon on even on the fringe of the right. Politicians take their contributions where they can find them. But this sort of help from old Goldwaterites shows that Nixon has developed a potent right hook to go with his left jab.

But the two may not be able to co-exist. John Davis Lodge's efforts to recruit moderates from the Eisenhower administration have been less than successful. Lodge got a non-committal answer from the prestigious Wall Street banker Thomas Gates, President Eisenhower's secretary of defense. The right-wing roster of 1966 Nixon contributors won't make Lodge's efforts any easier.

To Your Good Health

Alcohol, Nicotine Are Harmful to Diabetic

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M. D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is the effect of drinking or smoking on a mild diabetic? — Mrs. A. P. Whether the disease is mild or severe, either nicotine or alcohol can be harmful to a diabetic. Note that I say "can be."

Dr. Molner

Drinking adds needless calories, and a diabetic has to count his calories. Diabetes means that the patient can assimilate only a limited amount of sugar. He must see to it that he does not consume more sugar than his body, bolstered by insulin or diabetes pills, can use up.

Almost any type of food, even though it contains no sugar, can be the equivalent of it. Some portion will be converted into blood sugar, and it is the total amount of blood sugar which concerns the diabetic.

Carbohydrate is converted readily and in large part into blood sugar. The same is true of alcohol. Every drop of alcohol that a diabetic drinks means that he must curtail, in his eating, enough food to equal the alcohol in terms of calories.

Obviously many mild diabetics take an occasional drink, and this probably does them no harm. But just as obviously, regular consumption of alcohol has its penalties.

Varying amounts of alcohol can upset the stomach. When it results in either vomiting or diarrhea, it can lead a diabetic into serious trouble, acidosis, which is one of the major emergencies occurring in this disease.

Smoking involves peril of a different kind. Nicotine is no different for causing spasm of the arteries.

Since the diabetic is a prime candidate for arterial problems, such as vascular disease of the extremities, eyes and heart, anything which constricts circulation is inviting trouble. Yes, I am aware that many diabetics use tobacco, but it is doing them no good.

Another ailment traced to tobacco (and relieved by discontinuing its use) is amblyopia, a disturbance in visual acuity. It is one more factor which ought to be remembered by diabetics because their disease can so easily impair eyesight.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please describe ichthyosis and is it true that a victim of this disease cannot be vaccinated against smallpox because it may be fatal? — F. T.

Ichthyosis is a skin disorder, often appearing early in childhood, the skin becoming dry, rough and scaly. The scales to some extent resemble fish scales. Trunk and extremities usually are involved. The condition tends to improve in warm summer weather.

Individuals with this condition can be vaccinated against smallpox or other diseases without undue hazard.

Dear Dr. Molner: Should I ask (do I dare?) my doctor about some of the sleeping pills I see advertised? He has been giving me a relaxant but sometimes I run out of pills. — S. B. Of course you should and of course you dare. Unless you keep him posted on how you are getting along, how can he adjust your medication?

Note to G. J. and others: The only suggestion I can make to a homosexual who wishes to stop being one is to consult a psychiatrist. Such treatment sometimes is successful.

"Tips On How To Stop Smoking," by Dr. Molner, will help you give up the habit. To receive a copy of the booklet, write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper, enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Demonstrators March In Protest to Vietnam During Goldberg Talk

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Two hundred demonstrators, many of them carrying signs protesting the U.S. role in Vietnam, marched in front of the Harvard Law School while U.N. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg addressed students inside.

Goldberg remained inside the law school as the demonstration continued for an hour Monday in 18-degree temperatures.

The pickets, many of college age, carried three coffin-shaped objects shrouded in black and bearing the signs "American Boys," "People of Vietnam" and "Self-Determination." Goldberg is visiting the university as an honorary associate of the Institute of Politics at the John Fitzgerald Kennedy School of Government.

Robert Kolf, Of WSU-O, Will Retire

OSHKOSH — The dean of Wisconsin State University coaches, Oshkosh's Robert M. "Bob" Kolf, has announced plans to retire in August according to Dr. Roger E. Guiles, WSU-O president.

Kolf has served WSU-O as a coach, teacher and athletic director over a period of 44 years beginning in 1923. He also attended Oshkosh Normal School, where he played on the school's championship football and basketball teams.

Named athletic director in 1931, Kolf also coached all sports and intramurals as well as teaching physical education classes at that time.

No successor to Kolf has been named.

St. John, St. Mary Make First Starts In Tourney Tuesday

Play Elimination Games for Berths in Arena Semi-Finals

Little Chute St. John and Menasha St. Mary will make their first starts in the 1967 Wisconsin Catholic Interscholastic Athletic Association basketball tournament next Tuesday night.

St. John meets Oneida Sacred Heart in a Region 4 elimination game at Little Chute, while St. Mary meets St. Nazianz St. Gregory in a Region 5 elimination tilt at Menasha.

The companion elimination contest in Region 4 brings together St. Nazianz Salvatorian and Abbot Pennings at De Pere. The companion Region 5 elimination test sends Mt. Calvary St. Lawrence against St. Mary Springs in Fond du Lac.

The winners of the Region 4 eliminations — St. John and Pennings will be favored — will join Marinette Central Catholic and Green Bay Premonstré for the semi-finals Feb. 23 in the Brown County Arena. Alphabetical pairings will be on the basis of 1 vs. 3 and 2 vs. 4.

In Region 5, the elimination-game winners (expected to be Menasha St. Mary and probably Springs — on the basis of having faced stronger competition) will join defending champion Oshkosh Lourdes and Appleton Xavier for the Feb. 24 semi-finals in the Arena.

The Region 4 and 5 finals will both be played Feb. 25 in the Arena.

LA CROSSE (AP)—Defending champion Milwaukee Messmer will meet a tough Waukesha Memorial team Feb. 24, in its defense of the state Catholic basketball championship.

Messmer will be trying for a second consecutive title, something that has not been done since Racine St. Catherine, turned the trick in 1959. There have been seven different champions in the seven seasons since.

In 1960, Menasha St. Mary won the title. Since then, the championship has passed back to St. Catherine, then to Xavier, Marinette Catholic Central, Milwaukee Marquette and finally to Messmer.

Elimination games begin Sunday at Madison when Madison Edgewood meets Madison Holy Name.

Forty schools, two more than a year ago, will compete in regional play. The eight teams surviving, will compete for the title in the three-day state meet in Milwaukee March 3.

San Francisco Beats Celts

Wins for First Time Without Nate Thurmond

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — San Francisco's Warriors finally won a National Basketball Association game without rebounder Nate Thurmond.

They accomplished it in facing the Boston Celtics, 128-122, in the only league game played Tuesday night, with supersophomore Rick Barry scoring 50 points.

Until Tuesday night the Warriors had lost every game they played this season without Thurmond. Also, they had lost four in a row, the last three since Thurmond broke two bones in his left hand against the Celtics at Boston last Friday. Their Western Division lead had dwindled from a comfortable 11 games to 6 over St. Louis.

That spell was broken in the third quarter when Barry put the Warriors ahead for good on a free throw that made the score 83-82. They ran up a 12-point lead midway in the fourth period on the shooting of Barry and Jeff Mullins who scored 25 for the evening.

The Celtics put on a full court press but could come no closer than five points. Warrior rookie center Clyde Lee led both teams with 25 rebounds, blocked numerous Celtic shots and scored 20 points. John Havlicek was high scorer for Boston with 32.

Heat thus simplifies drainage while drying the top soil to allow for good footing.

"Under normal snow or rain conditions, the grass and soil will be the same as it is in the middle of August," Halas said. "With this system you can grow beautiful green grass all winter, if you want to."

Halas said the installation would begin as soon as weather permits.

Chuck Lane, Green Bay Packer publicist, confirmed here Tuesday night that the Packers are "talking about" installing a heating cable under Lambeau Field.

the Chicago Bears' owner and coach, said the Packers have become the first professional football team to commit itself to an electric soil heating device designed to ensure good field conditions despite the weather.

Halas said General Electric's wiring services department will lay electric cables the length of the playing field. The cables will be about six inches below the surface and a foot apart.

A thermostat will regulate the temperature of the cables, heating the six inches of top soil and making it more porous. The Today's Games: Neenah at Kimberly, Clintonville at Menasha, Shawano at Kaukauna, New London at Two Rivers.

By RON WITT Post-Crescent Staff Writer — Its first Mid-Eastern Conference basketball title since 1961-62 neatly tucked away, Neenah's streaking Red Rockets begin mop-up operations while co-runnersup Clintonville and Kaukauna continue the struggle for the second spot as featured action in this week's league slate.

Heading into the 13th round of a 14-game schedule, the Rockets risk their 12-0 record against Kimberly on the Papermakers' court Friday night. Coach Doug Martin's cagers, who own a 15-1 over-all mark and No. 4 ranking among the state's large schools, beat Kimberly, 81-68, in an earlier home meeting and will be a heavy favorite to repeat the performance.

In other M-E rematches, charging Clintonville travels to Menasha, Shawano visits Kaukauna, and New London takes on Two Rivers on the Raiders' floor. The Truckers and Ghosts, who east boast 9-3 marks after Clintonville's 79-71 minor upset of Kaukauna last week, will rate as favorites on the strength of previous victories. At home the Clints beat the Bluejays, 56-50, and Kaukauna had a surprisingly easy time of whipping the Indians, 67-48, on the road.

Bulldogs Win The two bottom teams in the circuit, New London and Two Rivers, met before in the Bulldogs' back yard and New London came out on top, 71-62. The Purple Raiders have beaten only Kimberly in 12 starts.

While Neenah was wrapping up the league crown against Two Rivers to the tune of 76-55, Clintonville overturned Kaukauna, Menasha followed suit with a 59-47 surprise win over Shawano.

Bengtson 'Not Contacted'

Vince Denies Rumor That Packers May Hire Van Brocklin as Aide

ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — While rumors swirled like a winter snowstorm about Vince Lombardi's future plans, Norm Van Brocklin, resigned Minnesota Vikings' football coach, relaxed and visited with old friends today in Portland, Ore., far from the storm center.

The Dutchman, the center of a storm which has engulfed the Vikings of the National Football League the past several days, would only say that he is not closing the door to a possible return to professional football's coaching ranks. For the time being, however, he said in Portland Tuesday he is not giving it much thought.

There were reports and denials Tuesday of where Van Brocklin was headed.

Possible Move Up One published report in Chicago had him going to Green Bay as Coach Vince Lombardi's No. 1 assistant, with a "possible" move up to the Packer head coaching job if and when Lombardi decides to devote full time to being Green Bay general manager.

That report also had Packer assistant Phil Bengtson becoming Minnesota's head coach. Lombardi promptly denied it all, saying: "There's absolutely no truth to that story. In fact, it's terrible. The whole thing is ridiculous."

Bengtson said he would listen to any offer the Vikings might have, but added, "It would have to be extremely attractive to make me leave Green Bay."

General Manager Other rumors had Van Brocklin going to New Orleans as general manager of the new Saints franchise, and going to New York as coach and general manager of the Giants of the NFL.

There was no response from anybody responsible on either of those reports.

Wisconsin Cagers Down Minnesota

Second-Half Flurry, Stall Keys to Win

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin wore out Minnesota 85-75 Tuesday night to escape the shadow of the Big Ten basketball basement.

An eight-point spurt midway through the second half and a long stall enabled the Badgers to stutter past Minnesota after lagging much of the game. The victory ended a three-game losing streak.

"When you're struggling like we are, nothing comes easy," said Wisconsin Coach John Erickson.

The Badgers were behind most of the first half, although never by more than five points, before forging a 43-43 intermission deadlock. Tipins by Ted Voigt and Jim Johnson snapped a 63-63 tie with 10 minutes to go and Wisconsin went into a prolonged slowdown to preserve the victory.

The tips came in the middle of the eight - point sprint that thrust Wisconsin ahead 69 - 63. The gap shrank to two points as the Badgers staggered through a four-minute scoring drought during the stall, but Mike Carlin helped revive Wisconsin with four free throws that produced a 75-67 lead.

Carlin, Johnson Hit 18 Carlin and Johnson led Wisconsin with 18 points and Chuck Nagle added 16. Tom Kondla of Minnesota topped the scoring with 29.

The game was tied 11 times and the lead changed hands 12 before the decisive spurt. Carlin sank a driving layup to create a 63-63 tie, Voigt followed in his own muffed shot to vault Wisconsin to the front, and Johnson hit a twisting tipin from underneath the bucket.

Joe Franklin added a jump shot in the free throw lane for the 69-63 command. The eight-point run took less than 90 seconds.

"We just missed a couple of switches and a couple of rebounds and that's all it takes," said Minnesota Coach John Kundla.

"We were tired. We played good ball for 30 minutes. The last nine or ten minutes, we seemed to run out of gas," he said.

The crowd of about 7,300 booed Wisconsin when the slowdown began, but cheered Franklin's ball - handling in the late stages as the Badgers went into a fancy pinwheel pattern to keep Minnesota at bay.

"We wanted to get them into foul trouble and get to the free throw line," explained Erickson. Wisconsin padded its lead with 10 free throws in the waning minutes.

The outcome left Minnesota alone in last place with a 2 - 6 Big Ten record. Wisconsin, which would have replaced the Gophers in the conference cellar had it lost, gained a foothold in the first division with a 3 - 4 conference mark.

"They've gotta make room for us in fifth place somehow," warned Erickson.

Five times in the last two basketball seasons, Lawrence University put together 2-win streaks. But each time, the Vikes ran out of momentum before they could run their chain to three straight.

Friday night, Lawrence will try for a sixth time as they invade St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minn. If the Vikes can duplicate the caliber of ball they played in last weekend's sweep over Coe and Beloit, they should be able to notch their first 3-game winning streak since the 1964-5 season.

Lawrence (5-7 in the Midwest Conference) is a half-game ahead of St. Olaf. Saturday afternoon, the Vikes move over to the Carleton College court to face the Knights, who are in the first division, with a 6-3 mark.

Vike Coach Clyde Rusk called the 64-63 upset win over Beloit — a decision which dropped the Bucs out of first place — Lawrence's "best game of the season. . . . Our defense did a particularly good job."

The shocker against Beloit, together with the 91-78 success over Coe 24 hours earlier, square Lawrence's over-all record at 8-8. The dangerous Vikes have already won one more game than they did all of last season.

This will be the final out-of-state trip of the season for Lawrence, which has a 3-4 record on foreign courts.

Lawrence has dropped its last five games against Carleton and its last four against St. Olaf. The most recent misfortunes in competition against the Minnesotans were an 81-66 loss to St. Olaf and a 65-63 setback loss to Carleton in Alexander gym.

The Vikes' failure to stop Charlie Grover was the story of their 15-point loss to St. Olaf. The slick forecourtman scored 30 points here. Last Friday,

Iowa Tips Wildcats To Create 4-Way Tie for Big 10 Lead

Sam Williams Paces 80-75 Win; North Carolina Triumphs

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

For the first time in 41 years the Big Ten college basketball race may end in a four-way tie.

The Big Ten has taken a back seat this season to such teams as UCLA, Louisville, North Carolina, Princeton, Western Kentucky, Kansas and Vanderbilt.

Thus the eye-scratching contest between Indiana, North western, Iowa and Michigan State to succeed Michigan as Big Ten champion has gone virtually unnoticed nationally.

Iowa whipped Northwestern 80-75 at Iowa City Tuesday night and created the jam at the top in the Big Ten. Iowa, Northwestern, Indiana and Michigan State each are 5-2 to the half-way mark in conference play which ends March 11.

It's possible that the teams still will be tied then for the first such finish in the Big Ten since 1926. That year Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Purdue deadlocked at 8-4.

North Carolina Wins

North Carolina, fourth-ranked nationally in The Associated Press poll and the only team in the AP Top Ten to see action, rebounded from its upset at the hands of Georgia Tech to whip North Carolina State 77-60 at Raleigh.

Clemson beat Duke 73-68 for the Tigers' first victory over the Blue Devils in five years. In another surprise, Texas Tech downed Southern Methodist 82-74.

Kansas State defeated Missouri 82-67, Providence humbled St. Joseph's of Philadelphia 87-74 and Boston College tumbled Rhode Island 81-71 in other games.

Wisconsin overcame Minnesota 85-75, West Virginia routed Penn State 83-67 and Texas A&M beat Arkansas 60-53 in home court victories.

Northwestern, which boasts the most prolific offense in the league, fell victim to shoddy floor play and poor field goal shooting, particularly in the first half.

They managed to hit only 32 per cent of their shots from the floor in the first half as Iowa took a 39-29 lead, and finished with only 39 per cent for the game.

Jones Scores

The Wildcats managed to whittle Iowa's advantage to 58-56 when Mike Weaver hit a shot from the side with 9:18 left. But the Hawkeyes' Gary Jones came up with seven points, including three buckets from right under the basket, in a spree that guided Iowa out of danger, 67-56.

Northwestern trimmed the advantage to 74-71 with 2:07 left, but the Hawkeyes quickly spurted back in command, 80-73.

Iowa's Sam Williams, the league's leading scorer, took game honors with 24 and Jones added 22. Jim Burns topped the Wildcats with 21 and Waver had 13.

The Hawkeyes, who have won 21 straight on their home court since the 1964-65 season, shot 51 per cent for the game. However, Northwestern had a 37-35 edge in rebounds.

The victory avenged Iowa's 90-88 loss at Evanston last month. The Wildcats won that one with a basket just before the gun.

Track Feud Tries Kheel's Skill, Patience

By RON RAPOPORT
NEW YORK (AP) — Theodore Kheel, who made his reputation during some of the thorniest labor-management disputes of the past few years, says he has never seen anything to match the war over amateur track and field that has suddenly flared up again.

"This is the toughest situation I've ever been involved in," said Kheel, head of a panel appointed by Vice President Hubert Humphrey to mediate the dispute between the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Kheel first came to prominence as a mediator during the New York newspaper strike in 1962-63 that dragged on for 114 days and later was involved in trouble with their own governing bodies," he said. "There is nothing we can do here until we hear from them."

Asked if he thought the athletes might be able to compete in meets this weekend, Hull replied, "Impossible as I see it."

In a similar situation last summer, the AAU lifted suspension of athletes who participated in the AAU insists foreign and noncollegiate athletes may only run in Federation, a creation of the NCAA.

With Foreign Bodies

Col. Donald Hull, executive director of the AAU, replied Tuesday. "we will render a final decision which will dispose of hands and rested with the for this dispute once and for all, eign governing bodies involved. This can't be this week or the "The athletes are primarily in next."

Wausau Deals Rapids Quint 76-69 Loss

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Alma, the top-ranked school in The Associated Press "Little Ten" poll, went over the century mark for the third time this season to highlight Wisconsin high school basketball action Tuesday night.

Alma, now 15-0 for the season, beat Cochran-Fountain City 108-79. The Rivermen were paced by Curt Youngbauer's 27 points and Terry Bright's 20.

Royall, No. 4 in the "Little Ten," had little trouble defeating Westfield 76-41 to raise its overall record to 15-1. The Panthers have clinched the Vocationland conference title with a 10-0 record and two games to play.

Wausau, ranked seventh in the AP "Big Ten" poll, beat Wisconsin Rapids 76-69 and now sports a 14-2 season record.

Rapids led 36-32 at the half, but Ken Roeder sparked Wausau's second half comeback with 16 points. He totaled 24 points for the game.

Chuter Freshmen Down Pennings

LITTLE CHUTE — After trailing by one point at the end of the first period, the St. John High School freshman basketball team went on to score a 63-52 victory over DePere Abbot Pennings Monday.

The victory boosted the St. John record to 9-3 for the season and the next game for Coach Marty Marasch's quintet will be at Appleton Xavier Thursday.

Mike Fitzpatrick paced the win over Pennings with 25 points. Bill Fitzpatrick added 11 markers while Chris Hartjes and John Hietpas each had 10. Tim Martin was high for Pennings, with 21 points.

Freedom at Brillion
Denmark at Shiocton

The Bob Morgan-coached Winneconne Wolves, riding the crest of a 10-game league winning skein and now well within reach of their second straight Little Nine Conference basketball crown, take to the road Friday night in hopes of sewing up at least a share of the title.

But even though the Wolves, vanquished chief challenger Brillion, 64-62, in the most important contest of the season in the circuit, they must still get by two stiff opponents. Winneconne faces Hilbert on the latter's court this weekend, and then will be home to Omro on Tuesday night, Cornell beat Winneconne, 82-70, to increase its league lead. Cornell invades Beloit for Friday night's feature.

Brillion, meanwhile, has a somewhat easier time of it in store, playing host to winless Freedom Friday, then widing up at home against Hilbert the next weekend.

Other games this week find third-place Omro at Reedsville, Hortonville at Wrightstown, and Denmark at Shiocton. Only Brillion and Omro have chances of catching the front-running Winneconne club, while the other clubs fight to move up in the standings.

Four close games featured action in the league last week. Besides the 64-62 spine-tingler at Winneconne, Shiocton upset Hilbert, 73-70; Omro edged Denmark, 72-69; and Hortonville ended Reedsville's title chances, 62-59. Wrightstown notched its first victory in the conference and season by shipping Freedom, 76-60.

Grover fired in 32 against Monmouth — the season's highest total in the MC. John Wilson, with 17 points, led a balanced Carleton attack in the first Lawrence game. Steve Simon and Dick Schultz tallied 17 and 14, respectively, for the Vikes.

Schultz, now in his third season of outstanding play for the Vikes, turned in his best performance of the current campaign in the Beloit game, according to Rusk. He scored 19 points and teamed with guard Brian Bock to give Beloit a rough time defensively. Schultz now leads the Vikes in scoring, with 227 points for 16 games.

Bock is second, with 201. Simon, whose late-game free throw beat Beloit, has 199. Bob Townsend and Mike Andrews are next, with 157 and 146 points, respectively. Rusk lauded Andrews' rebounding and Townsend's defensive play.

Brad Childs, who scored 15 points against Beloit, now has 115 for the season.

Tuesday night, Cornell beat the Monmouth, 82-70, to increase its league lead. Cornell invades Beloit for Friday night's feature. Beloit's Jim Jones leads the MC scoring race, with a 19.7 average. The leaders:

Pennings Nips Premontre '5'

Squires Win by 2 After Holding 23-Point Margin

Post-Crescent News Service

DE PERE — The scoreboard at Van Dyke Gym Tuesday night simply read Home (Abbot Pennings) 65, Visitors (Premontre) 63.

The 32 minutes leading up to the Squires' slim victory was far from simple however, in fact almost unbelievable unless you consider that the schools are arch rivals.

Would you believe a 76.9 per cent shooting average from the floor or how about coming back after trailing by 23 points with just nine minutes left in the game?

Both happened as the game was actually a tale of two periods. It was all Pennings in the third period opening up a 23-point lead. That's the 76.9 per cent figure.

Then the table turned, and it was Premontre's turn in the final as the Cadets stage a do-or-die effort which didn't die until the buzzer when an off-balance hurried shot that would have tied the game, missed.

The Squires made eight straight buckets in the first five minutes of the third period before a miss and finished with 10 baskets in 13 attempts.

Mike Doeren, the hero of Pennings' last-second, 69-68 win over the Cadets earlier in the season as he scored 27 points, was the man of the hour again for the Squires.

Leads, with 15

Doeren hit four of four shots in the third period and led the Squires with 15.

The Cadet's Gary Gigot and Tom Skaleski, a 6-6 Irishman, led an uprising that looked like Sitting Bull attacking Custer at the Little Big Horn only unlike Custer, the Squires were saved not by reinforcements but by the clock.

Gigot and Skaleski tallied 18 of the Cadets' 28 points in the fourth period comeback.

Premontre trailed by 20 with 6:23 left and by 15, 59-46, with 4:48 remaining.

Skaleski tipped in a rebound with 41 seconds left to make it 65-63. The Cadets pressed but Pennings got the ball past the 10-second line and were trying to stall it out when the Squires' Dale Smith was called for dribbling the ball over the line with just six seconds remaining.

Gigot fired to Skaleski on the baseline under heavy pressure. Skaleski dribbled out and, off balance and still a little behind the bucket, he pumped it up but the shot missed.

Gigot led Premontre, with 16 points, and Skaleski added 15.

Villanova-Providence Game Moved Because Of 'Rowdyism'

VILLANOVA, Pa. (AP) — The Villanova — Providence basketball game Feb. 21 — originally scheduled to be played Friday — will be played at Providence, because of recent "student rowdyism" in the Villanova Field House, it was announced Tuesday.

Players and officials of the game between Villanova and St. John's had to dodge cans and other debris thrown by spectators who disagreed with a referee's call Monday night. St. John's won 59-52.

The Rev. Joseph A. Flaherty, Villanova president, said, "Last night's performance was inexcusable and we would not wish to subject any visiting team or officials to such rowdyism."

Bruins Hand Detroit 6-3 NHL Defeat

BOSTON (AP) — Sid Abel, general manager and coach of the Detroit Red Wings, likes Boston as a town, but he wishes he could limit visits to the National Hockey League's off season.

"This was a typical game for us in Boston—we were terrible," Abel said after the Red Wings dropped a 6-3 decision to the last-place Bruins Tuesday night at Boston Garden.

"It seems we come in here and can't do anything right," Abel said. "The Bruins really score on us in Boston. Of course, you don't win when you don't put something into the game—and we didn't tonight."

Johnston Dies; Stole 124 Bases In One Season

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — James Harle Johnston, 77, who set the all-time mark of 124 bases stolen in one season in organized baseball and who was named Greatest Utility Player in 1926 by Baseball Magazine, died in a Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. hospital Tuesday.

Johnston began his career in baseball in 1908 with Kewanee of the Central Association, and later played with Portland and San Francisco in the Pacific League.

It was at San Francisco in 1913 that he set the record of 124 stolen bases in one season.

He later played in the major leagues with Chicago and joined the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1916.

He remained with the Dodgers until 1926 when he went to the Giants, retiring later that year.

Legislative Move to Regulate Snowmobiles Runs Into Problems

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — A legislative measure to investigate possible regulation of snowmobile use in Wisconsin struck an iceberg Tuesday when it confronted state Sen. Gerald Lorge, R-Bear Creek.

The joint resolution calling for the legislative highway committee to hold hearings throughout northern Wisconsin on the regulation and classification of snowmobiles and their operators was delayed in what had started as being a speedy trip through the Legislature.

Lorge contended that the resolution had been passed by the state Assembly without even the formalities of a public hearing, or a roll call vote, and objected when a similar attempt was made in the Senate.

Unike Hearings
Lorge contended that the measure, which calls for the holding of unique public hearings throughout the state on a series of 15 questions regarding the regulation of snowmobile usage, would be seriously detrimental to a snowmobile manufacturer in Manawa in his senatorial district.

Sen. Reuben LaFave, R-Oconto, contended that Lorge's demand that a Senate hearing be held on the resolution would delay the holding of the public hearings that Lorge claimed to favor.

Holding hearings throughout the state, LaFave said, would allow a greater number of persons interested in the subject to appear on the matter.

Lorge won his request that the resolution be sent to the Senate highway committee, of which LaFave is chairman, rather than being placed on the Senate calendar, which would have allowed the upper house to deal with it within the next few days.

Holding a legislative hearing will delay the measure considerably.

Lorge said that the questions listed for consideration through the hearing process throughout the state would by their nature lead to decisions harmful to the snowmobile industry.

LaFave contended that state legislation is greatly needed, as few regulations of the use of the new form of vehicle exist. There have been many reports of dangerous driving of the snowmobiles, LaFave said.

The questions ask whether the vehicles should be regarded and classified as motor vehicles in the state, whether licenses should be required for their operation, and what regulations should be placed on their use and equipment in such cases. The resolution also asks whether local governmental units should be given powers of regulation of the vehicles.

They'll Do It Every Time

Situation Must Still be Worked Out

Giants to Get Quarterback Pick in College Grid Draft, Rozelle Admits

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A rumor that the New York Giants will get the pick of quarterbacks in this year's draft has been given a degree of substance, if not clarification.

National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle said Tuesday, "There is some validity to the reports."

He added, "We don't know now just what is going to happen. It's just not clarified."

Rozelle is here in conjunction with the annual meeting of the American Football League, which he will oversee as well as the NFL after the two pro loops merge in 1970.

Normally, first choice in the annual draft of college players would go to the NFL's newest club at New Orleans. The Giants, as the team with the worst record last season, would get second pick.

Work It Out
The whole thing will have to be worked out, Rozelle said, after the NFL meets in Honolulu next week.

AFL owners, general managers and coaches took this afternoon off to play golf. Milt Woodward, league president rehired for three years, said it was "the first time in the seven-year history of the league that we've been able to take a break for golf."

The AFL executives are trying to bring their players' pension plan in line with that of the NFL. No inter-league trade.

Marquette Coed Held In Sale of Marijuana

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A Marquette University coed was arrested Tuesday and charged with sale of marijuana and delivery of a dangerous drug.
Miss Valerie E. Selinger, 21, of McHenry, Ill., was named in league-leading Chicago Black warrants in connection with an investigation into sale of drugs on Milwaukee's two big college campuses, Marquette and the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

Scott Scores Upset Win in Tennis Meet

Pasarell, Ashe Win; Drysdale To Face Riessen

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — Top singles players went into the third round of the U. S. Indoor Tennis Championships today with seven of the eight seeded players in strong contention.

The exception was Istvan Gulias, the No. 4 foreign seed from Hungary. Gulias, a strong clay courts player, was upset by unseeded Gene Scott of St. James, N.Y., 6-3, 6-4.

Today he'll face Stanley Smith of Pasadena, Calif. Smith defeated Jose Luis Arilla of Spain, 7-5, 6-3.

The remainder of the seeded players moved forward without difficulty. Top domestic seed and defending champion, Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico, was to meet Torben Ulrich of Denmark.

Pasarell knocked off Graham Stilwell of England, 6-4, 6-4, in the second round.

Easier Time
The No. 2 seed, Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., had an even easier time with Mike Green of Philadelphia, winning, 6-2, 6-1. Today Ashe was to meet Prenjit Lal of India.

Cliff Drysdale of South Africa, the No. 1 foreign seed faced unseeded but tough Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill. Drysdale pulled out a 7-5, 7-5 victory over Manuel Orantes of Spain after the youngster got off to a surprising start.

Orantes, the youngest player in the tournament is barely 18. A southpaw, he surprised Drysdale by breaking his serve twice in the second set for a 4-0 lead before the South African prevailed.

The No. 3 American seed, Clark Graebner of Beechwood, Ohio meets Lief Beck of King of Prussia, Pa., today and the third round opponent for No. 4 seed Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., is Mark Cox of England.

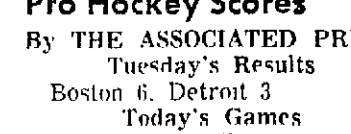

Of those who advanced, Richey had the toughest time, needing three sets to outlast Yugoslavian champion Nikola Pilic 10-8, 8-10, 6-4.

SALT-PRESERVED MINNOWS
USE A COFFEE CAN FOR ALTERNATE LAYERS OF SALT AND MINNOWS—FILL TO TOP.

IN MOST AREAS, SALT-PRESERVED MINNOWS ARE ALLOWED AS BAIT WHERE FRESH MINNOWS MAY BE PROHIBITED (CONSULT REGULATIONS).
PLACE FRESH-KILLED MINNOWS IN SALT FOR A WEEK OR SO, OR LONGER—UNTIL NEEDED. AFTER A SALTED MINNOW IS USED A BIT, WATER DILUTES SALTY TASTE SO IT ISN'T REJECTED BY FISH AS QUICKLY AS SOME COMMERCIAL FORMALIN-PRESERVED MINNOWS. THIS GIVES YOU MORE TIME TO SET HOOK WHEN A FISH TAKES.

Amish Object To Photos on Driver Licenses

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — "Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath..."

In consideration of that biblical admonition, a group of Conservative Amish Mennonites has asked the South Carolina General Assembly not to require display of a photograph on a driver's license.

A bill introduced Tuesday by Rep. James Brandt, a Democrat, would allow the requirement to be lifted if it conflicts with religious freedom.

Brandt said he sponsored the bill at the request of a group of Allendale Mennonites who asked that a thumbprint be substituted for a photograph on a driver's license.

Geoffrion Given Suspension, Fine For Altercation

TORONTO (AP) — Bernie Geoffrion's explosive Gallic temper has cost the high-scoring veteran the third enforced vacation of his 15-year National Hockey League career.

Geoffrion, who has come out of a two-year retirement to spark the New York Rangers' resurgence in the NHL this season, was suspended Tuesday night for three games by league President Clarence Campbell for an altercation with a linesman in last Wednesday night's Rangers-Boston Bruins game.

The 35-year-old right winger, who has netted 14 goals and 20 assists for New York, will miss tonight's game at Toronto, Saturday's home game against the league-leading Chicago Black Hawks and Sunday's return match at Chicago.

He also was fined a total of $75 for drawing misconduct and game misconduct penalties in the Bruins-Rangers game.

Conway Plans Campground Development

The Conway Hotel Co. of Appleton announced today the purchase of 15 acres of land in Door County for the construction of a campground.

The Conway Co. holds the development franchise for eastern Wisconsin for Campgrounds of America, a national chain of campgrounds presently comprising over 150 properties.

"Camping is the fastest growing segment of the travel market and we feel there is a real need for standardized, first class accommodations for camping families," President John Conway said. "Our experience in serving the traveling public makes campground operation a logical diversification for us."

The door County site is two miles north of Egg Harbor on State 42. It will feature a swimming pool, playground, store, and modern central building serving 100 campsites.

The Conway Co. plans development of the site at the rate of one or two per year. All will be under the Campgrounds of America franchise.

Menasha Youth Sentenced on Theft Count

CHILTON — David Houk, 19, route 2, Menasha, was placed on a year's probation to the State Department of Public Welfare and sentenced to 2½ months in the Calumet County Jail under the Huber Law Monday by Calumet County Judge D. H. Sebor. Houk previously pleaded guilty of theft.

He was arrested after taking $165 from his father's business establishment and admitted the charge when he appeared Jan. 31 in Calumet County Court. He was held in jail in lieu of $200 bond.

He waived a preliminary hearing and sentencing was delayed while the State Department of Public Welfare conducted a presentence investigation.

The court ordered he make restitution of the $165 and pay court costs of $5.

TB Skin Testing Starts Next Week

KAUKAUNA — The tuberculosis skin testing program will get underway in Kaukauna schools next week with students from Holy Cross, Trinity Lutheran, Park and OTC Campus room to be given the test at 9 a.m. Tuesday, according to Mrs. Mary Yingling, city nurse.

Reading of the tests for these students will be Feb. 23. Nicolet and St. Mary students will be given the test at 9 a.m. Wednesday with readings on Feb. 24 and students at Quinney School will be given the skin test at 9 a.m. Feb. 28 with readings on March 2. St. Aloysius pupils will attend the Quinney clinic.

Tests are offered students in the first and second grades and seventh and eighth grades. The tests reveal whether a child has been exposed to an infectious case of the disease. Follow-up study may be required if reactions are positive, noted the nurse. Local doctors will be assisted by volunteers in giving and reading tests.

Where Will the Bombing Lead Now?

To the credit of the Johnson Administration, it made no promises about a bombing halt. To the contrary, Secretary Rusk's news conference explained in detail why the Administration felt it could not consider a halt until there was a sign of reciprocity on the part of Hanoi.

But it is a deep reflection upon the doubt in American minds concerning the news it gets from Washington that the day and a half respite was widely considered another effort to negotiate through a halt.

We learned that President Johnson made the last minute decision not to resume the raids but there was no explanation as to why. Belatedly the Administration has said it was to prevent there being any sign of American pressure on the talks in London between Premier Kosygin and Prime Minister Wilson. But why wasn't this said at the outset? The inescapable suspicion must be that the raids were halted because of some sign of a peace feeler but that it didn't materialize.

There have been so many reports through so many sources that the possibilities for negotiations do exist that it is hard to accept the Administration's rigid rejection. Perhaps the hope for an extended cease-fire was wishful thinking. It appears to be true that the North Vietnamese used the time to rush supplies and troops south although that was to be expected in any case and certainly the Americans and South Vietnamese were not completely idle as far as military preparations were concerned. Would not an American announcement that the raids were being suspended have been worth the risk at this juncture?

The pressure then would have been upon the North Vietnamese to react with the obvious implication that the opportunity might not come again. The halts did not work a year ago but that does not mean that they would not have encouraged negotiations this year.

From this distance it is impossible to know whether the raids are really important from the military standpoint or whether they have merely become an extremely costly matter of prestige. But it becomes more ominously clear that Vietnam is to have a military solution to a political problem and the aftermath is likely to have far-reaching implications for both Vietnam and the American influence in the world.

The Agency Shop Again

The most persistently disputed issue in Wisconsin labor legislation in recent times has evolved from the demands of the expanding and prospering public service employe unions for what they euphemistically call an "agency shop law."

Described more clearly, such a statute if enacted by the legislature and approved by the governor could require unwilling civil servants in local government and ultimately in the state government to support labor organization assessments against their own tastes, wishes and judgment.

Ironically enough, the demand for such legislation has become more persistent — it has been the No. 1 goal of the public employe union lobby for the last three legislative sessions — as unions have expanded their membership rolls, their dues income budgets, and their influence in the legislature and in other policy-making jurisdictions. The motivation for the measure is evident enough. There is a resentment among the union officers, and presumably among some union members, that the efforts of the unions in negotiating on wages and hours and working conditions in general can bring settlements that benefit the non-union civil servants as well as those who voluntarily join the organization and pay dues regularly for its support.

Why should there be a distinction between public employment and private employment in this regard, they demand?

What is wrong with a law that will permit the negotiation of "agency shop" agreements, with a two-thirds majority vote of the employes affected?

The distinction is a basic one. The contract between employers in the private economy and their employes involves only those two parties. A city, or a county, or a school district is an organ of the whole community, of the public. That is why the civil service codes have spread. A governmental unit ought to recruit the best, provide tenure, and insulate its employes from all private or non-public qualifications for employment. To demand that a man or woman who has qualified for his job in a fair and competitive testing should also pay for the support of a private organization against his will is to riddle the civil service concept utterly. It cannot logically be differentiated from a demand that the engineer join the Democratic Party, or the Republican Party, or that the teacher be required to support the Chamber of Commerce, as a condition for employment.

It was for these reasons that Gov. Knowles vetoed the agency shop proposal two years ago. It is one of the surprising ironies of the current political situation at the statehouse that the state labor relations board which is ostensibly a part of the executive department is urging the enactment of such a law nevertheless.

Bucharest Declaration Dead

The Bucharest Declaration subscribed to by all the Eastern European Communist countries just last summer sets out qualifications for any moves toward better relations with West Germany. But representatives of the same countries, meeting last week in Warsaw, no longer really abide by the specifications.

Presumably the meeting was called by the East Germans and Poles to try to slow down the enthusiastic haste with which some of their neighbors were accepting the invitation from Bonn's Chancellor Kiesinger for full diplomatic relations. Romania has already made the move while Hungary, Bulgaria and Czechoslovakia are expected to agree within a few weeks. But the official communication from Warsaw merely said that "a friendly exchange of views" had been held to discuss "efforts of the Socialist countries to lessen international tensions and strengthen peace, security and cooperation in Europe."

There was no re-stating of the conditions set forth in the Bucharest Declaration that East Germany had to be recognized by the West, that the Oder-Neisse River be accepted as Poland's western border or even that West Germany promise not to have any control over nuclear arms. Romania didn't even send its foreign minister as did the others. He was too busy taking a trip to Belgium.

Diplomatic recognition means better chances for trade with the West and it also means the possibility of less reliance upon the Soviet Union, both economically and politically. But even the Kremlin leaders have not opposed this trend or if they have they have recognized that it is impossible to stem short of force. And with the Russian-Chinese relations at an all time low, the Soviet leaders would just as soon have things as calm as possible on the western front.

Indian Conditions Discussed

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Feb. 9, 1867.

Hon M. L. Martin (of Green Bay) went to Washington last week with a delegation of Stockbridge Indians who are desirous of selling their lands in Shawano County, and locating in Kansas.

A memorial has been adopted by the Minnesota Legislature asking for the removal of the Chippewa Indians, and a similar instrument has been brought before the Wisconsin Assembly by Ex-Speaker Barron. It ought to pass.

Congress ought to do something for the Oneidas in this vicinity. They are nearly as civilized as the members of Congress.

They should be declared citizens of the United States by a resolution interpreting the "Civil Rights" enactment!

Then their lands should be divided up among them, say an eighty (80 acres) to each man, woman and child, and absolute title in the newly created citizens. The same humanitarian system might be pursued toward them in respect to taxation that our Legislature adopt with reference to the impovertised railway companies, for example, exempt their lands from taxation for five or ten years!

"The Family Album" was presented by the Seymour Woman's Club under the direction of Mrs. Lucille Droeger Hopkins, assisted by Mrs. A. W. Boyden. Dressed in old-fashioned costume, Mrs. Ted Nickodem was the reader, who introduced the 25 characters who appeared in the "album." Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Mell Miller, Mrs. Ralph Puls, Mrs. Norman Sainty and Mrs. Harry Thompson.

Shirley Foresman and Lincoln Schuerle were chosen for the lead roles in the Appleton High School senior class play, "Pride and Prejudice." Miss Ruth McKennan, head of the speech department was director.

An all-girl cast presented the one-act play "Gratitude" at Waupaca High School. All were members of the school dramatic club. Taking part were Patricia Feragen, Jane Barry, Lola Jean Morey, Yolanda Ginnetti and Geraldine Roberts.

A Mardi Gras Ball was planned for the next Saturday night at First Methodist Church, Neenah. Sponsored by the Couples Club, co-chairmen for the party were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mueller and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Safford.

Serving on the planning committee for a public forum on higher education in Wisconsin were Appleton League of Women Voters members Mrs. Abraham Sigman, general chairman, Mrs. Robert Griffiths, Mrs. Harold Ruth, Mrs. Kyle Ward Jr. and Mrs. Wallace Hill. Speakers for the event were to be Dr. Douglas M. Knight, president of Lawrence College; Carl G. Bertram, director of Appleton Vocational School, and George E. Gerald Van Hoof was president of the Outagamie County Bar Association and Thomas McKenzie was program chairman. State Sen. Gerald Lorge, Bear Creek member of the group, presented the association with a gavel used during the first three weeks of the current state legislative session.

Washington Paper-Work Jungle And Computer Now in Command

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

To the Washington Medicare computer Mrs. Anna Oberschultz of Detroit was "63." The machine scans the last two digits of a birthday year. It figured she was born in 1963 and much too young for Medicare. Mrs. Oberschultz, however, was born in 1863. Her daughter told officials her 103-year-old mother might not need Medicare for a while yet. She is in fine health. This is the kind of thing that bugs up the Great Society.

Taylor

Peering into the federal paper-work jungle, the House Post Office and Civil Service subcommittee finds that the government now has more than 2,600 computers chanting oratorios for the public welfare and hacking away at the people's privacy.

These wily animals with their long teeth and quick brains have a full-time potency of supplying Big Brother a stack of records 2,000 miles high every year.

Federal agencies now issue more than 360,000 forms and consume about 15 million copies annually. Some are actually a century old. For example, we're paying for one form that polices the question of how much it costs a cabbie to keep a hack horse in New York City. The paper-work jungle's answer is $110 per month and $20 to the blacksmith to nail on its shoes. Ah, well.

NAVY COMMANDS COWS

Another bevy of forms comes in from a U.S. naval officer in command of cows, publicized last fall. In 1911 a typhoid scare hit Maryland. The government took over an 800-acre farm near Annapolis to supply safe milk to the Naval Academy. The General Accounting Office has discovered that for at least 50 years wonderful milk could have been bought in the neighborhood. But, as for 56 years, this thing is still munching the taxpayers' money and the officer in charge still commands 310 cows, four bulls and 45 civilians on the public payroll — all duly accounted for in the Washington files.

Another form polices the question of how much the government is spending each year to control yellow fever. The figure was $45 million for 1966, although the United States has not had a single yellow fever death since 1917. About 250,000 civil servants are chiefly occupied with filing the forms into cabinets. These cover more than 25 million cubic feet of floor space. Just the executive branch has more than two million filing cabinets. And, as for the Defense Department, a New Jersey paper-clip manufacturing company's president recently stated to the New York World Journal Tribune: "We must be shooting the Viet Cong with paper clips, the orders are so enormous."

Nearly 80 per cent of the government's employes are in three departments: Defense, Post Office, and Veterans Administration. This is the densest part of the paper-work jungle.

But the Great Society's Internal Revenue Service alone has grown into an enterprise with 64,000 employes and 900 branch offices. The Department of Agriculture also does its fine share. In 1950 there was one Agricultural Department employe for nearly 125 farmers. In the Great Society there is one for every 63. At this rate there would be one bureaucrat in the department for every farmer by 1990.

$28 BILLION FOR FORMS

The House subcommittee mentioned above says we pay Big Brother $8 billion a year to handle the 15 million copies of the 360,000 forms. In addition, it costs us an estimated $20 billion a year to make them out. That's $28 billion in our cough-up, both ways.

For example, University of Maryland Prof. H. H. Hinrichs estimates that it costs the nation's retailers at least $300 million a year to account to Federal, state and local bureaus for the sales and excise taxes they collect.

Big Brother writes more than a billion letters a year. The approximate cost exceeds $15 billion. That's $1.50 per letter. The subcommittee states that greater brevity alone would save $200 million annually.

All this mounting horror is relieved only by a happy incident on January 20 at a Buffalo, N.Y., self-service, automated postal station. Martyn F. Cominsky pushed in a quarter to get a 25-cent stamp. Out poured 2,760 of the stamps. That gave Mr. Cominsky $690 in stamps for his quarter. If all we taxpaying peasants can just get this going nationally we may one day break even with the United States Government.

Wisconsin Report

Democrats Preparing To Take Hard Line On Knowles' Program

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Cuff notes of a statehouse reporter:

Ody Fish, the energetic chairman of the Republican State Committee, has devoted himself to party organization work for several years as a contribution to his friend Warren P. Knowles rather than out of a desire for rank and power in party affairs.

Wyngaard

It is generally felt that when Knowles steps out of politics, Fish will retire also. Thus some party men now feel it may be significant that Fish is not ruling out a candidacy for a second term as party chairman this summer when his first term expires. Does that mean he wants to be around in the event Knowles runs for office again next year? It is a good guess.

Democrats are prepared to take a hard line on the Knowles administration program this year, according to some revealing developments lately. They are declining invitations to co-sponsor some of the Knowles highway safety bills, to the surprise of some observers. They are also cool toward the presidential preference primary reform bill, in spite of the fact that it was drafted by a bipartisan commission which included some of the leading men of their party.

Assemblyman Gerald K. Anderson of Waupaca County, chairman of the heavily worked Assembly Judiciary Committee, has improved his committee's procedure considerably by scheduling major bills for hearing at definite times. Thus witnesses can avoid the burden of sitting around for long hours while other matters are being considered. They can plan their testimony with the assurance that it will be received at the time scheduled.

MAY DEFER NOMINATIONS

Watch for a proposal to defer

the nomination of Wisconsin members of the Republican national convention until the state party convention of next year. Under the usual procedure, the 1967 convention would make nominations for elections by the delegates to the national convention in the following year.

It is presumed, although no definite announcements have been made, that Robert L. Pierce of Menomonie and Mrs. Byron Ising of Oshkosh, will be candidates for renomination and re-election.

One of the most valued but least mentioned of the newer fringe benefits of Wisconsin legislators is the free telephone privilege. Members are able to keep in closer contact with their districts and their own home affairs than any of their predecessors in the history of Wisconsin lawmaking. With more secretarial and other help, legislators are approaching the status of other state government officials in perquisites beyond salary.

The idea of a local government "piggy-back" motor vehicle tax, often discussed in the legislature in other years, will be pushed with more vigor this year by the local government lobby as a measure of relief for local property tax pressures. Under the plan local governments could levy, at their option, an additional tax on motor vehicles domiciled within their boundaries, to be administered by the State Motor Vehicle Department which collects the regular fees on automobiles and trucks. The plan is to ask for a stiff increase, perhaps up to 50 per cent of the present $18 fee charge of the state.

The conviction is gradually spreading that in an era of high taxation of all other forms of property, the motor vehicle is in a conspicuously favored position.

Nearly everybody is persuaded that Sen. Jerris Leonard, the youthful new leader of the Republican State Senator majority, wants to run for higher office in an early year. But the best evidence of his preparations comes from the fact that he is busily stockpiling photographs with the assistance of a professional photographer who has several times been seen in action in the senate lately.

Strictly Personal

Good Teacher Must Also be Entertainer

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

At its highest level, the purpose of teaching is not to teach — it is to inspire the desire for learning. Once a student's mind is set on fire, it will find a way to provide its own fuel.

Harris

What made me think of this was a luncheon I attended at an Eastern College not long ago, given by the English department of the school. On my left sat a "sound" scholar who knew his field intimately. On my right sat a young whippersnapper who was glib, amusing and superficial. And it was evident that they loathed each other.

Now, of course, the ideal teacher is one who combines both traits: The power and diligence to master a subject thoroughly, and the ability to communicate his knowledge in an interesting and stimulating fashion. Unfortunately, not one teacher in a hundred meets this rigorous standard.

If we are forced to take our choice, I should prefer to have college students (undergraduates, at least) taught by the shallow scholar with zest, rather than by the "sound" scholar with dryness, dullness, and pomposity.

Children, for instance, do not "naturally" rebel against mathematics; they rebel against the terrible way it has been taught in the past. Much as a teacher may wince at the thought, he is also an entertainer — for unless he can hold his audience, he cannot really instruct or edify them.

Sound scholarship is necessary in the graduate school, which presumably has weeded out those of limited intellectual attainments. But undergraduates must first be made to feel that a subject is appealing and relevant to their concerns; unless this happens, they will not retain what they have learned 24 hours beyond examination day. Except for the professional schools, teachers should be chosen more for their personal attributes than for their scholarship: For if they cannot make their field seem exciting and challenging to young minds, then they are in the wrong profession, and should devote themselves to research or some other solitary occupation.

The teacher who knows all the answers is not always the one who knows the right questions to ask; the teacher who makes us want to find out the answers for ourselves is the only one who has genuinely contributed to the real end of education — which is, a lust for knowing.

Board Okays School Rental Of Village Hall

Agree on $800 Yearly for Use of Kimberly Facility

KIMBERLY — An $800 per year rental to the village for use of the village hall meeting room for the school's hot lunch program was approved by the board of education Tuesday.

The school district has been using the room for three years without charge. Complaints by others desiring to use the facility, which was not available during the school year, resulted in the rental agreement. As in the past the school district will furnish all janitorial service for cleaning the room after the noon meal.

Board members approved raising the cost of the hot lunch program five cents per meal or 25 cents a week after Myron Huth, business manager, reported the program was operating at a deficit. Cost for grade school children will now be 35 cents for a single meal or $1.50 per week. High school students will pay 40 cents per meal or $1.75 per week. New prices take effect March 6.

Kaukauna Teachers to Study New Area Reading Council

KAUKAUNA — The director of the reading clinic at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee will confer with teachers and educators here at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the new Quinney School to explore formation of an area reading council.

Dr. Arthur Schoeller will discuss a council to serve school districts between those served by Green Bay, Oshkosh and Stevens Point. The region would reach east to Lake Michigan.

Edna Palecek, reading consultant for the Kaukauna public school system, is coordinating the program. She has invited anyone interested in problems and research in teaching reading to elementary or secondary level children.

"A council, if established, would require three to four evening meetings during the school year with stimulating programs planned by council members," said Mrs. Norman Foxgrover, reading specialist in the Kaukauna system who is working with Miss Palecek.

Woman Advised To See Doctor After Accident

KIMBERLY — Miss Elaine Hovde, 1001 E. Glendale St., Appleton, was advised to see her family physician for a cut lip and bruised knees when the car she was driving collided with a truck about 8:55 a.m. Tuesday.

According to police, Miss Hovde was traveling south on Washington St. when her small foreign car collided with the back end of a truck driven by Kenneth Van Hoof, 3911 E. Wisconsin Ave., Appleton, who was waiting on Washington to turn onto Darby Road.

Just prior to the mishap the truck had splashed the Hovde vehicle's windshield full of dirt and the driver was bending to start the wipers when the accident took place, according to police. Damage was estimated at $360.

About $250 damage resulted about 4 p.m. Monday when a car being driven north on Maple Street by Leonard Zeegers, 82, 1008 E. Kimberly Ave., struck a legally parked car owned by Claude Roskom, 107 Barbara St.

AHS-W Has Most Graduates Attending Fox Valley Center

More Appleton High School West (AHS-W) 1966 graduates picked the University of Wisconsin-Fox Valley Center to start their college careers than students from any other high school.

A recent survey by the Center system registrar's office shows 629 seniors who graduated from AHS last spring, 67, or 10.7 per cent entered the center in September as freshmen. The percentage is lower than the 13.7 per cent of the 1965 graduating class who picked the center, but higher than the 1.4 per cent of Mequon's Caroline Academy, the 1956 class who began there.

New London, Oakfield, Shiocton, St. Mary Menasha, which had 23 of its 1966 class of 137 register at the center, led in percentage of seniors who chose the center, with 16.8 per cent, up from 15.8 per cent of the 1965 class in California, Michigan and an 1956, 7.2 per cent of St. Mary American high school in Germany. Menasha graduates went on to many.

A total of 211 freshmen registered last fall.

Teachers Honor Budget Schedule; Get $200 Raise on Jan. 1 1968

KAUKAUNA — The board of education Tuesday night approved increasing the base pay of teachers with a bachelor's degree from $5,350 to $5,550 per year for the period from Jan. 1, 1968 to September 1968.

Teachers are currently receiving a base pay of $5,300 per year, and the amount will be raised to $5,350 with the start of the 1967-68 school year. Teachers requested adjustment in the base pay in keeping with other schools in the area, but agreed to postpone the balance of the increase until 1968 and follow the set budget schedule for 1967.

Under the agreement, no teacher is to receive more than a $200 per year increase in 1968 and $50 was deducted from the gradually being phased out. Five bids were received on package insurance for the school system. Low bid of approximately $3,880 was awarded to the Egan Agency. The new package policy will take effect March 15, with the policy to be in the hands of board members for study by March 1. Board members indicated cost of insurance under the package policy is about one-half the cost previous schools in the district.

Board members voted to support the efforts of the Vocational and Adult School to secure financing for one additional classroom. It is anticipated federal aid will help finance the about 50 per cent of the project.

Valley Office Supply was granted the bid for seven typewriters at a cost of $125 each. Five bids were received, ranging from the low bid to a high of $185. Purchase of five reconditioned electrics from IBM was approved at a total cost of $1,417 and one electric typewriter was purchased from Scharf's, Green Bay, at a cost of $185.

Sell Land

Board members approved the sale of a 105 by 160 foot lot at St. Mary's Place for $3,500 to Ron Miller. Miller indicated plans to erect an apartment building on the site. He also was given an option to purchase a second piece of school property, 41 by 105 feet, on Sullivan Avenue at a price of $30 per front foot. Front footage is 41 feet. He has one year in which to take up the option.

The board voted to add an art class to the high school summer school program with the understanding that a minimum of 20 students be enrolled and the course approved by the curriculum committee.

The English department was authorized to permit students who qualify for specialized reading instruction to elect the reading laboratory on a five-day week basis as an English credit course for one semester.

Combine Course

Personal typing and note taking, formerly separate semester courses, were combined into a year course to allow more practice on skills. A 1-semester course in mass communication for the average or below average student was approved.

Thomas Nytes, business manager, was instructed to secure bids on a three-quarter ton truck cab and chassis, after which the board members will determine whether it is feasible to add this type of truck to the fleet of school vehicles.

A request by the student council for seats along the walls in the student commons was rejected. Members felt such a move was not practical as it would tend to disturb students in area classrooms, would hamper production of school plays in the area and would not blend with the aesthetic nature of the commons.

Walter Schmidt, high school principal; Dominic Bordini, vocational school director; Ronald Margelofsky, business administration instructor, and Nytes were authorized to investigate the possibility of the school utilizing computers for programming and scheduling of students.

Donald Green, city attorney, was requested to appear before the next meeting of the board to discuss differences in a unified and city school system. The resignations of Miss Jean Peterik, third grade teacher, and Miss Carolyn Kowalski, high school English teacher, were accepted. Resignations are effective at the end of the school year.

Board members approved the expulsion of three sophomore boys for the remainder of the semester, for breaking school rules.

Commerce, Labor Departments Aren't Only Units in Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's third major cabinet reorganization plan apparently will be much more than a simple merger of the Commerce and Labor departments.

The administration reportedly is shooting for a broad new department based on economic affairs and economic development.

Details of the proposal are expected to go to Congress within three weeks.

Administration sources said Wednesday no definite decisions have yet been made on the related agencies to be included in the new proposed department. Details of the reorganization are in the hands of a five-man task force which has yet to submit a final plan to the White House. One source said thinking has been shifting almost daily.

In his state of the union message, Johnson proposed establishing a new Department of Business and Labor. Officials now say that name has been dropped although a new name has not yet been selected.

"By combining the Department of Commerce with the Department of Labor and other related agencies, we can create a more economical, efficient and modern instrument to serve a growing nation," Johnson said.

A key phrase in that remark, it now develops, is "other related agencies."

There has been talk of possibly including in the proposed department such independent agencies as the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, the National Mediation Board, which handles railroad cases, and the Small Business Administration.

Part of the Office of Economic Opportunity, especially the job and manpower aspects, has also reportedly been discussed for possible inclusion as have the manpower retraining projects of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Opposition to the basic plan outlined last month was both immediate and adverse from labor and management.

And the idea is likely to stir more controversy on Capitol Hill than Johnson's two previously successful Cabinet organization efforts — creation of the Department of Housing and Urban Renewal and the Department of Transportation.

The possibility also has been raised that some agencies might be included in the plan for bargaining purposes in reaching any final compromise — if Congress first accepts the basic theory of consolidating the Commerce and Labor departments.

The Commerce Department, which includes the Census Bureau, collects more statistics than any government agency.

The Labor Department also does its share of gathering statistics compiling, among other things, the cost-of-living index.

Kiel, Sheboygan Falls Men Die As Light Plane Crashes at Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — A single-engine airplane slammed into wood towers at 5701 Sheridan Road, and the Horizon House, a moving vehicles, the witnesses dense fog today and the two men aboard the plane were killed.

They were identified by police as Clarence Elliott, about 35, of Kiel, Wis., the pilot, and Charles Brickner of Sheboygan Falls, Wis. The identifications were made from personal papers found in the plane's wreckage.

The plane virtually disintegrated, scattering sections over a 200-foot-square area of Sheridan Road along the Lake Michigan shore.

Lists Plotters Against Mao

Lin Publicly Accuses Liu

TOKYO (AP) — Red Chinese Defense Minister Lin Biao has accused President Liu Shao-chi and Communist party Secretary-General Teng Hsiao-ping of being the wire pullers in a plot against Mao Tse-tung last year, wall posters in Peking said today.

It was the first public attempt to implicate Liu and Teng in the alleged plot and could foreshadow harsher attacks against the two men who are considered Mao's chief political foes.

Earlier posters have accused the former mayor of Peking, Peng Zhen, and several high-ranking officers of involvement in the coup attempt.

Lin, considered Mao's political heir, also cited as plotters the former chief of staff, Marshal Lu Jui-ching, Yang Shan-kun, member of the secretariat of the party Central Committee, and Lu Ting-yi, former chief of the propaganda bureau of the Central Committee. They were all accused in a Feb. 1 poster.

Lin was reported to have said: "If we had not crushed them, they would have crushed us." He said Mao took "several measures" to prevent "counter-revolutionary political changes" several months before launching his cultural revolution in August 1966.

Lin said the measures included redeployment of troops. The pro-Mao radio in Nanchang, capital of Jiangxi Province, claimed that forces loyal to Mao have "smashed a frenzied attack" by opposition forces in the turbulent province.

The broadcast said the anti-Maoists, tried to seize control of the public security bureau at Nanchang.

"Officers and men of a military unit exercised proletarian dictatorship over the counter-revolutionary elements and smashed their frenzied attack," the broadcast said.

Kiangsi has been in turmoil since mid-January, when Nanchang radio first reported that anti-Mao provincial officials were heading an army of peasants, workers and former members of militia units. In another development in the mainland turmoil, supporters of Mao reportedly offered to hold peace talks with opposition forces in Inner Mongolia, recent scene of bitter fighting between followers and foes of Mao.

Offer Extended Japanese correspondents in Peking said the newspaper Inner Mongolian Daily reported that the peace offer was extended by the Military Commission of Red China's Communist Party and the state Council.

It said the two powerful councils had offered to send a plane to fly anti-Mao leaders to Peking for peace negotiations Feb. 6 after hearing that one student was killed in rioting in the autonomous territory bordering on the Soviet-allied nation of Outer Mongolia.

The paper did not indicate whether the peace offer was accepted.

The offer to negotiate with insurgents in Inner Mongolia followed reports that Mao's supporters had suffered bloody setbacks.

Lunar Orbiter Takes First Moon Pictures

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Lunar Orbiter 3 snapped its first pictures of astronaut landing sites on the moon today and a few hours later spokesmen said they were of "excellent quality."

The word came from a tracking station at Madrid, Spain, and was relayed to National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials at Jet Propulsion Laboratory here, who are controlling the flight of the 850-pound spacecraft.

One company of Koreans was moving into a mountainous Communist stronghold 11 miles north of Quang Ngai City when the North Vietnamese attacked them with mortars.

The Communists penetrated the Koreans' perimeter at one point, the spokesman said, but the marines counterattacked.

N. Vietnam Deaf To Kosygin Plea

Tass Says Bombs Hit Near Hanoi

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — U. S. jet pilots raced through a clear sky today for attacks on North Vietnam, screened through much of the winter by monsoon clouds.

A Tass dispatch in Moscow said squadrons flew over Hanoi and bombed and strafed "economic targets and populated areas in the provinces neighboring on Hanoi."

The U.S. Command, which ordinarily conducts briefings on air operations the day after they take place, declined to comment on the Soviet news agency's report. Tass, in a dispatch from Hanoi, said the Americans sped over Hanoi at noon and "heavy antiaircraft guns and bursts of rocket fire shook the sky."

Aground, South Korean marines reported victory in the biggest battle in recent months in Vietnam. They said they killed 243 North Vietnamese regulars in a three-hour fight through rice paddies about 340 miles northeast of Saigon.

In the Mekong Delta south of Saigon, Vietnamese authorities reported a combined army-ranger unit killed 56 Viet Cong in a pitched battle Tuesday. But in the Long Tau River — the main shipping channel into Saigon — 14 American sailors were wounded and one was missing when guerrillas sank one 80-foot U.S. minesweeper, badly damaged two others and fired on a fourth.

While the tempo of the ground war quickened, U.S. planes attacked transport routes in North Vietnam's panhandle area. Bad weather again was reported over most of the Communist north, and U.S. pilots relied on radar to guide them to their targets.

A Korean spokesman said two companies of Korean marines — about 400 men — took moderate casualties in the big battle this morning against an estimated 1,200 North Vietnamese attackers. The Koreans were pursuing the North Vietnamese tonight, he reported.

Mortar Attack One company of Koreans was moving into a mountainous Communist stronghold 11 miles north of Quang Ngai City when the North Vietnamese attacked them with mortars.

The Communists penetrated the Koreans' perimeter at one point, the spokesman said, but the marines counterattacked.

Another Demonstration

Spoofers Join SPOFF

PITTSBURGH (AP) — It was a complete failure for some 200 rebels without a cause at Carnegie Institute of Technology whose demonstration Tuesday failed to gain support.

No, it wasn't a protest against the Vietnam war, or the draft or for free speech. It was simply a demonstration against demonstrations.

"Our cause is clearly ridiculous as are most causes for which demonstrations are held," said Michael Diamond, 21, a senior electrical engineering major from Buffalo, N.Y.

But Diamond said that to demonstrate, his group had to protest something. So they demonstrated for the abolishment of Feb. 15.

The date was chosen, Diamond said, because it lacks any real significance.

Calling themselves the "Society for the Prevention of February Fifteenth — SPOFF" — the spoofers carried signs and sang to the accompaniment of bagpipes.

Michael Rubinstein, 20, a senior from Forest Hills, N.Y., called the date "a day that has slowed the march of progress, a day that is a month away from the Ides of March and two months short of income tax deadline."

Students tossed calendars into a can and burned them.

Turns Down Plan to Halt Arms Flow

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin urged North Vietnam's Communist rulers in vain to halt the flow of troops and arms to South Vietnam as one essential step to ensure peace talks, diplomatic informants said today.

These sources said the Soviet leader's advice made plain Hanoi's action — or even a promise of it — would be balanced by a guaranteed American military standoff.

The failure of President Ho Chi Minh's regime to respond positively and swiftly to Kosygin's prompting led to the resumption of American air raids on North Vietnam Monday, and thus to the failure of intensive Soviet-British peacemaking efforts during Kosygin's visit to Britain last week, the sources said.

Yet Prime Minister Harold Wilson and his key advisers apparently still hope North Vietnam's rulers may halt, or promise to halt, the dispatch of military reinforcements to South Vietnam and that this will activate an agreed Soviet-British peacemaking program.

Wilson told the House of Commons Tuesday:

"Peace Tomorrow"

"There is an initiative . . . a plan that I can't tell you about which could bring peace tomorrow and which requires a very small move to activate all the very complicated machinery that could bring us to peace."

The British also seem to be convinced, on the basis of what Kosygin has told them, that two of the chief factors behind Hanoi's failure to respond probably were these:

1. There are now around 100,000 North Vietnamese troops across the frontier operating in support of the Viet Cong. President Ho plainly does not want to leave them high and dry. Yet Kosygin is understood to have stressed that any cutoff of military supplies need not deprive

Board Delays Action on City Water Project

Supervisors Ask Board to Request State Intervention

An Outagamie County Board supervisor Tuesday morning received lukewarm reception to a proposal that the county step into the long-standing Appleton water dispute by requesting state assistance in eliminating "a serious health hazard" constituted by the present Fox River water source.

Supv. John R. Schreiter of Appleton called for cessation in planning of the proposed $4.5-$5 million pipeline to Lake Winnebago, and in its place institute "an orderly and effective enforcement of the state's new water law (Chapter 614)."

Schreiter also called for immediate bonding for construction of an addition to the city's water treatment plant to allow for a doubling of its capacity. Schreiter called it "an addition that should have been started two years ago..."

In a resolution presented at this morning's county board session, Schreiter and Supvs. Charles Wussow, G. Allen Bulboz and Patrick Mares, all of Appleton, asked that Corp. Counsel A. W. Ponath petition the Wisconsin Resource Development Board and the state attorney general "for assistance in eliminating a serious health hazard by the effective and immediate enforcement of Chapter 614 of Wisconsin laws of 1965."

The resolution stated that contaminants being introduced into that portion of the Fox River between Lake Winnebago and Appleton constitute a serious health hazard to city residents.

The resolution further asks that action be directed against those who are responsible for the introduction of the contaminants into that area of the river. Schreiter, who emphasized that he was making his remarks "as an Appleton resident" and not as a county board member, was critical of the actions of the Appleton Council concerning the water problem.

Schreiter called Chapter 614 "a model ordinance that is being copied by other states." He said his entire argument rests on the enforcement of the bill.

The board approved, by voice vote, an amendment by Board Chairman Sylvester Esler that the resolution be laid over for 30 days to allow for the obtaining of more information.

"We want to know if we're getting ourselves into something or not," Esler said.

The board chairman, after temporarily stepping down as chairman, said he did not think the Appleton water matter should become a concern of the county board and told Schreiter he did not believe the board should be criticizing Appleton for what it is doing. "We've never had such good relations with the city," Esler said.

Supv. Ervin Conrad of Shiocot agreed with Esler that the problem lies with the Appleton council and not with the board. He urged other-than-Appleton supervisors to vote against the resolution.

Kimberly Supv. Robert H. Weyenberg said it was his understanding that the state water law provides that if municipalities do not "clean up their own problems as of Jan. 1, 1968," the state will step in.

Esler said he will bring the resolution up for discussion Wednesday at a six-county meeting in Oshkosh, dealing with shoreline zoning and pollution abatement in the Fox River Valley.

2 Fined, Jailed At Chilton for Tavern Brawl

CHILTON — Two men were found guilty of charges stemming from a tavern brawl when they appeared Monday before Judge D. H. Sebor in Calumet County Court. Both were charged with disorderly conduct.

Donald K. Sweet, 21, Fond du Lac, is serving 35 days in the Calumet County jail. He may be released prior to this time if the $125 fine is paid.

Russell Higgins, 30, Fond du Lac, was fined $50 and costs for the same charge.

The incident occurred at Meggers Tavern late Sunday evening. Calumet County police were called after a fight developed.

New London Schedules Business Machine Class

NEW LONDON — Adult evening classes in business machine key punch operation will begin at 7 p.m. Feb. 27 at the high school.

Robert Witczak, instructor, said classes will be Monday evenings, and enrollment will be limited because of space. Persons interested are to register by contacting the business office at the school.

Zoning Barrier Removed to Assure High Cliff Project

Supervisors Okay Reclassifying 33.4 Acre Tract for Recreation

CHILTON — All zoning barriers blocking development of the largest recreation land project in Calumet County's history have been removed.

The final step came Tuesday when the Calumet County Board voted to accept recommendations of its zoning commission to shift 33.4 acres near High Cliff State Park from an agricultural to commercial classification.

The property concerned is owned by Francis Schneider, route 1, Menasha.

Planned for the rezoned area is the commercial complex — supper club, motel and service store — for a $5 million to $6 million development. The overall project, spreading over more than 400 acres, will include golf courses, lakes, skiing, and riding facilities and an extensive estate-type real estate development.

In other action, the board approved purchasing an additional $900 radio unit to be rented by the Calumet County Hospital ambulance. The decision followed a report on the service.

Contact System
The rental charge will be $37.50 per month. Fred Eggers, hospital administrator, said the radio would make it possible for ambulance operators to be in contact with the sheriff's office and for the hospital to be alerted.

Backup Service
Expenditures are expected to be $12,000 the first year and $9,000 the second. The program will be evaluated annually, and charges to participating areas changed accordingly.

Kiel and Brillion ambulances will provide back-up service in case the county ambulance is out of the area on another run.

Board members okayed the request of Sheriff Irvan Vice to purchase three walkie talkie sets at a cost of $450 and of a "bull horn" for $120. Vice said the equipment was essential to riot or mob control.

Authorization was given for sending two new Calumet County traffic policemen to the Green Bay police training school.

Green Bay had offered to accept Calumet County men without charge. The county will pay their salaries while they attend the four-week school.

In other action supervisors: — Classified 40 acres of tax deed property in the Town of New Holstein as brushland and sold it to the Wisconsin Conservation Department for $600.

— Ordered an additional 10,000 additional county brochures.

— Decided the $2.50 fox bounty would be paid only to county prochures.

— Voiced opposition to Bill S42 which would create a post of county assessor to replace municipal assessors in municipalities of less than 10,000 population.

— Heard William Morris, executive director of the Wolf River Basin Regional Planning Commission, re-emphasize advantages of commission membership for Calumet County.

Cost the first year would be $3,900. The board took no action.

— Established a planning committee to undertake a comprehensive plan. No planning firm has been selected to formulate the plan.

Waupaca Board Endorses Valley Vocational District

Last to Vote on Program

WAUPACA — The state-approved area vocational - technical - adult education school district alignment won Waupaca County Board approval Tuesday.

The vocational school plan, which has already passed the State Legislature, will go into effect July 1, 1968. The area in which Waupaca County has been placed also includes Calumet, Outagamie and Winnebago counties. The three other counties involved in what has been designated Area 12 have already endorsed the program. D. J. Bordini, director of the Kaukauna Vocational School, told the board.

What action the board of supervisors took on the school organization would not affect the program in any way, but an approval does indicate that board supervisors support the plan on an area basis. By giving approval to the resolution, the county is entitled to name a member to a new board that will govern the school.

A small portion of the Wittenberg School District is situated in Waupaca County and county approval of the program means that this portion of the Wittenberg district will remain in Area 12.

The entire program and proposed plans for the new vocational school were explained by Bordini and Eugene Lehrmann, assistant director of the state vocational educational program.

All school boards in the county have approved joining area 12, Bordini said.

Basically the adult vocational school would offer post-high school technical training and issue a two-year associate degree, and also offer a large selection of vocational subjects on a one-year or apprenticeship basis.

The school would be supported from the county equalized or school district tax base and would offer an education to between 17 and 20 per cent of the 4,675 high school graduates of the 25 districts within the four-county area. Location of the school has not been determined, Bordini said, but it will be near the largest concentration of students.

BEAR CREEK — The Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid Society will sponsor a chili supper Sunday, April 2, at the church parlors. Final plans were made during Thursday evening's meeting.

Illinois Firm Gets Pact

Brillion Plans Elm Spraying

BRILLION — Elm trees in the city will be sprayed before April 1 to help prevent the spread of Dutch elm disease, according to an agreement Monday between the city and the Fowler Tree Surgery Co. of Elgin, Ill.

An elm tree count made several years ago by Glenn Campbell, public works director, shows there were 59 elms on public property, 15 on city-owned or leased property, 177 trees in Horn Park and two in the cemetery. Several elms in Horn Park were removed since the count was made and some land containing elm trees has been annexed. The approximately 255 elms will be sprayed individually for $2.70 each, according to Harold Fowler, owner of the firm, who attended Monday's city council meeting.

Fowler stressed the fact that spraying kills the beetle that carries the destructive Dutch elm disease fungus. It is not a "one year process" that eliminates the disease," as many people believe. Repeated sprayings are advised, Fowler said.

Private Spraying
Elm trees on private property — about 350 trees according to Campbell's count — will be sprayed when Fowler's equipment is in the city if residents privately owned elm trees, and billing will be directly with the city clerk's office. Cost to individual residents will be 35 cents per inch of tree trunk diameter measured four feet above ground level. The Fowler firm sets a $4 minimum on property owner.

In other action the council adopted two ordinances which changed the mobile home and mobile home park regulations in the city. The two changes pave the way for the Brillion Iron Works Inc.'s 50 to 60-unit mobile home court. Ground breaking is expected in the spring on the 5½ usable acres of the 18-acre tract.

On recommendation of the police and fire commission, a fire phone will be installed in the Reese Drive-In because it is open 24 hours a day. This brings to seven the number of fire phones the Brillion Volunteer Fire Department has in the city.

Seeking Director
The city is advertising for a summer recreation director and the Jaycees were granted permission to remodel the Horn Park pavilion, according to a park and recreation commission report.

Spring Creek, within the city limits, will be cleaned before the frost goes out, if final arrangements are made after several bills are paid, according to a report given Tuesday by Mrs. Richard Larson. The Larsons were co-chairmen of this year's dance.

Eighty-seven tickets were sold this year, compared with 97 sold last year, but the patron donor list was substantially larger this year. Patron contributions totaled $289 this year.

All proceeds will be used to defray expenses involved in sponsoring an AFS student.

Brillion AFS Charity Ball Nets $849

BRILLION — Proceeds from the second annual American Field Service (AFS) charity ball totaled $849, the same as last year.

Final exact tabulations will be made after several bills are paid, according to a report given Tuesday by Mrs. Richard Larson. The Larsons were co-chairmen of this year's dance.

Eighty-seven tickets were sold this year, compared with 97 sold last year, but the patron donor list was substantially larger this year. Patron contributions totaled $289 this year.

Board Seeks Trial Night Meetings

As "a test of public reaction," the Outagamie County Board will hold a night meeting — probably in May.

The suggestion was made Tuesday morning by Board Chairman Sylvester Esler who indicated he would like to have the night meeting in March.

However, the next meeting date, March 14, is Government Day for schools, and pupils will be on hand to observe the functionings of county government — including the board.

A night meeting on that date would work a hardship on the government day program, supervisors said.

Elections and committee appointments will be held at the April board meeting, thus necessitating a longer-than-usual session.

Esler said he believes the county should try night meetings at least a couple of times a year. Several supervisors have tried in the past to start a night meeting schedule, alleging that it would allow for more public participation in county government.

Truck Hits Tree Near Waupaca

WAUPACA — Damage in excess of $600 resulted when a truck driven by Dale H. Wendt, 23, Star Route, Weyauwega, went out of control and struck a tree at 1:45 p.m. Monday eight miles southwest of here on Rural Road.

Wendt, who was driving a Weyauwega Union Co-op truck loaded with corn, was traveling north when he lost control of the truck on a curve, county police said. Wendt escaped injury.

Girl Scouts Entertain Rest Home Residents

AMHERST — Brownie Scouts, Juniors and Cadettes provided a Valentine party Sunday for patients at Stratton's Rest Home in Nelsonville.

The girls, accompanied by leaders Mrs. Donald Ebsch, Mrs. Ed Piotrowski, Mrs. Lyle Millius and Mrs. Louis Pomeroy, provided entertainment, served lunch and presented tray favors to all of the residents.

County Denies Negligence

Hilbert Widow Claims Damages in Husband's Death

Outagamie County supervisors Tuesday morning denied a claim alleging the county and the Town of Grand Chute were negligent in a Sept. 14 accident that killed a rural Hilbert man.

The widow of Melvin Mittelsteadt presented a claim for damages to the county in connection with a one-car accident about 11:20 p.m. on French Road, just south of U.S. 41.

Mittelsteadt, who was alone in the car, was killed almost instantly when the auto went off the road, tipped over on top of him and burned.

Mrs. Mittelsteadt and her attorney contended that the collision happened by reason of insufficiency or want of repair (of the roadway) and negligence on the part of the county and the town.

The complaint by Mrs. Mittelsteadt did not state an amount of damages being sought.

The county board's executive committee had recommended denial of the claim, stating that investigation of the facts does not indicate any negligence on the part of the county.

The recommendation received unanimous board approval.

County Employees May Soon Be Punching Time Clocks

If an Outagamie County supervisor has his way, county employees will have to begin punching time clocks.

Supv. John R. Schreiter won county board approval to have the executive committee study the time clock proposal.

Schreiter said at Tuesday morning's board session that he Clarence Miller, remarked, is disturbed by what he said is a "Pretty soon you'll have the situation whereby some employees are coming to work late and leaving early."

"I see it every day," Schreiter said. He did not mention names of persons or departments and discussion on the matter was brief.

His motion was seconded by Supv. Charles Wussow of Appleton.

Waupaca Boards Sets Uniform Allowance For Radiomen, Jailers

Refers to Committee Salary Increase for New Patrolmen

WAUPACA — A resolution to grant a salary increase to beginning county traffic patrolmen was referred to the finance and salary committee and another resolution giving sheriff's department radio operators and jailers a uniform allowance passed the Waupaca County Board by a narrow 15-14 vote.

An attempt to send both of the resolutions to the finance and salary committee was defeated. Sheriff William Mork favored the uniform allowance and said that radio operators and jailers are the first to come in contact with visitors to the sheriff's office and should be in uniform. The resolution passed will give each of the four radio operators $75 a year for uniforms. The uniforms will not include heavy

EWC Scoring Race Changes Only Slightly

Ken VerGowe Holds Lead; Chilton's Don McHugh Fifth

CHILTON — Most individual scoring positions in Eastern Wisconsin Conference basketball race regained the same after the smoke cleared from the league battles on Friday night.

Ken VerGowe, defending scoring champ, increased his first place margin to 43 points with his 32-point effort over New Holstein while second place holder, Jack Capelle, counted just 17 points in Kohler's loss to Oostburg.

Chilton's Don McHugh stayed in fifth place but is being pushed hard by a number of players including teammate John Hauser. Hauser was tied for seventh place with New Holstein's Wayne Mueller but dropped to eighth as Mueller outscored him by one point to claim seventh spot.

The top EW Conference scorers after 11 games:

outdoor clothing of the type required for traffic patrolmen. Mork said. Radio operators previously wore street clothes.

Supv. Woodrow Smith claimed that a uniform allowance is part of an officer's or radio operator's salary and should enter into salary negotiations. Mork disagreed.

Salary Increase

The law enforcement committee recently approved a recommendation for a salary increase from $375 to $390 per month for beginning patrolmen. It was stated by the committee that a higher salary would make the job more attractive to applicants. At that time the committee was seeking two new patrolmen, but it is now seeking only one patrolman since the reinstatement of Robert Starks who left the county patrol in January to join the State Traffic Patrol. Starks has now resigned from the state patrol and will resume his county duties Feb. 15.

In a finance and salary committee meeting Tuesday noon, committee members decided to have the salary increase referred back to the committee because they did not think it fair to grant increases to just a few members of the patrol. Salary increases should be considered for the entire law enforcement department, Smith said.

It was decided at the committee meeting that if the resolution was returned to committee it would be studied and brought back to the board in April.

43 Attend Archery Shoot At Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — Forty three persons attended the first indoor archery shoot Monday night at the junior high school gymnasium. The program is sponsored jointly by the Clintonville Bow Hunters and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post No. 664.

Instructions were given by John Schoenike. Chuck Krueger and Oward Kautz.

The top five scorers were Krueger with 262 out of a possible 300; Roger Muel, 252; James LeNoble, 246; Jerry Schroeder, 188, and James Lindow, 185.

The public archery program will continue on Monday nights at the junior high school gymnasium. The only fee is 25 cents per night per person for the cost of the targets.

Truck Pulls From Curb, Hits Car; Damage $175

Saturday's Games:
Winneconne at Weyauwega.

Waupaca High School, with the Central Wisconsin Conference championship safely tucked away, will close out its league action when it travels to Manawa for a Friday night encounter.

Other conference games will find Weyauwega at Wittenberg and Amherst at Jola-Scan. A non-conference game for Saturday night will have Winneconne, Little Nine Conference leader, at Weyauwega.

The Comets, of Waupaca, have a glossy, 11-1 conference record outscored at the free throw line compared to a 4-7 mark for the Wolves.

In the first meeting between the two teams this season, Waupaca rolled to an 82-37 victory. The Comets also had an easy time posting a 76-45 win over Wittenberg last weekend.

Attention has centered on the battle for second place. Jola-Scan, Scandinavia and Weyauwega are tied with 7-4 record and Marion is still in contention with a 7-5 slate. Neither I-S or Weyauwega is expected to have too much competition.

Lion's Essay Winner Is Guest at Weyauwega

WEYAUWEGA — Miss Sharon Van Airdale, winner of the Peace Essay Contest, was a guest of the Weyauwega-Fremont Lions Club, sponsors of the contest, Monday.

She was awarded a U.S. Savings Bond and a certificate for her essay entitled "Peace Is Attainable".

Miss Van Airdale's essay will, along with others, be submitted to Lions International Headquarters for further competition.

New London To Add Four New Teachers

NEW LONDON — Hiring of two elementary teachers and the addition of two teachers to the junior high school staff for the 1967-68 school term was approved Monday by the board of education.

Hired were Miss Borg Nyne, a senior at Wisconsin State University-Stevens Point, and Mrs. George Murphy, 1801 Smith St., a graduate of the University of Hawaii. Miss Nyne was a practice teacher in the New London system the first semester.

The addition of four teachers will raise the teaching staff of the district to 114 in 1967-68.

The resignation of Mrs. Gloria Probyn as girl's physical education instructor was accepted. The resignation is effective at the end of the current school year.

Chairman Named for Anti-Measles Drive

MANAWA—Mrs. Willis Gensler, Clintonville, was appointed Monday by the Waupaca County Association for Retarded Children as publicity chairman to work with the Jaycee organizations in the coming "Stamp Out Measles" campaign.

The campaign begins April 1. It will be co-sponsored by the State Association for Retarded Children.

Shiocton Board Considers New Street Lighting

Plan Calls for Changeover to Mercury Vapor Units

SHIOCTON — Results of a new street lighting survey have been presented to the village board.

Parker Schultz, representing the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co., told of the community's needs in switching from an incandescent to a mercury-vapor lighting system.

The present 54 lights in the village would be increased to 113 to provide nine times more light.

The board decided to further study the recommendations and possibly consider a gradual changeover. The changeover would be made at no cost to the village, Schultz explained.

Municipal Justice Wallace Schoepke recorded the following offenses and court activities in his annual report.

Parking violations, 21; speeding, 12; arterial violations, 5; imprudent driving, 5; inattentive driving, 3; no driver's license, 2; illegal parking at a fire, 4; and illegal passing at intersection, 1.

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — With an eye upon the worried executives of some of the principal Wisconsin cities, the legislature's Joint Finance Committee Tuesday gave a green light for speedy legislative approval of a study in depth of state aids to localities, the distribution of shared taxes, and the financial dilemma of local governments.
The blue ribbon commission of citizens and legislators will also be asked to examine the possibility of reform in the structure of state and local governments. The study also may provide a forum for the development of some services, and the consolidation or elimination of unnecessary governmental structure. According to the argument of Tax Commissioner James R. Morgan, that if the localities of Wisconsin intend to rely more heavily upon state financial subsidies, the state has an obligation to provide an assurance that local government is efficiently and economically organized.

Thus the idea of optional forms of county government, more effective county administration through an executive plan, more joint administration of county services, the elimination or consolidation of smaller town governments, among others, may be reviewed by the study commission.
The resolution calls for a first report with conclusions early in 1968, which evidently means that the present legislature does not intend to consider whatever findings and recommendations may follow the investigation.
The study also may provide a forum for the development of some services, and the consolidation or elimination of unnecessary governmental structure. Accord-

Large Wants Hearing

Legislative Move to Regulate Snowmobiles Runs Into Problems

MADISON — A legislative measure to investigate possible regulation of snowmobile use in Wisconsin struck an iceberg Tuesday when it confronted state Sen. Gerald Lorge, R-Bear Creek.

The joint resolution calling for the legislative highway committees to hold hearings throughout northern Wisconsin on the regulation and classification of snowmobiles and their operators was delayed in what had started as being a speedy trip through the Legislature.

Lorge contended that the resolution had been passed by the state Assembly without even the formalities of a public hearing or a roll call vote, and objected when a similar attempt was made in the Senate.

Unique Hearings Lorge contended that the measure, which calls for the holding of unique public hearings throughout the state on a series of 15 questions regarding the regulation of snowmobile usage, would be seriously detrimental to a snowmobile manufacturer in Manawa in his senatorial district.

Sen. Reuben LaFave, R-Oconto, contended that Lorge's demand that a Senate hearing be held on the resolution would delay the holding of the public hearings that Lorge claimed to favor.

Holding hearings throughout the state, LaFave said, would allow a greater number of persons interested in the subject to appear on the matter.

Lorge won his request that the resolution be sent to the Senate highway committee, of which LaFave is chairman, rather than being placed on the Senate calendar, which would have allowed the upper house to deal with it within the next few days.

Holding a legislative hearing will delay the measure considerably.

Lorge said that the questions listed for consideration through the hearing process throughout the state would by their nature lead to decisions harmful to the snowmobile industry.

LaFave contended that state legislation is greatly needed, as few regulations of the use of the new form of vehicle exist. There have been many reports of dangerous driving of the snowmobiles, LaFave said.

The questions ask whether the vehicles should be regarded and classified as motor vehicles in the state, whether licenses should be required for their operation, and what regulations should be placed on their use and equipment in such cases.

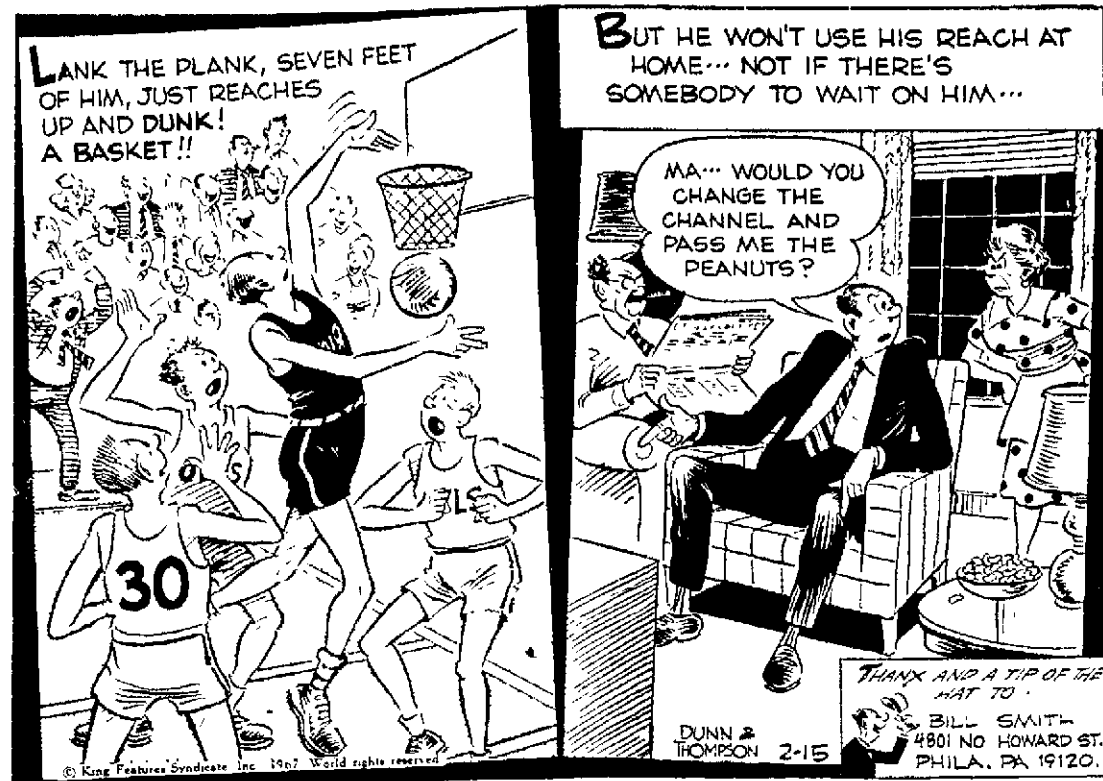

The resolution also asks whether local governmental units should be given powers of regulation of the vehicles.

Situation Must Still be Worked Out

Giants to Get Quarterback Pick in College Grid Draft, Rozelle Admits

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A rumor that the New York Giants will get the pick of quarterbacks in this year's draft has been given a degree of substance, if not clarification.

National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle said Tuesday, "There is some validity to the reports."

He added, "We don't know now just what is going to happen. It's just not clarified."

Rozelle is here in conjunction with the annual meeting of the American Football League, which he will oversee as well as the NFL after the two pro loops merge in 1970.

Normally, first choice in the annual draft of college players would go to the NFL's newest club at New Orleans. The Giants, as the team with the worst record last season, would get second pick.

Work It Out The whole thing will have to be worked out, Rozelle said, after the NFL meets in Honolulu next week.

AFL owners, general managers and coaches took this afternoon off to play golf. Milt Woodward, league president rehired for three years, said it was "the first time in the seven-year history of the league that we've been able to take a break for golf."

The AFL executives are trying to bring their players' pension plan in line with that of the NFL. No inter-league trade.

Geoffrion Given Suspension, Fine For Altercation

TORONTO (AP) — Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion's explosive Gallic temper has cost the high-scoring veteran the third enforced vacation of his 15-year National Hockey League career.

Geoffrion, who has come out of a two-year retirement to spark the New York Rangers' resurgence in the NHL this season, was suspended Tuesday night for three games by league President Clarence Campbell for an altercation with a linesman in last Wednesday night's Rangers-Boston Bruins game.

The 35-year-old right winger, who has netted 14 goals and 20 assists for New York, will miss tonight's game at Toronto, Saturday's home game against the league-leading Chicago Black Hawks and Sunday's return for the Bruins-Rangers game.

He also was fined a total of $1,000, also are being obtained from the Michigan District, $75 for drawing misconduct and from memorial gifts and from game misconduct penalties in the students themselves.

Scott Scores Upset Win in Tennis Meet

Pasarell, Ashe Win; Drysdale To Face Riessen

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — Top singles players went into the third round of the U. S. Indoor Tennis Championships today with seven of the eight seeded players in strong contention.

The exception was Istvan Gulyas, the No. 4 foreign seed from Hungary. Gulyas, a strong clay courts player, was upset by unseeded Gene Scott of St. James, N.Y., 6-3, 6-4.

Scott, a consistent indoor player, upset top-seeded Dennis Ralston in the U. S. Indoor last year.

Today he'll face Stanley Smith of Pasadena, Calif. Smith defeated Jose Luis Arilla of Spain, 7-5, 6-3.

The remainder of the seeded players moved forward without difficulty. Top domestic seed and defending champion, Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico, was to meet Torben Ulrich of Denmark.

Pasarell knocked off Graham Stilwell of England, 6-4, 6-4, in the second round.

Easier Time The No. 2 seed, Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., had an even easier time with Mike Green of Philadelphia, winning, 6-2, 6-1. Today Ashe was to meet Preetjit Lal of India.

Cliff Drysdale of South Africa, the No. 1 foreign seed faced unseeded but tough Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill. Drysdale pulled out a 7-5, 7-5 victory over Manuel Orantes of Spain after the youngster got off to a surprising start.

Orantes, the youngest player in the tournament is barely 18. A southpaw, he surprised Drysdale by breaking his serve twice in the second set for a 4-0 lead before the South African prevailed.

The No. 3 American seed, Clark Graebner of Beechwood, Ohio meets Lief Beck of King of Prussia, Pa., today and the third round opponent for No. 4 seed Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., is Mark Cox of England.

Of those who advanced, Richey had the toughest time, needing three sets to outlast Yugoslavian champion Nikola Pietic 10-8, 8-10, 6-4.

Senator Will Talk On National Crime

Speaker at Lawrence Member of Committee Now Having Hearings

United States Sen. Birch Bayh, D Indiana, will address a student convocation at 10:40 a.m. Thursday at Lawrence University's Memorial Chapel.

Bayh, a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, will speak on "Crime — A New National Danger." His talk will be open to the public.

The 39-year old Bayh, recognized as one of the "young, new breed" of legislators, went to the Senate after defeating 18-year veteran Homer Capehart in the county's major upset of the 1932 elections.

Authors Amendment Appointed chairman of the Senate subcommittee on Constitutional amendments in his first year, Bayh authored and guided to passage the recently ratified 25th amendment which deals with presidential inability and filling a vacancy in the office of vice president.

Bayh is presently holding hearings on law enforcement endeavors and their relation to the Constitution. In addition to his work with the subcommittee, Bayh has been an articulate spokesman for measures dealing with crime, juvenile delinquency and civil rights.

Bayh began his political career in 1933 at the age of 25. A farmer, and later an attorney, he graduated in 1951 as Purdue University's outstanding agriculture student. He first served the Indiana House of Representatives in 1955. He was chosen House minority leader in 1957, speaker of the house in 1959, and rounds leader again in 1961 to 1966. Waupaca Asks To Meet With FWD Officials is because the state has set a higher rate, which must be charged to towns, for work done by front wheel drive trucks, than for trucks with a rear wheel drive only. Supv. Harold Dushak, City of Waupaca, and a member of the highway committee, said FWD officials should attempt to have the state lower the rate, schedule for front wheel drive trucks. "It would not only benefit those in Waupaca County but throughout the state," he said.

The state rate, which the county is compelled to use, calls for $5.88 per hour for a non-front wheel drive truck which was purchased recently and $10.98 for the front wheel drive truck, Christenson said.

Although he voted in favor of a conference of officials from the county and FWD, Hansen said he did not want to see the purchase of trucks and equipment for the county highway department taken out of the highway committee's hands.

A question of difficulty in securing parts for FWD trucks was also brought up. This was one of the problems that may be corrected through a conference.

Sturm said the county in no way wants to enter into a disagreement with the FWD, and it also wants to act in the best interest of the taxpayers of the county.

No time, date or place was mentioned for the proposed conference.

Bears Triumph in Final 3 Seconds On Pitt's Basket

Bonduel's Jack Pitt threw in a jump shot with three seconds remaining to give his team a 71-70 victory, and Seymour bounced Bay Port, 49-43, Tuesday night in Northeastern Wisconsin Conference games.

Bonduel's triumph, their third in 14 league games, was the second at the expense of Oconto, and both have been by 1-point margins. The Bears had to rally from a first half deficit of four points to come out on top.

Jim Betzner paced the winners with 23 points, as five Bears scored in double figures. Terry Maloney had 14 points to lead Oconto performers.

Seymour moved into a tie for fifth place. The Indians are now 6-8 in the conference. The turning point of the game came in the third period, when Seymour scored seven points and held Bay Port to two. The contest was tied at the half, 28-28.

Jim Danforth, of Seymour, led all scorers with 25 points, while Gary Van Laanen topped Bay Port with 14.

AAL Gives $1,000 to Concordia Seminary For Publication Fund

The School for Graduate Studies of Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, has received $1,000 for its publication fund, used to cover the cost of publication of scholarly writings by students and faculty members.

It is the third grant of that amount by Aid Association for Lutherans, since 1962. Dr. Carl S. Meyer, director of graduate studies, said the publication of the scholarly works not only benefits the school and seminary but contributes to a greater understanding and application of the subjects in the church at large.

Publication of research papers by staff members of Concordia Seminary, theses presented for advanced degrees by graduate school students, and projects completed under sponsorship and supervision of the school are financed from the publication fund.

Bear Creek '5' Clinches Tie For Crown

BEAR CREEK — A balanced scoring attack led Bear Creek High School to a 58-52 victory over Rosholt Tuesday night and the win assured Black Creek of at least a tie for the Wolf River Valley Conference title.

The Bruins now have a 9-2 record and will close out conference play against Bowler Friday. Rosholt dropped to a 7-3 mark. Overall Bear Creek has a 14-2 record.

Bob Spence had 15 points to lead the winners while Dick Schertz added 13 and John McClone had 12. Darrold Hawley was high for the losers, with 13 markers.

Bear Creek had a 33-24 lead at halftime but Rosholt sliced the margin to 39-36 at the end of three quarters. The Bruins had a 19-16 scoring edge in the final stanza.

Copies of the building, housing and zoning ordinances have been prepared and can be purchased at the city clerk's office for $1. City council members voiced disapproval of a bill being introduced in the state legislature whereby the office of the assessor would be under state jurisdiction. Under the bill, the assessor position would be abolished in cities under 10,000 population.

The city has been advised by letter from the Chicago office of the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) that a city housing code is necessary for recertification of the city's plan for community improvement. Brillion will fulfill this requirement, according to the mayor, John Roberts of the State Department of Resource Development will attend a future city council meeting to discuss procedures necessary for recertification.

A representative of the state retirement fund will attend the March 13 city council session to explain the retirement program. All city employees who work 600 or more hours a year are eligible to participate and will be asked to attend the meeting.

The Chicago and North Western Railway Co. may replace the old depot office in downtown Brillion. The new office would be a trailer - type compact building, according to a letter from the railroad company. The matter was referred to the city planning commission for recommendation.

Aldermen, anxious to "get the ball rolling" on a site selection for the planned $500,000 community recreation center and swimming pool, decided after some discussion to get the opinion of Candorh, Flessig and Associates, Inc. This firm was hired last month to update the city's 1962 comprehensive plan. The city has $88,000 set aside for the recreation center.

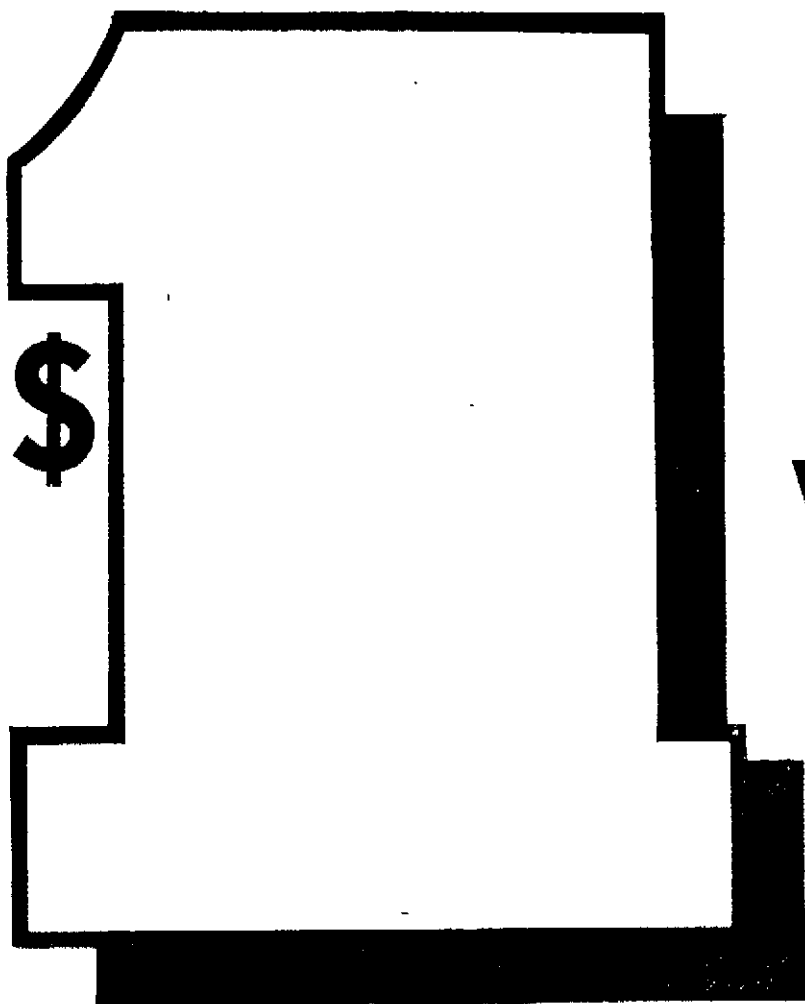

In final council business Lynn Williams, city clerk, reported that he has collected $100,512 in taxes. This is about 38 per cent of the total tax bills and includes postponed taxes, he said.

Factory Worker Who Fought Chilton Police Pays $125 on 2 Counts

CHILTON — Eugene Zierer, 25, W. Main Street, Chilton, arrested after battling city police, was fined $125 and costs after he pleaded guilty of drunkenness and disorderly conduct when he appeared Monday before Judge D. H. Seбора in Calumet County Court.

According to Calumet County authorities, Zierer reported to Products Co. at 4:45 p.m., Feb. 10 in a state of intoxication. Upon being asked to leave the premises he became abusive and a city policeman was called to the scene. Zierer fought with police before being subdued.

Tax Is Not on Oleo

But on It's Color

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Much of the public has been lead to believe that the tax on yellow oleo is a tax upon the poor man's butter. Oleo is not butter, and the tax is not on the product itself, but on the coloring matter. The oleo industry has available to it every color except yellow. When this tax is removed on colored oleo, we have no assurance that the price will be reduced. Most likely it will be absorbed by the oleo industry. The tax was not placed on yellow oleo for the purpose of raising revenue, but as a means of regulation to prevent fraud and deception.

Let's look at the record—Butter was made in the pastoral period of mankind and centuries before there was an agricultural industry. Butter is mentioned in Genesis 18:8—Butter was made when cows received their living from green grass before the days when grass was cured for winter feeding. Butter made when cows are on green pasture is always some shade of yellow, regardless of the breed of cattle. When made of all "Guernsey Milk", it is a deep shade of yellow without any coloring.

The extension of butter making brought forth the gathering of roughages in summer for winter feeding. Butter made from the milk when cows were sin. But, why do people object to the tax on yellow oleo? Why do people want yellow oleo, color oleo yellow and even go out of the state to buy it, other than that they want it because it looks like butter? Why not buy white oleo? Yellow coloring adds nothing to its food value. We have no problem with peanut butter. It is sold in its own clothes. We also believe oleo sold in its own clothes should have the tax reduced, but colored oleo tax should not be reduced and the colorant not removed.

Trade marks are universally protected. The government protects its paper money by preventing anyone from manufacturing paper with silk threads in it, or any other that resembles that which is used in printing its currency. Any one doing so, is an accessory before the fact to the crime of counterfeiting. Likewise, is not the person or manufacturer or person who imitates butter an accessory before the fact in an attempt to deceive or defraud? They should be held to the same legal accountability. What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. Producers and consumers should support the present law until a better law can be enacted to prevent deception and fraud.

This entire controversy boils down to the question of whether a competing spread shall be permitted to deceive the consumer by using butter's yellow color and other ways.

Criticizes Way New Schools Being Built

Editor, Post-Crescent

Judging by the conversation that has been going on lately about our school building situation makes me wonder why we are called "The Minority?"

There certainly are enough of us. My husband and I were the first freshman class of the then new Appleton High School. Now 29 years later we go by that school and marvel how beautiful it still is.

On the other hand when I go by the Seymour High School I think that it is the ugliest school that I have ever seen and the unattractive landscaping and unkempt grounds don't make it look any better. There is going to be more of the same added to it if this expensive building program goes through.

First of all if enough people could see the Seymour Grade School they couldn't help but notice that it is overcrowded and a firetrap. A flash fire could kill scores of children. So then why isn't the effort being made to build a new grade school first?

Why do all the school buildings nowadays have to be low rambling structures with a maximum of exterior walls and roofs and the extra expense of heating? These buildings are so low that they don't show all the money that has been spent on them. What has happened to a school with two or three stories? Maybe climbing all those stairs would be the exercise those children could use. There could be an elevator installed for moving equipment and individuals that need it.

Secondly I drive a school bus. Mine is the newest, a 1960 with seventy-thousand miles coming up shortly on it. We are getting one new school bus when we need six. The other five buses are definitely going to have to be replaced and soon. According to figures, these community owned buses are being operated less than by a privately owned service. There isn't a day that one or another of the buses isn't in the garage for repairs and maintenance and not a week goes by that the wrecker hasn't been called out for one that has broken down. I am for education but would like to see the money spent for good teachers and equipment. We taxpayers do have some extravagances but even some essentials look like extravagances. A farmer who wears satin overalls isn't fooling anyone. He isn't going to be able to do his work one bit better.

Please answer me if I am wrong or if there is anything else to add. I don't know the answers but then neither does anyone else.

Wrong Interpretation In Negro Newspaper

Editor, Post-Crescent

I noticed Milwaukee's Negro newspaper The Milwaukee Star has expressed editorial anger over the treatment given Harlem Congressman Adam Clayton Powell. The Star took... what I feel... is an unfair cut at Powell's critics when their editorial writer said it's "overnight proof that the most powerful Negro in the country, Adam Powell, held his power only as long as the white majority willed it." Such a statement is a disservice to whites. It distorts the whole Powell problem.

The trouble over Powell has nothing to do with civil rights. To say that Powell was sorted out for criticism because of his color is nonsense. It was his conduct in office that prompted his fellow lawmakers to take action against him. The Star is surely aware of this. They must know, too, that not all Negroes champion Mr. Powell. Cincinnati's respected Negro paper The Herald has thus to say "Adam, you are hurting the entire Negro community. When you disobey and denounce your oath of office, it makes it difficult to support you." I believe that many thoughtful Negro people agree with that kind of statement.

The cause of civil rights cannot be advanced by pussy footing on the issue of Adam Clayton Powell. And, the

Editor, Post-Crescent

In regard to the New London City Council tabling the request of the Library Board I agree with Alderman Kroll that the school libraries at the junior high and senior high are adequate and probably used to good advantage but what about the pre-school and primary age library patrons? If children learn to use the library at an early age they will do better in school and have a good reading habit that should serve them a lifetime. There are many facilities and activities small children could enjoy if there were more room in the library. If you consider combining the library and museum could a section on the ground level be made available for older adults or invalids. The steps now are few for healthy people but difficult for the elderly that could spend many happy hours in the library.

Justice for Everyone

Optimists Hear Director Speak On State Civil Rights Movement

"We're not interested in upsetting the apple cart, but in trying to obtain justice for everyone," members of the morning and noon Optimist Clubs were told Monday.

Speaking on human rights was Dr. G. Aubrey Young, director of the Governor's Commission of Human Rights, who gave background on the civil rights movement and explained some of the areas with which the commission is working.

"Justice should not depend on things a man can't help — like the color of his skin, his cultural background or his education," Dr. Young said.

Reason for Commission

That is why the commission was established and that is why we are trying to educate persons in the state that we can't make Wisconsin a better place to live unless we get rid of inequality, the speaker said.

"A great deal of effort goes into the job of trying to convince the people that the civil rights movement has a 70-year history and is not a movement 'Started by the Communists,' as some people believe," Dr. Young said.

"Throughout history we have seen such spectacles as the Negroes fighting the wars for this country. These were the men who shared the same ideas of liberty and justice," he said.

"Even in the 1880's laws regarding the Negro rights were passed.

It's true, they were not very effective, but the effort was there, nevertheless," Dr. Young said.

He also outlined some of the purposes and goals of the commission.

Communications, he said, is all-important because in this way thousands of persons can be reached at the same time.

Communications, however, means research, another important function of the commission.

It is also up to the group to keep the public informed on all new Wisconsin laws regarding human rights.

"Many people, especially those who run businesses, may be breaking the laws if they don't know what has been passed," the official said.

Recruit Backers

We also make an effort to speak out on vital issues of the day, he added, and as an example cited the visit of George Wallace, former Alabama governor, who came to the Wisconsin to recruit backers for his campaign.

"We wanted to make him realize his brand of racism is not welcome in Wisconsin," Young said.

The same thing is true of clubs discriminating against race and religious affiliations, he added.

The commission also works in the area of legislation as well as with the migrant and Negro and Indian people.

"In the past we have set up pilot summer schools for the migrant workers to prove it can be done and have established an informational center on the state of Indian affairs," he said.

Our big job, though, Young added, is to try for inter-agency cooperation; to spark special organizations into taking the lead in helping the minority groups.

Work is continuing with barber shops, cemeteries and resort and restaurant owners.

"Until we open all doors to all people we can't fulfill the promise imprinted on our maps of Wisconsin which state, 'recognition for everyone,'" Dr. Young said.

Clerk Won't Be Candidate

Leslie Stumpf Held Harrison Post For Past 12 Years

SHERWOOD — Leslie Stumpf, Town of Harrison clerk for the past 12 years, has announced he will not seek re-election April 4.

Insufficient time to do justice to the post, was the reason Stumpf gave for his decision. He is president of Stumpf Motor Co. Inc. here.

Stumpf has seen the tax roll jump from $116,965 to $300,069 during the last 10 years; state receipts go from $59,411 to $117,633 and disbursements rise 2½ times over the 1956 figures.

In his announcement he thanked the towns people, board of supervisors and town officers for their cooperation.

Royal Gillis, route 1, Menasha, has taken nomination papers for Stumpf's position. Gillis has had extensive office experience with Kimberly-Clark Corp., was assistant sales manager at Badger Northland and has had banking experience. He served as the Kimberly school district clerk for three years before moving to the Town of Harrison 20 years ago. He is married and has 14 children.

All other incumbent town officers have taken papers, which must be filed by 5 p.m., March 17. In the event three or more candidates file for the same office, all will appear on the ballot. A referendum to hold a primary election has never been held in the town.

Job Testing Programs May be Violating Law

BY SYLVIA PORTER

A test given to young children in Hawaii some years ago included a picture of a house without a chimney. When asked what was wrong with the house, most of the children answered "nothing," because they had never seen houses with chimneys.

This is an elementary illustration of "cultural bias" in tests but it dramatizes the extent to which this type of bias may exist in the employment tests widely used in the U.S. It also underlines why discrimination in tests is now being attacked by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission under the mandate given to it by Title VI of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

Most employees of U.S. companies must take tests to measure their general intelligence, personality and/or skills before they get their jobs. While you personally may not have found them more than a nuisance, some of the tests do discriminate, inadvertently if not intentionally, against minority groups. (This goes for sex as well as color, religion and national origin.)

a major overhaul of the tests and testing procedures. Already scheduled by the Labor Department and the National Urban League are "experimental projects" in Pittsburgh and New Orleans to probe discrimination against Negroes. Here are guidelines to help you, an employer, comply with the laws.

Sylvia Porter

(1) Have your tests validated by a reputable psychologist to make sure the test scores are measuring job performance. In a recent decision ruling against a company on the basis that its tests were being used to discriminate against Negroes, the EEOC underlined the importance of test validation.

(2) Take test scores less seriously in a hiring decision. Also, emphasizes Dr. Jack W.

Dunlap, an expert in test construction for 43 years, an upgrading of the calibre of those evaluating test results is essential. The "amateur psychologist" in a company is becoming a hazard.

(3) Give the same tests to all applicants for the same job.

(4) Use more skill tests and fewer intelligence and personality tests. The general intelligence test is under special attack because discrimination so easily can creep into it.

Preferable would be a "battery of short tests" that would "measure the factors most important in each job," suggests Prentice-Hall, and then "no one would be turned down cold because his 'general intelligence' is too low."

Give Aptitude Tests

(5) Give fewer and/or better tests and use improved interviewing techniques to supplement the tests. For example a St. Louis firm is no longer using general intelligence tests but is instead giving aptitude and job-related tests.

(6) Allow minority groups to retake the tests if they fail the first time. This is highly important because those with inferior educations or language handicaps are often unfamiliar with and scared by test procedures. The second chance is especially meaningful if in the meantime, the applicant has been able to go to school. A Salt Lake city utility allows two testing opportunities

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

True. Some people are "accident prone." No matter how many, or how serious, accidents they have, they do not learn.

Others are "trouble prone." They are always in trouble and usually will be because they do not learn from their experiences. The real reason usually is that they do not want to learn. They want to be and stay the way they are. In some cases, only psychiatric help to see why into trouble is necessary if they are ever to be able to learn from experience.

Should you get at least eight hours' sleep every night?

Definitely — Maybe —

Maybe. There is a tremendous range in the amount of sleep different individuals need. Some persons get along on as little as two or three hours of sleep a night, reports Dr. Julius Segal of the National Institute of Mental Health. Most people are not exaggerating when they say they need seven or eight or even nine hours of sleep a night. Even then, there are differences in the sleep a given individual needs — in terms of his general health, how much anxiety he is experiencing, and how exciting and rewarding his work is at the time.

More money is spent for comic books than public libraries!

True — False —

True. The money spent for comic books supposedly is about four times as much as that spent for public libraries. This is more than the total cost of books in all elementary and high schools. Comic books are Big Business. Why could they not become means for desirable education? Perhaps the time it is they want to fail or to get into trouble is necessary if they are ever to be able to learn from experience.

Be persuasive — not overbearing. To learn the difference between the two, write for the booklet "How to Persuade People." Send 20 cents along with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to "Let's Explore Your Mind," in care of The Post-Crescent.

Johnson was under extreme pressure from his military advisers to order the resumption of bombing Sunday after air reconnaissance reports of big North Vietnamese supply operations under cover of the truce.

This led Wilson to impress upon Johnson that it would be most unfortunate if Washington were to be responsible for the breakdown of the peacemaking efforts.

backs in Tibet and that martial law had been proclaimed in Lhasa, the Tibetan capital.

Wall posters in Peking said the clash occurred Feb. 10 and there were scores of casualties. More than 10 Maoists were reported taken prisoner by troops loyal to Gen. Chang Kuo-hua, commander of the Tibet military district.

It was not known whether Chang was supporting President Liu or taking advantage of the power struggle to revolt. There have been numerous reports of opposition among the Tibetans since Communist China took control of that Himalayan land in 1951.

The Soviet Communist Party paper Pravda said in Moscow that the Chinese government has demanded that Soviet diplomats in Peking refrain from "provocations against the revolutionary masses."

Pravda said the demand was rejected as groundless.

Milwaukee Attorney Gets 3-Year Term as American Bar Governor

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Charles L. Goldberg, of Milwaukee, Wis., was one of four nominees chosen for three-year terms on the board of governors of the 123,000-member American Bar Association.

Goldberg was nominated Tuesday by a vote of the 52 official state delegates attending the mid-year meeting of the association governing body, the house of delegates.

The board of governors administers affairs of the association while the house of delegates is not in session.

Relief for night-backache lets you sleep again

Sometimes backache comes like a thief in the night, "steals" away your sleep, then robs you of energy all the next day. When the cause is overwork or just the daily strain of exertion or tension, that's the time to keep Doan's Pills for speedy relief. Millions have found Doan's pain-relieving action often brings welcome relief from this nagging night-backache, headache or muscular pain in the night.

Then, too, unwise eating or drinking may be the cause of minor yet annoying bladder irritation. Doan's Pills, often help to bring prompt relief in two ways: first, their soothing effect on bladder irritation. And, second, their mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

Keep Doan's Pills handy. Millions have relied on Doan's for over sixty years. And for your convenience, get the large size.

Casco Man Dies as Car Hits Concrete Culvert

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wisconsin's 1967 highway death toll mounted to 90 with the death of a Kewaunee County man. On this date one year ago, 105 persons had lost their lives on Wisconsin roads.

Ted Landwehr, Sr., 56, of Casco, was injured fatally Tuesday when the car he was driving left Kewaunee County Trunk C, three miles south of Casco, and struck a concrete culvert.

High Ratio of Negroes in Battle Reason for Death Rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon officials say the high proportion of Negro combat deaths in Vietnam is related to the high proportion of Negroes serving in fighting units.

A new Defense Department study showed Tuesday that while the proportion of Negro enlisted men among all U.S. military force, including units in non-combat assignments. Through the first 11 months of last year, 740 enlisted Negroes were killed in action — 17.8 per cent of the over-all combat deaths.

The high concentration of Negroes in combat units — up to 25 per cent in some airborne brigades — is not due to discrimination of any kind, Pentagon officers said.

The number of Negroes in such units is high, these sources said, because Negroes — re-enlist at much higher rates than whites.

— Volunteer more readily for elite combat units such as Special Forces and airborne divisions that offer more prestige and more pay.

— Enter the service with more educational deficiencies, sharply limiting the number and type of armed service jobs available to them.

The study shows there were 39,125 enlisted Negroes in Vietnam as of Oct. 1 last year or about 11 per cent of the total.

and drove the enemy out in hand-to-hand fighting. Fighting was at such close quarters the marines couldn't call in air or artillery support until the North Vietnamese broke and fled.

Additional Korean marines were moved into the area, and the enemy death toll mounted as the marines swept through the valley north of the Tra Khuc River.

The first Viet Cong attack on the U.S. minesweepers in the Saigon channel came at 7 a.m., when guerrillas opened fire on two of the 80-foot boats about 15 miles southeast of the capital.

Cleared Channel

As one of the boats began to sink, the other sweeper pushed it aground to keep the channel clear. Six crewmen were injured and one was reported missing. Air strikes were called in.

Three hours later, another U.S. minesweeper hit a mine seven miles farther down river and sank. Eight crewmen were injured.

During the afternoon, guerrilla gunners opened fire on a fourth minesweeper and continued shooting until it was out of range. A tanker moving down river was forced to turn back.

American infantry units were busy with more than a dozen operations in various parts of South Vietnam, but they reported only light, scattered contact. A U.S. spokesman said American war planes flew 67 missions over North Vietnam Tuesday, nearly all of them in the southern panhandle. Air Force pilots reported a large secondary explosion after hitting a ferry complex five miles south of Dong Hoi.

Navy pilots attacked the Phu Ly railroad yard 35 miles south of Hanoi and the Nam Dinh railroad yard 45 miles southwest of Haiphong in two of the northernmost strikes, but the bad weather restricted assessment of the damage, a military spokesman said.

The giant Air Force B52s from Guam continued their daily raids on suspected enemy positions in South Vietnam. The Stratoforts dropped their bombs in an area some 300 miles northwest of Saigon Tuesday night and returned today to an area 59 miles east of Saigon.

Sinking into obscurity after his criticism of the Versailles Treaty, Bullitt emerged in 1932 as an adviser to Franklin D. Roosevelt.

As president, Roosevelt recognized the Soviet Union in 1933, and Bullitt, who had been to Russia as a member of a 1919 peace mission, was chosen ambassador.

It was not long before Bullitt became an outspoken critic of the Red regime, which he said had broken pledges conditional to its recognition.

In 1936, he was named ambassador to France, resigning before the United States entered World War II to carry out special presidential missions in Africa and the Middle East. Later he was made assistant secretary of the Navy.

Double Talk in Winter Cheers Way to Spring

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Winter is a great time to brush up on your double talk.

There is also no other season of the year in which it is more greatly needed.

People's nerves get edgy during the long cold sameness. Just as snow cloaks and softens the raw and barren landscape of winter, double talk helps camouflage the monotony of most conversation in winter.

A good double talker may be a genial hypocrite, but at this time of year he is also a kind of public benefactor. Truth is hard enough to bear in summer; in winter it is simply too much to put up with. Double talk is as welcome then as the first robin's chirp.

For the guidance of the beginner, here are a few typical examples of helpful double talk—followed by their literal meaning:

"So what if you did track a little slush in on my new rug. That's hardly a crime."—But if it only were, I'd see that you were immediately hanged.

"The doctor says this bronchitis may hold on for weeks and weeks unless I do something about it."—So my dear sheep-skate husband, why don't you ante up the money for a quick flight to Florida?

"That wasn't fair, Reginald! You hit me with a snowball when I wasn't looking."—What's the matter with this nut? Won't he ever grow up!

Wear Overshoes
"Be sure and wear your overshoes, dear. I don't want you to catch your death of cold."—considering how little insurance you'd leave, my job is to keep you alive.

"Of course, Jim, we'll be glad to keep your tropical fish while you and your wife are down in Acapulco."—

I'll fish through a hole in the ice here and use them for bait.

"The weather is so bad I don't think I'll buy one of those new miniskirts."—with the legs I've got, I wouldn't wear one if I lived in Tahiti.

"I'll have to walk to the station this morning, Alice. There isn't time for me to clear off the driveway."—which means, my clump pigeon, that if you want to use the car you'll have to dig it out yourself. The exercise will do you good.

No Homework
"I'm glad the schools are closing tomorrow. You can't expect children to freeze themselves to death just to get an education."—oh, boy, that means I won't have to spend the evening helping the kids do their homework.

"Gee, Jack, I'm afraid I'll have to skip the poker game at your house tonight. My buggy is froze up solid."—Maybe by next week I can pay you what I lost last week.

"Of course, I love you, Samantha. But whoever heard of getting married in February? Let's pick a day in June."—but not in this century—maybe the next one.
